

Contents

Acknowledgments	vii
List of Figures	xi
Introduction	1
Part I. Concepts: Everyday Aesthetics as an Essentially Contested Field
1. The Aesthetics of the Ordinary and Familiar	9
1.1 'Everyday' as an Essentially Contested Concept	9
1.2 Everyday Aesthetics as Defamiliarization of the Familiar	11
1.3 Limitations of Everyday Aesthetics as Defamiliarization	20
1.4 Aesthetics of the Familiar as Familiar	23
2. Challenges and Responses to Everyday Aesthetics	37
2.1 Objectivity-Seeking and Judgment-Oriented Aesthetics Discourse	37
2.2 Spectator Aesthetics vs Activist Aesthetics	51
Part II. Cases: From Sky to Earth
3. The Aesthetics of Emptiness: Sky Art	69
3.1 Sky and Emptiness	70
3.2 Emptiness of Reality Exemplified by Sky Art	72
3.3 Emptying Oneself in Experiencing Sky Art	81
4. The Aesthetics of Wind Farms	93
4.1 The Cape Wind Project	93
4.2 Strategies to Transform the Aesthetics of Wind Farms	95
4.3 Life Value-Based Aesthetics of Wind Farms	102
5. The Aesthetics of Laundry	115
5.1 Exclusion of Laundry from the Aesthetic Arena	115
5.2 Aesthetics Specific to Laundry	119
5.3 Aesthetics of Doing Laundry	121
5.4 Judgments of a Person's Appearance	124
5.5 Environmental Impact of Laundry Aesthetics	126

Part III. Consequences: Everyday Aesthetics and World-Making

6. Consequences of Everyday Aesthetics	141
6.1 Environmental, Political, and Social Consequences	141
6.2 Moral Consequences	149
7. The Power of Everyday Aesthetics in World-Making	196
7.1 What to Do with the Power of the Aesthetic	196
7.2 Objections to Everyday Aesthetics as a Normative Discourse	199
7.3 Practicing Body Aesthetics	209
7.4 Instrumental Value of Everyday Aesthetics	213
Conclusion	225
Bibliography	227
Index	243