

Table of contents

Chapter 1
Prologue .....	9
Chapter 2
How to “read” the material relics of extinct cultures: the religions of the ancient Celts from an archaeological perspective .....	17
2.1 The “Celts” from an archaeological perspective.....	21
2.2 The religion of the Celts from an archaeological perspective.....	30
2.2.1 Gods – pantheon – idols.....	35
2.2.2 Sanctuaries – rituals – druids .....	48
2.3 Conclusions .....	56
Chapter 3
How to understand myth and mythmaking: ancient Germanic mythological narratives and their ideologies and variations .....	59
3.1 Ancient Germanic mythologies: the geography and chronology of sources .....	61
3.1.1 Norse sources .....	65
3.1.2 Anglo-Saxon sources .....	68
3.1.3 German sources .....	70
3.2 Stories about gods .....	73
3.2.1 Categories of mythological beings .....	75
3.2.2 Cosmogony and eschatology .....	87
3.3 Stories about heroes .....	92
3.3.1 Warriors and seeresses – gender aspects of the “heroic order” .....	96
3.4 Conclusions.....	100
Chapter 4
How to understand “pagan relicts”: the folklore of the Baltic countries as a source for the study of the pre-Christian traditions of the Balts .....	103
4.1 Baltic folklore as an interpretive problem .....	105
4.1.1 Oral tradition – mythological songs, legends, and incantations .....	109
4.1.2 Folk calendar feasts.....	118
4.1.3 Folk art – symbolic artefacts .....	121

4.2 Conclusions..... 126

Chapter 5
Epilogue..... 129

References ..... 133
Primary sources ..... 133
Secondary literature..... 135

Index..... 145