CONTENTS

About the Authors xiii
Acknowledgements xv
List of Abbreviations xvii
Online Resources xxi

1 Introduction 1

2 Understanding the International Business Environment 19

2.1 What is International Business? 19
2.2 History of globalization 20
2.3 The factors driving globalization 23
2.3.1 Technological 23
2.3.2 Economic 23
2.3.3 Political 23
2.3.4 Social 24
2.3.5 Cultural 24
2.3.6 Ecological 24
2.4 Emerging markets and contemporary strategic challenges 25
2.4.1 Emerging operational locations 26
2.4.2 Emerging consumer markets 28
2.4.3 New competitors 29
2.4.4 De-globalization, de-coupling, and the role of the Covid-19 pandemic 29
2.5 The institutional perspective on IB: Institutional triality 30
Summary 33

3 Formal Institutions 37

3.1 Political systems 39
3.1.1 Democracy 39
3.1.2 Authoritarianism 41
3.1.3 Political ideologies 45
3.2 Legal systems 47
3.2.1 Civil law 47
3.2.2 Common law 48

3.3 Economic systems 49
3.3.1 Liberal market economies 50
3.3.2 State-led or directed economic systems 53
3.3.3 Characteristics of economic systems 55
3.3.3.1 Market dynamics 56
3.3.3.2 Regulatory environment 56
3.3.3.3 Labour dynamics 56
3.3.3.4 Financial and investment landscape 56
3.3.3.5 Corporate social responsibility and ethics 57
3.3.3.6 Supply chain management 57
3.3.3.7 Access to resources 57
3.3.3.8 Technology and innovation 57
3.3.3.9 Trade policies and tariffs 57
3.3.3.10 Intellectual property rights 58
3.3.4 Mixed economic systems: European social democratic models 59
3.4 Foreign direct investment and economic development 61
3.5 Country risk 65
3.6 Current developments in formal institutional environments 67
3.6.1 Increasing protectionism and economic nationalism 67
3.6.2 Chinese Belt and Road Initiative (BRI) 68
3.6.3 Resurgence of state capitalism and SOEs as political tools 68
3.6.4 Shift towards green economics 69
Summary 69

4 Informal Institutions 71
4.1 Iceberg model 73
4.2 Language 75
4.3 Culture 77
4.3.1 Definition and relevance 78
4.3.2 Concepts of culture 79
4.3.2.1 Hofstede's study and model of culture 80
4.3.2.2 GLOBE study and model of culture 83
4.3.2.3 Hall's study and model of culture 86
4.3.2.4 Trompenaars' study and model of culture 87
4.3.2.5 Kluckhohn and Strodtbeck's study and model of culture 88
4.4 Religion 90
4.5 Current developments in informal institutional environments 92
4.5.1 Adaptive informal institutions 92
4.5.2 Informal institutions, ESG, and financial performance 92
4.5.3 Family-controlled firms and informal institutions 93
4.5.4 Public sentiment as a relevant informal institution 93
Summary 93

5 Supranational Institutions and Institutional Distance 95
5.1 The landscape of supranational institutions 97
5.2 Organizations in the supranational landscape 99
5.2.1 Civil society organizations 99
5.2.2 International economic organizations: WTO, IMF, World Bank 101
5.3 Regional economic integration 103
5.3.1 Economic reasons 103
5.3.2 Political reasons 103
5.4 Theory of regional integration 104
5.4.1 Free trade area 106
5.4.2 Customs union 108
5.4.3 Common market and economic union 109
5.4.4 Non-hierarchical integration 112
5.5 Costs and benefits of regional economic integration 112
5.6 Trade barriers and rules 113
5.7 Dispute settlement 117
5.8 Institutional distance 119
5.9 Current developments in supranational institutional environments 122
5.9.1 Sustainable development 122
5.9.2 Digital trade 122
Summary 123

6 Country-Level Theories of International Economic Exchange 125
6.1 Absolute advantage theory 127
6.2 Comparative advantage theory 128
6.3 Factor endowment theory 131
6.4 International product life cycle theory 134
6.5 The Leontief paradox 135
6.6 Linder's income-preference similarity theory 136
6.7 New trade theory 136
6.8 Current developments in country-level theories of economic exchange 138
Summary 139

7 Firm-Level Internationalization Theories and Strategies 141
7.1 Why firms internationalize 143
7.1.1 Why firms internationalize – firm specific assets 145
7.1.2 Why firms internationalize – the resource-based view 147
7.1.3 Why firms internationalize – summary 151
7.2 When to internationalize: First mover advantages, the speed of internationalization, and born global firms 152

7.3 Where to internationalize – country market selection 155
7.3.1 Location advantages 155
7.3.2 Country-market selection: Institution-based view 156
7.3.3 Country market selection – Porter's diamond model 158
7.3.4 Country market selection – the Uppsala model part 1 159
7.3.4.1 Market Commitment 161
7.3.4.2 Market Knowledge 161
7.3.4.3 Current Business Activities 162
7.3.4.4 Commitment Decisions 162
7.3.5 Summary – country market selection 163
7.4 How to internationalize: Market entry decisions 164
7.4.1 Ownership mode decisions – strategic options 165
7.4.2 Ownership mode decisions – transaction cost theory 167
7.4.3 Establishment mode decisions 172
7.4.4 Value chain decisions – strategic options 174
7.4.5 Value chain decisions – the Uppsala model part 2 175
7.4.6 Summary – market entry decisions 176
7.5 The eclectic paradigm of internationalization: An integrative model 177
7.6 Current developments in internationalization theories and strategies 179
Summary 181

8 Structure and Strategy in the Multinational Company 183

8.1 Generic strategies 186
8.2 Strategy analysis 187
8.2.1 Internal analysis: The resource-based view 187
8.2.2 External analysis: Porter's five forces 189
8.2.3 The components of strategy 191
8.3 Global integration vs local responsiveness 192
8.4 Strategic orientations 196
8.5 Global value chains 198
8.6 International organization structures 200
8.6.1 International division structure 200
8.6.2 Global product structure 201
8.6.3 Global area structure 201
8.6.4 Global functional structure 201
8.6.5 Matrix structure 202
8.6.6 The interplay between organizational structure and strategy 202
8.7 Agency conflicts and remuneration in global companies 202
8.7.1 Agency theory 203
8.7.2 Stock options and aligning risk propensity 204

8.8 Global competitive strategy 207
8.8.1 The bandwagon effect 207
8.8.2 First mover advantage 208
8.8.3 Attacks and counterattacks (pre-emption) 208
8.8.4 Why do firms like to collude sometimes? 209
8.9 Real options 212
8.10 Recent developments in MNC structure and strategy 212
Summary 213

9 International Finance 215

9.1 Country risk 217
9.2 International investment 219
9.3 International capital markets 220
9.4 Exchange rates and foreign exchange risk management 224
9.5 Accounting, taxation, and reporting in the multinational firm 230
9.5.1 Regulatory frameworks governing international accounting 231
9.5.2 Taxation 233
9.6 International capital structure 236
9.7 Recent developments in international finance 237
Summary 239

10 International Marketing 241

10.1 Product: Global product standardization or adaptation 243
10.2 Promotion: Variations in advertising strategies 246
10.3 Pricing: Price variations across countries 251
10.4 Place: International distribution strategies 255
10.4.1 Direct and indirect distribution strategy 255
10.4.2 Choice of distribution system and partners 255
10.5 People: Supporting international market activities 257
10.6 Process 257
10.7 Physical evidence 258
10.8 Market potential 259
10.9 Recent developments in international marketing 260
Summary 263

11 International Human Resource Management 265

11.1 Key concepts in IHRM 268
11.2 Expatriation 269
11.2.1 Expatriates' journey in the foreign environment 270

11.2.2 Expatriate failure 271
11.3 International staffing 274
11.4 International hiring 276
11.5 International training 279
11.5.1 Standardized training programmes 280
11.5.2 Tailor-made training programmes 280
11.6 International compensation 282
11.7 International coaching and HR development 284
11.7.1 Definition of international coaching 285
11.7.2 International coaching and HR 286
11.7.3 Finding the right coach: Internal vs external 286
11.7.4 International coaching content 286
11.8 Recent developments in international human resource management 287
Summary 288

12 Global Supply Chain Management 289

12.1 What is global supply chain management? 291
12.2 Activities in global supply chain management 294
12.2.1 Procurement 294
12.2.2 Manufacturing 295
12.2.3 Inventory management 295
12.2.4 Logistics management 296
12.2.5 Returns management 296
12.2.6 Planning 297
12.3 Problems in international supply chain management 298
12.3.1 Risk and disruptions 298
12.3.2 Regulations and trade barriers 299
12.3.3 The bullwhip effect 301
12.4 Methods in international supply chain management 301
12.4.1 Preventive resilience strategies: Designing the international supply chain 302
12.4.4.1 Insourcing vs Outsourcing 302
12.4.4.2 International Distribution Systems 303
12.4.2 Recovery resilience strategies: Managing the international supply chain 304
12.5 Sustainability in global supply chains 306
12.5.1 Circular and closed loop supply chains 306
12.5.2 Nearshoring 306
12.5.3 Sustainable packaging 307
12.6 Agility in global supply chains 308
12.7 Recent developments in global supply chains 309
Summary 310

13 Digitalization in International Business 313

13.1 Digitalization in International Business 316

13.1.1 Big data 318

13.1.2 Automation 321

13.2 Data science in International Business 322

13.2.1 Regressions 324

13.2.2 Support vector machines 324

13.2.3 Tree-based models 325

13.2.4 Neural networks 326

13.2.5 Train-test split 327

13.2.6 Cross-validation 328

13.2.7 Assembly methods 329

13.2.7.1 Note 330

13.3 Artificial intelligence 330

13.3.1 Machine and human biases 333

13.3.2 Automation augmentation trade-offs 336

Summary 338

14 Sustainability in International Business 341

14.1 Ethics 343

14.1.1 Corruption and bribery 345

14.1.2 Human rights and workplace standards 346

14.2 Stakeholders and stakeholder theory 347

14.3 Corporate social responsibility 349

14.3.1 The case against CSR: Agency theory 349

14.3.2 The ethical case for CSR 349

14.3.3 The business case for CSR 350

14.4 Sustainability 351

14.4.4.1 Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) 352

14.5 MNCs and climate change 354

14.6 Finance and ESG 357

14.7 Greenwashing 359

Summary 361

References 363

Index 383