CONTENTS

List of Figures x
List of Tables xiii
About the Editors xiv
List of Contributors xvi
Foreword by Tanja Bosch and Eli Skogerbø xxvii
Acknowledgements xxxvi

Introduction 1
Axel Bruns, Gunn Enli, Anders Olof Larsson, Jessica Yarin Robinson, Tanja Bosch, and Kateryna Kasianenko

PART I
Concepts 7

1 Great Expectations: Network Media Logic and Politics in the Age of Generative AI 9
Ulrike Klinger and Jakob Svensson

2 A Perfect Match? The Populism-Social Media Nexus 22
Márton Bene and Krisztina Burai

3 Digital Dimensions of Propaganda: Technological, Doctrinal, and Organisational Shifts in Authoritarian Strategic Communication 42
Gregory Asmolov

4 Deliberation and Destructive Polarisation in Social Media 65
Tariq Choucair, Katharina Esau, Nicole Curato, Samantha Vilkins, and Sebastian Svegaard

PART II
Challenges 85

5 Studying Social Media and Politics: What Is 'Social' About Our Research? 87
Sahana Udupa

6 Can African Feminist Philosophy Inform a Holistic Multilateral Approach to Governing Social Media? 101
Nanjala Nyabola

7 The Global Village Is Here, Just Not Like We Expected: Transnational Politics on Social Media and the Rise of Networked Cosmopolitanism 114
Jessica Yarin Robinson

8 Alt-Platformisation: Evolution of Fringe Communication and Political Discourses Through and with the Web 134
Ashwin Nagappa and Ehsan Dehghan

9 Hyperconnectivity, Not Isolation: Why Concerns about 'Echo Chambers' and 'Filter Bubbles' Address the Wrong Problem 147
Axel Bruns

10 Authenticity in the Age of AI: Beyond the Alarmist Deepfake Discourse 160
Gunn Enli

PART III
Policies 173

11 The Truth-Keeping Moment: The Rise and Fall of Platform-Supported Fact-Checking 175
Silvia Montaña-Niño, Ned Watt, and Michelle Riedlinger

12 Public Speech, Private Governance, Public Values? Platform Policies on Political Advertising 195
Tegan Cohen and Shilpa Singh Jaswant

13 Who Do Parties Target? Worldwide Evidence on Political Microtargeting 215
Fabio Votta, Simon Kruschinski, Mads Fuglsang Hove, Natali Helberger, Tom Dobber, and Claes de Vreese

14 Social Media Data Access in the Post-API Age 243
Erik Borra, Stijn Peeters, Bernhard Rieder, and Martin Trans

15 Computational Infrastructures for the Collection and Study of Digital Platform-Based Political Advertising 260
Daniel Angus, Anatoliy Gruzd, and Philip Mai

16 When Private Affords Public: Politics on Platforms or Platforms for Politics? 284
Marcelo Santos, Sebastián Rivera, and Karen Gheza Correa

PART IV
Problems 301

17 Restating the State? Social Media Propaganda and the State–Non-State Nexus 303
Marc Owen Jones

18 The Influencer Theatre: Participatory Disinformation in the Influencer Era 317
Anna Beers

19 Navigating Coordination and Inauthentic Behaviour: Challenges and Innovations in Social Media Detection 335
Fabio Giglietto, Timothy Graham, and Nicola Righetti

20 Populism Across Two Continents: Assessing the Use of Populist Communication Styles on Facebook Across Ten Countries 348
Anders Olof Larsson, Laura Alonso-Muñoz, Márton Bene, Shelley Boulianne, Vicente Fenoll, Jörg Haßler, Darren Lilleker, Sara Machado, Alena Pospíšil Macková, Percy Peña-Vicuña, and Adriana Rodríguez-Sánchez

21 Harmful Visual Humour on Far-Right Social Media: Generative Artificial Intelligence (AI) and Reactionary Memes 367
Kurt Sengul, Imogen Richards, Callum Jones, and Jordan McSwiney

PART V
Platforms 383

22 So Long Twitter, and Thanks for All the Tweets 385
Marco Bastos

23 Digital Public Opinion in China: Weibo Discourses from COVID-19 and Beyond 397
Weiwen Yu and Dechun Zhang

24 Instagram and Politics: A Systematic Literature Review 413
Shelley Boulianne, Samantha Mullin, and Stephanie Belland

25 Locating WhatsApp in Indian Politics: History, Media Ecology, and Ideology 426
Ram Bhat and Shakuntala Banaji

26 Telegram as a Developing Political Actor: Conceptualising Platform Actorness 442
Tetyana Lokot and Mariëlle Wijermars

27 Play, Protest, Repeat: Conceptualising Playful Activism on TikTok 461
Laura Cervi

28 Memetic Politics on TikTok: Key Ideas, Considerations, and a Tanghulu Case Study 478
Crystal Abidin and Jing Zeng

PART VI
Possibilities 491

29 Busting the Myth of 'Leaderless' Movements: Crowd-Enabled Elites in Digitally Networked Activism 493
Saif Shahin

30 Digital Resistance under Authoritarianism: A Comparative Study of Activist Publics Across Five Countries 507
Anna Litvinenko and Tamer Farag

31 Participatory War and Social Media: Discursive, Material, and Ethical Dimensions 521
Olga Boichak and Kateryna Kasianenko

32 Who Wins the Engagement Race? Examining Normalisation and Equalisation Theories Across 12 Ibero-American Countries 536
Vicente Fenoll, Márton Bene, and Isabella Gonçalves

Index 559