

Contents

List of figures	ix
List of tables	x
List of contributors	xi
Foreword—Daniel Druckman	xvii
Preface	xx
Acknowledgements	xxii
1 Identity, fragmentation and negotiation—Mark Anstey	1
2 Negotiating identity: cohesion and fragmentation—I. William Zartman	33
3 Identity in diplomatic negotiation: a double-edged sword—Paul Meerts	58
4 Transitioning identities: the Colombian peace negotiations 2010–2016—Frans Schram and Paula Garzón	80
5 Fading signals: how fastened identities undermined strategic stability in the post-Cold War era—Mikhail Troitskiy	106
6 Identification processes and cultures of negotiation in EU policy-making—Alain Guggenbühl	130
7 Winning a battle, losing the war: Bulgaria’s veto to the EU accession of North Macedonia—Ida Manton	155
8 Political identity, nondomination and the European Union—Rudolf Schuessler	179
9 The normative dance: the use of mediation in Mali as a space of norm contestation between a regional organization and a member state—Brown Odigie and José Pascal da Rocha	198
10 Decoding cyberspace and its impact on geopolitics, national security, and society—Christina Schori Liang	223

11 Lessons for practice: mindsets over narratives—Mark Anstey	263
Appendix 1 Secretary-General’s address to the General Assembly, 19 September 2023	289
Index	299