

Contents

Preface	ix
Acknowledgments	xvi
Introduction: What Do We Talk about When We Talk about Images and Imagination?	1
The Real and the Modes of Non-Being	1
The Sense of the Possible	10
1 The Power and the Mediums of the Image	19
Introduction: Life at a Distance and the Historicity of Images	19
The World at Hand: Digital Images	25
The Impossible Reduction, or Why Interdisciplinarity Is Key	33
Learning from the History of Philosophy	39
The Affective Tenor of Images	42
The Avenging Angel: Proust and the Image	49
Images in Film, Theater, and Television	53
2 Perception, Image, and Imagination	63
The Real and Its Shadow: On the Duplicity of Images	63
The Criterion of Resemblance	67
Wittgenstein and the Reference of the Picture: Picturing, Seeing-as, Imagining	73
Transformation and Stratification: Representation and Drawing	82
Double-Seeing, Presentation, and Presentification in Husserl: Negation and Contrast	93
We Can: The Naked Ape and Other Living Beings in Front of Images and Imagination	102
3 A Typology of Images	109
Introduction: Necessary Distinctions	109
External Images: Narcissus and Pygmalion	111
The Natural Image	112
The Artificial Image	115
Internal Images	124
Mental Images: With Sartre, Against Sartre	126
Excursus: the Primacy of Visual Images	136

Memory Images	144
Images of the Past and the Deceptions of Memory	145
The Representational Character of Images of the Past and Hume's Fallacy	150
4 Imagining and Thinking	155
Introduction: Imagination and Images	155
Integration and Anticipation	159
Imagination and Scientific Knowledge	165
Conjecture, Invention, and Construction	173
Image and Word	183
Writing by Images: Conclusion	190
5 The Reality of Representation: Fantasy, Play, Fiction	195
Freud and the Substance of Illusion	195
Play	201
Fiction	207
The Temporality of Imagination	211
6 The Theater of the Soul: The Practical Imagination	221
Freedom from Reality, Freedom in Reality: A Critical Retrospective Look	222
Saving Appearances	227
The Practical Imagination: Aristotle, Ricoeur	231
Empathy, Egology, Social Ontology	238
Castoriadis and the Imaginary Institution of Society	245
Again on Language and Image: The Symbolic Way of Thinking	251
The Theater of Imagination	259
Notes	271
Bibliography	322
Index	335