

Contents

	Introduction: the doors are open ...	I
1	Floorshow: a night out at the heart of 1980s goth	3
2	The fall of Rome	15
3	Deep in the forest: Europe's Gothic history	18
4	'Mad, bad and dangerous to know': the Romantics and the Gothic imagination	23
5	Euro visions	46
6	The devil has the best tunes	52
7	Paint it, black: the dark heart of the psychedelic '60s	61
8	All the children are insane, or people are strange: the (un)holy trinity: The Doors/Velvets/Stooges	76
9	Wham bam thank you glam: the dark side of glam rock	90
10	Proto post-punk	136
11	The punk wars	146
12	'What was once unhealthily fresh is now a clean old hat': post-punk to a very Public Image	155
13	Spellbound: Siouxsie and the Banshees	163
14	Feel the pain: The Damned	190
15	Ridicule is nothing to be scared of: Adam Ant	209
16	New dawn fades: Manchester and Joy Division	232
17	'The wreckers of Western civilisation ... ': industrial music	256
18	'I must fight this sickness ... find a cure': The Cure	282
19	The naughty north and the sexy south	303

20	All we ever wanted was everything: Bauhaus	322
21	Lord of chaos: a dark and beautiful playground: Killing Joke	342
22	Release the bats! Nick Cave	363
23	'I am not avant-garde; I am a deserter': Blixa Bargeld, Einstürzende Neubauten and the reinvention of Berlin	384
24	Voodoo idols: the ballad of Lux and Ivy	403
25	First, last and always: how post-punk Leeds created goth and The Sisters of Mercy	423
26	Vagabonds: Bradford: New Model Army and Joolz	458
27	Flowers in the forest: Southern Death Cult	469
28	Wanted dead or alive: how Liverpool opened the doors to a new (North-)West Coast sound	491
29	Do you believe in the westworld? Theatre of Hate	505
30	A new form of beauty: Virgin Prunes, Dublin: how Lypton Village changed a nation	518
31	'Good poetry can still resonate louder than a thousand guns': Rammstein for grown-ups: Laibach	530
32	At the gates of silent memory: Fields of the Nephilim	545
33	Darklands: how the dark energy infected indie	553
34	'We sing to the gods to be free': American Gothic and the dark art of the American dream	580
35	Trans Europe Express	601
36	In the flat field, suburbs and satellite towns: the second coming of goth	611
37	Apocalypse now! Goth's end days	623
	Notes	642
	List of illustrations	711
	Credits	711
	Index	712