
Contents

Part I Introduction to Constitutional Principles

1	Constitutional Principles: An Introduction	3
	Karl-Peter Sommermann
1.1	Constitutional Principles as the Core of the Constitution.	3
1.2	Where Constitutional Principles Are Enshrined in the Constitutions	4
1.3	The Functions of Constitutional Principles.	5
1.3.1	Creation of Unity and Coherence	5
1.3.2	Legitimation of State Activities.	6
1.3.3	Orientation of State Activities	6
1.3.4	Closing Normative Gaps	7
1.4	The Binding Effect of Constitutional Principles and Their Application by Constitutional Courts	7
1.4.1	The Dichotomy Between Rules and Principles.	7
1.4.2	The Binding Effect of Substantive Principles (in Particular State Goals)	9
1.4.3	The Binding Effect of Formal Principles (in Particular Principles Concerning the Organisation or Decision-Making Procedures).	12
1.5	Constitutional Principles as a Source of Derived Principles (Sub-principles).	13
1.6	Conclusion: The Normative Potential of Constitutional Principles Should Not Be Underestimated	14
	References.	14
2	Preambles.	17
	Albrecht Weber
2.1	Introduction.	17
2.1.1	Analysis.	17
2.1.2	Historical and Future-Oriented Self-identification	19
2.1.3	Remarks.	19
2.2	References to the Constituent Power and Sovereignty of the People	24

2.2.1	Analysis	24
2.2.2	Remarks	24
2.3	Preservation of National, Ethnic and Cultural Identities	27
2.3.1	Analysis	27
2.3.2	Remarks	27
2.4	Transcendental or Religious Notions and Invocations	27
2.4.1	Analysis	27
2.4.2	Remarks	28
2.5	References to Human Rights, Values and Principles of the International Order	30
2.5.1	Analysis	30
2.5.2	Remarks	32
2.6	References to Constitutional Values, Rights and Principles	33
2.6.1	Analysis	33
2.6.2	Remarks	33
2.7	State Visions, Ideals and Societal Commitments	37
2.7.1	Analysis	37
2.7.2	Remarks	37
2.8	References to Political, Economic Cooperation and Cultural Affinity	40
2.8.1	Analysis	40
2.8.2	Remarks	40
2.9	The Legal Effect	41
	References	46

Part II The Internationalization of the Constitution

3	The International Framework of the Constitution	49
	Albrecht Weber
3.1	Introduction	49
3.1.1	Notions and Evolution	49
3.1.2	Relationship Between International Law and National Law: A Short Note	51
3.2	References to International Law Sources in Constitutional Law . .	52
3.2.1	International Treaties and Executive Agreements	52
3.2.1.1	Treaties with Supra-Constitutional Rank	52
3.2.1.2	Treaties with Constitutional Rank	53
3.2.1.3	Treaties with Supra-Legal Rank	53
3.2.1.4	Treaties with Rank of Domestic Laws	54
3.2.2	General Rules of International Law	56
3.2.3	Commitment to Peace and International Cooperation . .	57
3.2.4	Enabling the Transfer of Competences to International Organizations	57
3.2.4.1	Object and Purpose of Transfer	58
3.2.4.2	Substantial Limitations for the Transfer	60
	References	63

Part III Democracy

4	Democracy. The People	67
	Francisco Balaguer Callejón
4.1	Sovereignty of People.....	67
4.1.1	Origin and Evolution of the Concept of Sovereignty of the People	67
4.1.2	Constitutional Democracy and Popular Sovereignty ...	69
4.1.3	Supranational Integration and Popular Sovereignty	74
4.1.4	Popular Sovereignty and Globalisation.....	76
4.1.5	Popular Sovereignty and Citizenship	78
4.2	Direct and Indirect Democracy.....	79
4.2.1	The Tension Between Direct Democracy and Representative Democracy	79
4.2.2	Direct Democracy and Constitutional Democracy	81
4.2.3	Digital Democracy, a New Opportunity for Direct Democracy?.....	86
4.3	Essential Features of Representative Democracy	90
4.3.1	Representative Democracy as Pluralistic and Constitutional Democracy.....	90
4.3.2	The Guarantee of Representativeness	93
4.3.2.1	The Institutional Designs of Representative Democracy. Political Systems and Electoral Systems	93
4.3.2.2	The Main Agents of Representative Democracy. Political Parties and Media	94
4.3.2.3	The Constitutional Context of Representative Democracy. Political Rights and Public Freedoms.....	96
4.3.2.4	The Integration of Representative Democracy with Participatory Mechanisms ..	97
4.3.2.5	Political Culture and Representative Democracy.....	98
4.3.3	Internal and Global Limits of Representativeness.....	100
4.4	The Impact of Modern Forms of Communication on Democracy .	102
4.4.1	The Asymmetry Between Communicative Processes and Democratic Processes.....	102
4.4.2	The Dissolution of Public Space Through Algorithms ..	105
4.4.3	The Loss of a Shared Social Vision of Reality	109
4.4.4	Disinformation as a Structural Feature of Communication Processes in the Digital Society	112
4.4.5	Generative AI and Systemic Misinformation	113
	References.....	115

5	Choosing Electoral Systems in Times of Electoral Manipulation	121
	Wolfgang Babeck
5.1	Electoral Manipulation Undermining Election Outcomes	121
5.1.1	Manipulating the Electorate	122
5.1.2	Manipulating the Electoral System	126
5.1.3	Remarks	127
5.2	Key Elements of Democratic Elections	128
5.2.1	Objectives	128
5.2.2	Principles	129
5.2.2.1	Universal Suffrage	130
5.2.2.1.1	Voting Age	131
5.2.2.1.2	Residency and Citizenship	132
5.2.2.1.3	Disenfranchisement	132
5.2.2.2	Equal Suffrage	134
5.2.2.3	Direct Suffrage	134
5.2.2.4	Secret Suffrage	135
5.2.2.5	Free Suffrage	135
5.3	Dissecting the Electoral Systems	138
5.3.1	Plurality and Majoritarian Systems	139
5.3.1.1	First Past The Post	143
5.3.1.2	Block Vote	146
5.3.1.3	Party Block Vote	146
5.3.1.4	The Alternative Vote	146
5.3.1.5	The Two-Round System	148
5.3.2	Proportional Systems	149
5.3.2.1	List Proportional Representation	150
5.3.2.2	The Single Transferable Vote	151
5.3.3	Mixed and Hybrid Systems	152
5.3.3.1	Mixed Member Proportional	152
5.3.3.2	Parallel Systems	153
5.4	Conclusion	154
	References	155
6	Direct Democracy (Popular Referendum)	159
	Wolfgang Babeck
6.1	Introduction	159
6.2	Structure of the Popular Referendum	161
6.3	How Much Direct Democracy Should There Be?	162
6.4	At What Level of Government Should They Be Offered: Federal/State/Local?	165
6.5	Which Topics Should Be Excluded	166
6.6	Parliamentary Intervention and General Oversight	167
6.6.1	Parliamentary Intervention	167
6.6.2	Compatibility with the Law and Preliminary Oversight	167
6.6.3	Formal Requirements for a Draft Law and Its Review	168

6.7	How Many Intervals/Steps Should the Mechanism Have?	169
6.8	What Is the Quorum at Each Interval?	170
6.8.1	Thresholds for the Popular Initiative	170
6.8.2	Turnout Quorum and Approval Quorum	171
6.9	Approval Quorum to Pass the Referendum	173
6.10	Time Limits	174
6.10.1	Period to Conduct a Referendum	174
6.10.2	Period for the Implementation of a Referendum	174
6.11	Implementation of a Successful Referendum	175
6.12	Alternative Forms of Direct Democracy	175
	References	178

Part IV Rule of Law – Rechtsstaat – État de droit

7	The Concept of the Rule of Law	183
	Rainer Arnold
7.1	Rule of Law: Fundamentals	183
7.1.1	Fundamentals: Definition	183
7.1.2	Rule of Law as a Fundamental Principle and Essential Element of the Constitutional Order	184
7.1.2.1	Rule of Law as an Inherent Principle of an Authentic Constitutional Order	184
7.1.2.2	The Essential Individual Elements of the Rule of Law Principle	185
7.1.2.3	The Constitution as a Set of Written and Unwritten Norms	187
7.1.2.4	Rule of Law as an Overall Principle Normatively Existing in the Constitution	189
7.1.2.5	Scope of the Rule of Law	190
7.2	The Rule of Law in Comparative Perspective	192
7.2.1	Introduction: Terminological Differences and Methodological Approach	192
7.2.1.1	Terminology	192
7.2.1.2	Methodology of the Comparative Law Study	193
7.2.2	Comparative Analysis of the Rule of Law Concept	194
7.2.2.1	Latin America	194
7.2.2.2	North America	195
7.2.2.3	Europe	199
7.2.2.4	Rule of Law in Asian Countries: India, Japan, Korea	229
7.2.2.5	Rule of Law in African Constitutional Orders: Some Examples	233
7.2.2.6	Rule of Law in Australia	238

7.3	Rule of Law in the Non-state Area	241
7.3.1	Rule of Law in the European Union	242
7.3.1.1	The Autonomous Legal Order of the EU: Autonomous Rule of Law Concept	242
7.3.1.2	Terminology	242
7.3.1.3	The EU's Rule of Law Concept	242
7.3.1.4	The Interdependence of Constitutional Values in the Supranational Community and Its Impact on the Scope of the Substantive Rule of Law	245
7.3.1.5	Rule of Law as a Constitutive Norm and as a Criterion for Control	246
7.3.1.6	Sanctioning Violations of the Rule of Law . . .	247
7.3.2	The Rule of Law in International Law: Some Aspects . .	250
7.3.2.1	The Basic Structure of Coordination Law . . .	250
7.3.2.2	Law as the Foundation of the International Legal Order	250
	References	253
8	The Individual Elements of the Rule of Law	257
	Rainer Arnold
8.1	Clarity and Certainty of the Law	258
8.1.1	Formal Elements of the Rule of Law Resulting from the Function of Law	258
8.1.1.1	Clarity of the Law	258
8.1.1.2	Clarity of the Law and Interpretation— Contextual Clarity—References to Other Norms	258
8.1.1.3	Efficiency of the Executive: The Statutory Definition of Undefined Legal Terms and Discretionary Powers	259
8.1.2	Stability of the Law and Protection of Legitimate Expectations	260
8.1.2.1	The Basic Idea	260
8.1.2.2	Constitutional Inadmissibility of Genuine Retroactivity and Narrow Exceptions	260
8.1.2.3	Strict Prohibition of Retroactivity in Criminal Law	261
8.1.2.4	Change in the Effect of the Norm for the Future with Reference to a Fact in the Past: The So-Called Non-genuine Retroactive Effect	261
8.1.2.5	Legitimate Expectations	262
8.1.3	Primacy of the Legislation over the Executive	262
8.1.3.1	The Function of the Executive in a State Based on the Rule of Law	262

	8.1.3.2	The Duty of the Executive to Observe Higher-Ranking Law	263
8.1.4		The Legal Reservation	264
	8.1.4.1	Anthropocentrism as a Basic Idea	264
	8.1.4.2	The Concept of the Need to Establish Essential Decisions by Formal Law (Essentiality Theory)	264
	8.1.4.3	Reservation of the Law in Extra-State Law (EU Law)	265
	8.1.4.4	Reservation of the Law in Extra-State Law (ECHR)	266
	8.1.4.5	Reservation of the Law in the Case of Interference with Rights Guaranteed in Other International Treaties	269
8.2		The Freedom-Protecting Dimension of the Rule of Law	270
	8.2.1	The Modern Concept of the Substantive Rule of Law	270
	8.2.1.1	The Basic Approach	270
	8.2.1.2	The Normative Realization of the Value-Based Nature of the Rule of Law Based State: Primacy of the Constitution and Anthropocentric Finality of Law	270
	8.2.1.3	Anthropocentric Definition of Value	271
	8.2.2	The Principle of Proportionality as a Yardstick for the Boundary Between Freedom and Interference with Freedom	273
	8.2.2.1	Basic Idea and Structure	273
	8.2.2.2	Written and Unwritten Principle	273
	8.2.2.3	Proportionality in Comparative Law Perspective	275
	8.2.2.3.1	Europe, Latin America, Asia (India, Japan, Korea), Africa	275
	8.2.2.3.2	Rationability (USA, Canada)	284
	8.2.2.4	Summary	285
	8.2.3	Effective Judicial Protection as an Essential Element of the Rule of Law	286
	8.2.3.1	Law and Justice	286
	8.2.3.2	Constitution and Justice	286
	8.2.3.3	The Individual and the Law	289
	8.2.4	Separation of Powers	292
	8.2.4.1	Basic Idea of the Separation of Powers	292
	8.2.4.2	Division of Powers According to the Nature of the Respective Function	293
	8.2.4.3	Separation of Functions as an Organizational Principle and as a Means of Safeguarding Freedom	294

8.2.4.4	The Assignment of Competencies: Authorization to Act, at the Same Time Limitation of Action	294
8.2.4.5	Assignment of a (Partial) Function to Different Institutions for Cooperation or Limitation. Significance of the Control Function.	295
8.2.4.6	Complementarity and Autonomy of the Three Functional Areas	295
8.2.4.7	Horizontal and Vertical Separation of Powers	296
8.2.4.8	Separation of Powers in the Constitutional Text	296
8.2.4.8.1	Analysis of Text Versions	296
8.2.4.8.2	Unwritten Constitutional Principles	297
8.2.4.9	The Division into the Three Traditional Functional Areas of the Legislature, Executive and Judiciary and their Linkage in the Legislative Function	298
8.2.4.9.1	On the German Constitutional System	298
8.2.4.9.2	On the Italian Constitution	299
8.2.4.9.3	On the French Constitutional System	302
8.2.4.9.4	On the Legal Order of the UK	303
8.2.4.9.5	The Comparative Perspective Continued	305
8.2.4.9.6	Intervention Into the Sphere of Parliament	305
8.2.4.9.7	Parliamentary Intervention in the Sphere of the Executive	308
8.2.4.9.8	Legislative Function of the Executive	309
8.3	Rule of Law and State of Emergency	309
8.3.1	The Obligation to Expressly Regulate the Fundamental Aspects of the Emergency Regime	309
8.3.2	On the Concept of Necessity	310
8.3.3	Termination of the State of Emergency	310
8.3.4	Determining the Content, Nature and Extent of the Emergency Measures As Precisely as Possible	310
8.3.5	Limited Modifications of Fundamental Rights	310
8.4	On State Liability	311
8.4.1	State Liability as a Requirement of the Rule of Law	311

8.4.2	No Hindrance Due to Sovereign Immunity: The Example of the UK and USA.	312
8.4.3	The Example of France	314
8.5	Conclusive Comments for Writing Constitutions	316
8.5.1	Rule of Law and Separation of Powers as Coherent Basic Principles of a Constitutional Order	316
8.5.2	The Material Rule of Law: The Necessary Connection with Fundamental Rights	316
8.5.3	The Principle of Proportionality	317
8.5.4	The Central Role of the Independent Judiciary	317
8.5.5	Separation of Powers	317
8.5.6	Emergency Regulation	318
8.5.7	Compensation for Damages	318
8.5.8	Overall Conclusion	318
	References	318

Part V Welfare State and Social State Principle

9	Welfare State and Social State Principle.	325
	Eberhard Eichenhofer
9.1	Social State as International Concept	325
9.1.1	Social State Provisions in Constitutions	325
9.1.2	Concept	326
9.1.3	Social State or Social Rights?	327
9.2	Social State in History	328
9.2.1	Social State in Intellectual History	328
9.2.2	The Social State Requires Institutions	329
9.2.3	Social State and Socialism	331
9.2.4	Social State and Social Law	331
9.3	Social State's Characteristics	332
9.3.1	The State: Society Divide	332
9.3.2	State Limitation and State Intervention	332
9.3.3	Social Autonomy	332
9.3.4	Social Fairness	333
9.3.5	Social State and Democracy	333
9.4	Social State's Imperatives	333
9.4.1	State Fosters the Individual Well-Being	333
9.4.2	Social State and Market Society	334
9.4.3	Social State Becomes Real	334
9.5	Consequences of the Social State	335
9.5.1	State Creates Society by Law	335
9.5.2	Social Law Establishes Rights	335
9.5.3	Social State Creates Social Justice	336
9.5.4	Social State Establishes Social Rights	336
	References	337

Part VI Culture and Constitution

10	Culture and Constitution	341
	Jesús Casal
10.1	The Constitution as Culture; Culture in the Constitution	341
10.2	Evolution and Trends of the Cultural Constitution	343
10.3	Manifestations of the Cultural Constitution	345
10.3.1	Preambles	345
10.3.2	The Basic Principles or Fundamental Political Decisions	347
10.3.3	Cultural Rights and Duties	349
10.3.3.1	Identity and Cultural Heritage Rights	349
10.3.3.2	Cultural Freedoms and the Right of Access to Cultural Life	353
10.3.3.3	Other Rights Involved and Duties in Cultural Matters	354
10.4	The Political Structure of the State and Culture	354
10.5	The Purposes or Tasks of the State and Culture	356
10.6	The Cultural Constitution and the Media	358
10.7	Remarks	360
	References	361

Part VII The Ecological Constitution

11	The Ecological Constitution	367
	Wolfgang Babeck
11.1	Five-Tiered Concept for Reform	367
11.1.1	The Horizontal Tier: Guidance Through Ecological State Directives	368
11.1.2	The Vertical Tier: Procedural and Substantive Environmental Rights	368
11.1.3	The Convergent Tier: Fundamental Rights	369
11.1.4	The Core Tier: Nature as a Legal Subject	369
11.1.5	The Overarching Tier: The Institutional Constitution	369
11.2	Status Quo	370
11.3	The Preamble	371
11.4	The Institutional Constitution: Ecology as Fundamental State Goal	372
11.5	Nature as an Own Legal Subject	373
11.6	The Fundamental Rights Section of the Constitution	376
11.6.1	General Freedom to Act	377
11.6.2	Right to Life and Right to Private and Family Life	378
11.6.3	Property Rights and Duties	380
11.7	Ecological State Directives	381
11.7.1	The Value of Nature	381
11.7.2	Balancing Priorities	382
11.7.3	Intergenerational Equity	383
11.7.4	Safeguarding Nature	384

- 11.7.4.1 Prohibition of Import of Toxic Waste 385
 - 11.7.4.2 Protection of Forests 386
 - 11.7.4.3 Protection of Water 386
 - 11.7.4.4 Combatting Desertification and Other Degradation 386
 - 11.7.4.5 Addressing Climate Change and Biodiversity 387
- 11.8 Procedural Environmental Rights 388
 - 11.8.1 Information Rights and Educational Obligations 388
 - 11.8.2 Litigation on Behalf of or for the Preservation of Nature 390
 - 11.8.3 Independent Oversight 390
- 11.9 State of Emergency Clauses 391
 - 11.9.1 The Ecological Constitution as an Immutable Clause . . . 392
- References 393

Part VIII Territorial Division of Power

- 12 Territorial Division of Power 399
 - Albrecht Weber
 - 12.1 Introduction 399
 - 12.2 Unitary Models 401
 - 12.3 Regionalized Models 402
 - 12.4 Federal Models 406
 - References 411

- Table of Cases 413

- Index 417