

Contents

List of music examples	page vii
List of illustrations and tables	x
Notes on contributors	xi
Preface and acknowledgments	xv
Chronology of eighteenth-century operas and select events	xviii
List of abbreviations	xxii
 Part I. The making of opera	 1
1 Opera as process Pierpaolo Polzonetti	3
2 Aria as drama James Webster	24
3 Ensembles and finales Caryl Clark	50
4 Metastasio: the dramaturgy of eighteenth-century heroic opera Francesco Cotticelli and Paologiovanni Maione	66
5 Roles and acting Gianni Cicali	85
6 Ballet Rebecca Harris-Warrick	99
7 Orchestra and voice in eighteenth-century Italian opera John Spitzer	112
8 To look again (at Don Giovanni) Alessandra Campana	140
 Part II. National styles and genres	 153
9 Genre and form in French opera David Charlton	155
10 Genre and form in German opera Estelle Joubert	184
11 Opera in eighteenth-century England: English opera, masques, ballad operas Michael Burden	202
12 Opera in Naples Anthony R. DelDonna	214

13	Portugal and Brazil Manuel Carlos De Brito	233
14	Opera, genre, and context in Spain and its American colonies Louise K. Stein and José Máximo Leza	244
	Notes	270
	Bibliography	292
	Index	308