

SECTION 1 Topics in Childhood Language Disorders

- 1 Models of Developmental Language Disorders, 2
 - Diagnostic Issues in Developmental Language Disorders, 3
 - A Brief History of the Field of Language Pathology, 3
 - Terminology, 4
 - Speech, Language, and Communication, 4*
 - What's in a Name?, 5*
 - Aspects and Modalities of Language Disorder, 6
 - Form, 7*
 - Content, 7*
 - Use, 7*
 - Modalities, 8*
 - Diagnostic Issues, 8
 - When Is a Language Difference a Language Disorder?, 8*
 - How Low Can You Go?, 9*
 - What Is the Impact of Language Disorders on Daily Living?, 10*
 - Disorder or Difference?—The Neurodiversity Movement, 12*
 - The Bottom Line, 12*
 - Etiology of Developmental Language Disorder, 12
 - Genetic Factors in Developmental Language Disorder, 13*
 - Neurobiological Factors in Developmental Language Disorder, 15*
 - Language in the Brain, 15*
 - Brain Structure and Function, 15*
 - Environmental Factors, 18*
 - Cognitive Models of Developmental Language Disorder, 19*
 - Auditory Processing, 19*
 - Limited Processing Capacity, 19*
 - The Procedural Deficit and Statistical Learning Hypotheses, 20*
 - Multiple Deficit Models, 20*
 - Comorbidity in Developmental Language Disorder, 21
 - Conclusion, 22
- 2 Evaluation and Assessment, 25
 - General Principles of Assessment and Diagnosis for Suspected Developmental Language Disorder, 25
 - Beginning the Assessment Process: Referral, Case Review, Observation, and Collaboration, 26
 - Collect Referral Information, 26*
 - Case History, 26*
 - Low Structure Observations, 27*
 - Language or Communication Sample, 27*
 - Assessing Functional Communication, 28*
 - Interprofessional Collaboration, 28*
 - The Assessment Plan: Why and What to Assess, 29
 - Formal Assessment Plans, 29*
 - Integrating Information From Diverse Sources, 29*
 - Considerations in Assessment Planning, 29*

- Why Assess?, 29*
 - Screening, 29*
 - Establishing Baseline Function, 31*
 - Establishing Goals for Intervention, 32*
 - Measuring Change in Intervention, 33*
- What to Assess, 34*
 - Domains of Language: Form, Content, and Use, 34*
 - Modalities of Language: Comprehension and Production, 34*
 - Assessing Collateral Areas, 35*
- Choosing Instruments: How Will We Assess?, 44*
 - Standardized Tests, 44*
 - Interviews and Questionnaires, 50*
 - Developmental Scales, 51*
 - Criterion-Referenced Procedures, 51*
 - Behavioral Observations, 55*
 - Dynamic Assessment, 56*
 - Functional Assessment, 56*
 - Curriculum-Based Assessment, 57*
 - Formative Versus Summative Assessment, 57*
- Integrating and Interpreting Assessment Data, 57
 - Diagnosis, Eligibility, Severity, and Prognosis, 58*
 - Diagnosis and Eligibility, 58*
 - Severity, 59*
 - Prognosis, 59*
 - Recommendations, 60*
 - Putting It All Together: The Clinical Report and Conference, 61*
 - The Clinical Report, 61*
 - The Clinical Conference, 61*
- Conclusions, 62
- 3 Principles of Intervention, 64
 - The Purpose of Intervention, 64
 - Developing Intervention Plans, 65
 - Evidence-Based Practice, 65*
 - Products of Intervention: Setting Goals, 68*
 - Choosing Evidence-Based Targets, 69*
 - Processing Versus Content Interventions, 70*
 - Processes of Intervention, 70*
 - Complexity, 70*
 - Intervention Approaches, 71*
 - Using the Spectrum of Intervention Approaches, 81*
 - Universal Design for Learning, 81*
 - Intervention Activities, 81*
 - Structuring Intervention Activities to Maximize Learning, 83*
 - The Context of Intervention, 90*
 - Choosing the Nonlinguistic Stimuli, 90*
 - Service Delivery Models, 92*
 - Evaluating Intervention Outcomes, 95
 - Termination Criteria, 95*
 - Evaluating the Effectiveness of Intervention, 96*
 - Determining Responsiveness to Intervention, 97*
 - Prevention of Language Disorders in Children, 99
 - Primary Prevention and the Speech-Language Pathologist, 99*
 - The Speech-Language Pathologist's Role in Secondary and Tertiary Prevention, 101*
 - Conclusions, 101

4 Special Considerations for Special Populations, 103Intellectual Disability, 104Definition and Classification, 104Intellectual Disability Associated With Biomedical Conditions of Known Genetic Origin, 106*Down Syndrome (DS), 106Cognitive Characteristics, 106Language Characteristics, 106Implications for Clinical Practice, 108Williams Syndrome, 108Definition and Classification, 108Cognitive Characteristics, 109Language Characteristics, 110Implications for Clinical Practice, 110Fragile X Syndrome, 111Definition and Classification, 111Cognitive Characteristics, 111Language Characteristics, 111Implications for Clinical Practice, 112Language Disorder Associated With Sensory Impairments, 113*Visual Impairment, 113*Hearing Impairment, 113*Sensorineural Hearing Loss, 115Cognitive Characteristics, 115Language Characteristics, 115Implications for Clinical Practice, 115Otitis Media, 116*Language Disorder Associated With Acquired Neurological Conditions, 116*Traumatic Brain Injury, 116Cognitive Characteristics, 117Language Characteristics, 117Implications for Clinical Practice, 117Focal Brain Lesions, 120*Seizure Disorders (Landau-Kleffner Syndrome), 121*Language Disorders Associated With Other Neurodevelopmental Conditions, 121*Autism, 122Early Communication, 124Cognitive Characteristics, 124Language Characteristics, 124Implications for Clinical Practice, 126Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder, 127Cognition, 127ADHD and DLD Comorbidity, 128Implications for Clinical Practice, 129Language Disorders With Environmental Components, 129*Abuse/Neglect, 130*Fetal Alcohol Spectrum Disorder, 131Clinical Implications, 132The Nonspeaking Child, 133*Selective Mutism, 133*Severe Speech-Motor Disorders, 134*Childhood Apraxia of Speech, 138*The Nonverbal Child With Autism, 140Augmentative and Alternative Forms of Communication in Autism, 141Conclusions, 141*5 Developmental Language Disorders in a Pluralistic Society, 144*Diversity in the United States, 144*The Culturally Competent Clinician, 145What Is Culture?, 145Language Difference or Language Disorder?, 146Dialectical Differences, 147Multilingualism, 147Educational Experiences of ELL Students, 148Assessing Multicultural ELL Students, 149Preassessment Considerations, 149The Home Language, 149Working With Families From Culturally and Linguistically Different Backgrounds, 150Areas of Assessment, 152Vocabulary, 152Syntax and Morphology, 153Narrative, 153Literacy, 155Tools for Assessing ELL Children, 155Standardized Tests, 155Processing-Based Measures, 156Dynamic Assessment, 156Questionnaires, 156Criterion-Referenced Assessment, 157Behavioral Observation, 157Comprehensive Assessment for ELL Students, 157*Language Intervention With Multicultural ELL Children, 158The Monolingual Speech-Language Pathologist and the ELL Client, 159Parent and Paraprofessional Training, 159Consultation and In-Service Training, 160The Worst-Case Scenario, 162The SLP's Role in Typically Developing ELL Children, 163Teaching Techniques for ELL Students, 164Literacy in ELL Students With DLD, 167Conclusions, 167*SECTION 2 From Birth to Brown's Stage V*6 Assessment and Intervention in the Prelinguistic Period, 171*Family-Centered Practice, 171*Service Plans for Prelinguistic Clients, 172*Risk Factors for Communication Disorders in Infants, 172Prenatal Factors, 173Prematurity and Low Birth Weight, 173Genetic and Congenital Disorders, 174Other Risks Identified After the Newborn Period, 174Assessment and Intervention for High-Risk Infants and Their Families in the Newborn Intensive Care Nursery, 174*Feeding and Oral Motor Development, 174Assessment, 174Management, 175Hearing Conservation and Aural Habilitation, 176Child Behavior and Development, 176Assessment, 176Management, 177Parent-Child Communication, 177Assessment, 177Management, 178*

- Assessment and Intervention for Preintentional Infants and Their Families: 1 to 8 Months Old, 180
Feeding and Oral-Motor Development, 180
Feeding Assessment, 180
Vocal Assessment, 181
Managing Feeding, 183
Managing Vocal Development, 183
Hearing Conservation and Aural Habilitation, 184
Child Behavior and Development, 184
Assessment, 184
Management, 185
Parent-Child Communication, 186
Assessment, 186
Management, 186
- Assessment and Intervention for Infants at Prelinguistic Stages of Communication: 9 to 18 Months Old, 188
Assessing Intentional Behavior, 188
Facilitating the Development of Intentional Communication, 189
- Considerations for Older Prelinguistic Clients and Those With Autism Spectrum Disorders, 192
Feeding and Oral-Motor Development in Older Prelinguistic Clients, 192
Hearing Conservation and Aural Habilitation, 193
Child Behavior and Development, 193
Intentionality and Communication, 194
- Infants and Toddlers With Autism Spectrum Disorders, 195
Conclusions, 197
- 7 Assessment and Intervention for Emerging Language, 200
Issues in Early Assessment and Intervention, 201
Screening and Eligibility for Services, 201
Family-Centered Practice, 203
Transition Planning, 203
Communicative Skills in Normally Speaking Toddlers, 204
Assessment of Communicative Skills in Children With Emerging Language, 205
Play and Gesture Assessment, 205
Assessing Play, 206
Assessing Gesture, 208
Communication Assessment, 208
Assessing Communicative Intention, 211
Assessing Comprehension, 215
Assessing Productive Language, 218
Diagnosis in Early Assessment, 224
From Assessment to Intervention, 225
Family-Centered Practice, 225
Products, Procedures, and Contexts of Intervention for Children With Emerging Language, 227
Intervention Products: Goals for Emerging Language, 227
Developing Play and Gesture, 227
Expressing Intentional Communicative Acts, 227
Developing Receptive Language, 231
Developing Sounds, Words, and Word Combinations, 231
Preliteracy Development, 235
Toddlers With Autism Spectrum Disorder, 236
Assessment Considerations for Toddlers With Autism Spectrum Disorder, 236
Screening, 236
Evaluating Communication, 236
Diagnostic Assessment, 237
Intervention for Toddlers With Autism Spectrum Disorder, 238
Receptive Language, 238
Expressive Language, 238
Considerations for Older Clients in the Emerging Language Stage, 239
Motor Skills Assessment, 239
Symbolic Skills, 240
Assessment, 240
Intervention for Symbolic Skills, 240
Communicative Intentions, 241
Intervention for Communicative Intentions, 242
Comprehension, 242
Assessing Comprehension, 242
Intervention for Comprehension, 243
Phonological and Lexical Production, 243
Assessing Phonological and Lexical Production, 243
Intervention for Phonological and Lexical Production, 243
Emergent Literacy, 245
Conclusions, 246
- 8 Assessment of Developing Language, 250
Children With Developing Language, 250
Family-Centered Assessment, 251
Assessing Collateral Areas, 251
Screening for Language Disorders in the Period of Developing Language, 252
Using Standardized Tests in Assessing Developing Language, 252
Criterion-Referenced Assessment and Behavioral Observation for Children With Developing Language, 254
Assessing Speech Sound Production, 255
Independent Analysis: Phonetic Inventory, 256
Relational Analysis: Errors and Error Patterns, 257
Assessing Phonological Processing: Preventing Reading Failure, 258
Criterion-Referenced Language Assessment, 259
Vocabulary, 259
Syntax and Morphology, 261
Pragmatic Assessment, 274
Considerations for Older Clients With Severe Disabilities and Those With Autism Spectrum Disorder at the Developing Language Stage, 280
Older Students With Severe Disabilities at the Developing Language Level, 280
Assessing Augmentative and Alternative Forms of Communication Needs and Opportunities, 281
Age-Appropriate Materials and Activities, 281
Evaluating Functional Communication, 283
Children With Autism Spectrum Disorder, 285
Conclusions, 287
- 9 Intervention for Developing Language, 290
Intervention Policy Issues at the Developing Language Level, 291
Individualized Education Programs, 291
Intervention Settings, 291
Family-Centered Practice, 291
Intervention for Developing Language: Products, Processes, and Contexts, 292
Intervention Products: Goals for Children With Developing Language, 292

Phonology, 292
 Semantics, 294
 Syntax and Morphology, 296
 Pragmatics, 298
 Play and Thinking, 298
 Preliteracy, 299

Intervention Processes for Children With Developing Language, 301

Phonology, 301
 Vocabulary, 301
 Syntax and Morphology, 303

Intervention Contexts for Children With Developing Language, 316

Agents of Intervention for Children With Developing Language, 316

Paraprofessionals, 316
 Parents, 317
 Peers, 317

Service Delivery Models for Children With Developing Language, 319

Clinical Model, 319
 Language-Based Classroom, 319
 Consultant Model, 321
 Collaborative Model, 321
 Telepractice, 324

Intervention for Older Clients at the Developing Language Level With Severe Impairment and Autism Spectrum Disorder, 324

Students With Severe Disabilities, 324

Preschoolers With Autism Spectrum Disorder, 327

Echolalia, 327
 Developing Language in Children With Autism Spectrum Disorder, 329
 Improving Communication for Children With Autism Spectrum Disorder, 329

Conclusions, 333

SECTION 3 Working With Language Learning Disabilities

10 Language, Reading, and Learning in School: What the Speech-Language Pathologist Needs to Know, 337

School-Based Practice in Speech-Language Pathology, 338

Laws Applying to School-Based Services, 338

Current Influences on Curricular Design and Implementation, 339

The Speech-Language Pathologist Supports College and Career Readiness, 339
 The Speech-Language Pathologist and Universal Design for Learning, 340
 Delivering Services Within the Curriculum, 340

Individualized Education Programs, 341

Prevention, Identification, and Referral under Multitiered Systems of Support, 341

Determining Eligibility, 342

Writing Individualized Educational Programs, 342

Documenting Present Level of Performance, 342
 Annual Goals, 343
 Short-Term Objectives, 343
 Specifying Services, Modifications, and Accommodations, 344

Evaluation, 344

Least Restrictive Environment, 344

Students With Language Learning Disabilities and Language-Based Reading Disorders, 344

Definitions and Characteristics, 344

Language-Based Reading Disorders, 345
 Language-Based Reading Disorder and MTSS, 347

Communicative Characteristics in Language-Based Reading Disorder, 347

Language, Learning, and Reading: What's the Connection?, 347

The Role of Oral Language in Classroom

Discourse, 347
 Academic Talk and the Hidden Curriculum, 347
 Decontextualized Language, 349
 Classrooms and Culture Clash, 350
 Metacognitive Skills and Self-Regulation, 350

The Role of Oral Language in the Acquisition of Literacy, 351

Emergent Literacy, 351

Oral Language Foundations for Reading Comprehension, 352

Metalinguistic Awareness, 353

What Does It Take to Learn to Read?, 354
 The Science of Reading, 356

The Role of the School Speech-Language Pathologist in Literacy Development, 356

Speech-Language Pathologists' Role in Emergent Literacy and Decoding, 357
 Speech-Language Pathologists' Role in Later Literacy Development, 358

Conclusions, 359

11 Assessing Students' Language for Learning, 360

Child and Family in the Assessment Process, 361

Identifying Students for Communication Assessment, 361

Screening, 361

Responsiveness to Intervention, Referral, and Case Finding, 362

Monitoring Progress in Responsiveness to Intervention, 364

Evaluation for Special Educational Needs, 365

Eligibility for Services, 365

Using Standardized Tests in the Language for Learning Stage, 365

Criterion-Referenced Assessment and Behavioral Observation in the Language for Learning Stage, 366

Phonology, 367
 Semantics, 367
 Syntax and Morphology, 371
 Pragmatics, 379
 Assessing the "Metas", 394

Curriculum-Based Language Assessment, 396

Artifact Analysis, 396

Dynamic Assessment, 397

Considerations for Older, Severely Affected Students at the Language for Learning Stage, 398

Considerations for Autistic Students at the Language for Learning Stage, 400

Conclusions, 401

- 12 Intervening at the Language-for-Learning Period, 404
Planning Intervention in the Language for Learning Stage, 405
Planning Intervention With the Individualized Education Program, 405
Section 504 of the U.S. Rehabilitation Act of 1973, 406
Family-Centered Intervention for the School-Aged Child, 406
Behavioral Issues in Intervention Planning, 408
Scheduling, 409
Intervention Products in the Language for Learning Period, 410
Guiding Principles of Intervention at the Language for Learning Stage, 410
Principle 1: Use Curriculum-Based Instruction, 410
Principle 2: Integrate Oral and Written Language, 411
Principle 3: Be Explicit and “Go Meta”, 411
Principle 4: Participate in Responsiveness to Intervention, Incorporating Principles 1 Through 3, 412
Summary, 413
Intervention Processes in the Language for Learning Period, 414
SLPs and MTSS, 414
MTSS Tiers of Support, 414
Tier I: Universal Provision, 414
Communication-Supporting Classrooms, 415
Whole class approaches to language and literacy, 415
Effective curriculum and lesson planning, 415
Whole Class Strategies for Teaching Language, 417
Syntax and Morphosyntax: Integrating Advanced Language Forms With Reading and Spelling, 426
Summary: Tier I, 440
Tier II and Tier III: From Supportive to Individualized Language Interventions, 440
Tier II and Tier III Evidence-based, Explicit Interventions, 440
Interventions for Oral or “Academic” Language, 440
Phonemic and Phonological Awareness Training, 441
Reading Comprehension, 441
Vocabulary and Semantics, 442
Morphology, 443
Derivational Morphology, 443
Word Finding, 444
Semantic Strategies, 444
Phonological Strategies, 445
Grammar, 445
Narrative, 446
Pragmatics, 446
Summary: Tier II and Tier III Interventions, 450
Contexts of Intervention, 450
Tier I as a Context for Intervention, 450
Inclusion, 450
Agents of Intervention, 451
Aides, 451
Peers, 451
Consultation and Collaboration, 451
Service Delivery Models for Tiers II, III, and IEP, 456
Clinical Model, 456
The Language-Based Special Education Classroom, 457
Telepractice, 457
Considerations for Older Students With Moderate to Severe Disabilities or Autism, 457
Older Students With Moderate to Severe Disabilities Who Function at the Language for Learning Level, 457
Social-Emotional Learning and Social Communication, 458
Functional Literacy, 458
Students With Autism Who Function at the Language for Learning Level, 459
Social-Pragmatic Interventions for Students With Autism, 459
Cognitive-Behavioral Interventions for Students With Autism, 461
Addressing Executive Function and Self-Regulation for Students With Autism, 461
Conclusions, 462
- 13 Assessing Advanced Language, 465
Language Development in adolescence, 466
Adolescents With Language-Learning Disability, 469
Student-Centered Assessment, 469
Screening, Case Finding, and Establishing Eligibility With Standardized Tests in the Advanced Language Stage, 470
Criterion-Referenced Assessment and Behavioral Observation in the Advanced Language Stage, 471
Semantics, 472
The Literate Lexicon, 472
Word Retrieval, 473
Word Definitions, 473
Word Relations, 474
Figurative Language, 474
Verbal Reasoning, 475
Syntax and Morphology, 475
Comprehension, 475
Production, 476
Pragmatics, 481
Conversational Pragmatics, 481
Discourse Genres, 484
Assessing the “Metas:” Executive Function, 494
Assessing Functional Communication in Students With Severe Disabilities Transitioning From School, 497
The Individualized Transition Plan, 497
Self-Advocacy, 498
Family Involvement, 498
Students Who Use AAC, 498
Special Considerations for High-Functioning Students With Autism Spectrum Disorder, 501
Conclusions, 501
- 14 Intervention for Advanced Language, 504
Issues in Intervention at the Advanced Language Stage, 504
Rationale for Services to Adolescents, 504
The Role of the Speech-Language Pathologist in the Secondary Curriculum, 505
Student-Centered Intervention, 506
Products of Intervention in the Advanced Language Stage, 507
New Intervention Purposes at the Advanced Language Level, 507
The Functional Versus the Academic Curriculum, 507
Processes of Intervention in the Advanced Language Stage, 507
Semantics, 508
Basic Skills Approaches, 508
Learning Strategies Approaches, 512

Syntax, 514

Basic Skills Approaches, 514

Learning Strategies Approaches, 515

Pragmatics and Social Communication, 515

Basic Skills Approaches, 515

Learning Strategies Approaches to Pragmatics, 522

The Metas, 538

Self-regulation, 538

Metacognition, 540

Contexts of Intervention in the Advanced Language Stage, 540

Agents of Intervention, 540

Service Delivery Models, 540

The Clinical Model (Tier III, Specialist Services), 541

The Language-Based Course for Credit, 541

Consultation and Collaboration, 542

Special Considerations for Students With Autism, 545

Transitional Intervention Planning, 545

Conclusions, 548

Bibliography, 551

Subject Index, 636

Name Index, 656

SECTION 9

10

Conclusions, 501

14

15

16

17

18

19

20

SECTION 10

21

22

23

24

25

26

27

28

29