

Contents

1	Toad's Eyes, Devil's Nails, Snake Tongues....	1
2	Fossilia and Fossils: Considerations on Their Understanding Over the Centuries	5
3	Fossils, Stones, and Magic (Mario Santini).	27
4	The Classification of Living Beings: Carl Nilsson Linnæus and Systematics	33
5	Giuseppe Bellucci and his Collection of Amulets, in Perugia (Maurizio Forli)	37
6	Quaestio de Fossilibus : Glossopetres, Snake Tongues and Ceraunids	41
7	The Understanding of some Ichthyodontolites Through the Time: from Bufonites, Toadstones, and Snake Eyes to Bony Fish Teeth	85
8	Stellaria or Stregonia Stone. About Some Corals in Folklore and Science	113
9	Nummulites: Are they Stone Lentils, Frumentaries Stone or Devil's Coins? No, are Giant Foraminifers	143
10	Mollusca	155
11	Polyplacophora: from Physsalus , Oscabrion, to Chiton	157
12	Bivalvia: Devil's Nails, Reflections Between Superstition and Science.	181
13	Curiosity: The Strange Mussels of Mr. Van Aken (Maurizio Forli)	207

14	Miscellaneous News about Gastropods, from the Earliest Printed Images to the Present Day	213
15	Scaphopoda: from Cannelli Simpatici, Shrieking Bones, to Tusk Shells.	245
16	Belemnoidea: from Lyncurium, Lynx Stone, to Cephalopoda	259
17	Ammonoidea: From the Ram's Horns of the God Jupiter Ammon to the Ammonites.	277
18	Histerolithus Lapis, from Strange Formed Stone to Brachiopods.	321
19	Echinodermata	345
20	Snake Eggs, Judaic Stones, Umbriae: Echinoidea from Magic, to Folk Beliefs and Science	349
21	Crinoidea: Researches among Fairy Coins and Sea Lilies	381
22	Asteroidea and Ophiuroidea: Starfish and Brittle Stars.	401
23	Scorpions, Ants, and Other Stone Insects. The Understanding of Trilobites Over the Centuries.	417
24	Coffee Break—Chelicerata Heymons, 1901 (Maurizio Forli).	443
25	Crustacea	455
26	Cirripedia—Acorn Barnacles, Pelagic Gooseneck Barnacle, and Ducks	479
	Postface (Andrea Guerrini)	499
	Index.	501