

BRIEF CONTENTS

Preface xiii

Contributors xxi

1 Sport Psychology: Past, Present, Future 1

Mallory E. Mann, Pacific Lutheran University;

Jean M. Williams, University of Arizona;

Vikki Krane, Bowling Green State University

PART ONE—LEARNING, MOTIVATION, AND SOCIAL INTERACTION

2 Motor Skill Learning for Effective
Coaching and Performance 19

Cheryl A. Coker, Plymouth State University

3 A Positive Approach to Coaching Effectiveness and Performance Enhancement 40

Ronald E. Smith, University of Washington

4 The Motivational Climate, Motivation, and Implications for Empowering Athletes and the Promotion of Quality Sport Engagement 57

Joan L. Duda, The University of Birmingham, UK;

Darren C. Treasure, University of Bath, UK

5 The Self-Fulfilling Prophecy Theory: When Coaches' Expectations Become Reality 79

Thelma S. Horn, Miami University;

Jocelyn H. Newton, University of Wisconsin-La

Crosse; Curt L. Lox, University of North Florida

6 Leadership in Sport: A Shared Responsibility for Coaches and Athletes 104

Scott Pierce, Illinois State University;

Jedediah E. Blanton, University of Tennessee,

Knoxville

7 The Sport Team as an Effective Group 124

Mark Eys, Wilfrid Laurier University;

Shauna M. Burke, Western University;

Blair Evans, Western University

8 Communicating Effectively 141

David P. Yukelson, The Pennsylvania State

University; Kevin L. Burke, Queens University of

Charlotte

PART TWO—MENTAL TRAINING FOR PERFORMANCE ENHANCEMENT

9 Psychological Characteristics of Peak Performance 163

Scott Graupensperger, University of Washington;

Vikki Krane, Bowling Green State University;

Jean M. Williams, University of Arizona

10 Increasing Awareness for Sport Performance 180

Angela Winter, HigherEchelon, Inc. and

Breakthrough Performance Consulting;

Eric Bean, HigherEchelon, Inc. and Get a

Strong Mind; Kenneth Ravizza, California

State University

11 Goal-Setting for Peak Performance 194

Daniel Gould, Michigan State University

12 Understanding and Managing Stress in Sport 217

Lee Baldock, University of South Wales, UK;

Stephen D. Mellalieu, Cardiff Metropolitan

University, UK; Sheldon Hanton, Cardiff

Metropolitan University, UK; Jean M. Williams,

University of Arizona

- 13 Using Imagery as a Mental Training Tool in Sport 254
Robin S. Vealey, Miami University;
Christine E. Paceswicz, Miami University
- 14 Cognitive Techniques for Building Confidence and Enhancing Performance 288
Colleen M. Hacker, Pacific Lutheran University;
Jean M. Williams, University of Arizona
- 15 Concentration and Strategies for Controlling It 324
Jean M. Williams, University of Arizona;
Jennifer Bhalla, Pacific University
- 16 Mindfulness in Sport 345
Joe Mannion, Meet The Moment, Inc.
- PART THREE—IMPLEMENTING TRAINING PROGRAMS
- 17 Integrating and Implementing a Psychological Skills Training Program 369
Mallory E. Mann, Pacific Lutheran University;
Colleen M. Hacker, Pacific Lutheran University;
Jean M. Williams, University of Arizona
- 18 Diversity and Cultural Competence 400
Diane L. Gill, University of North Carolina at Greensboro;
Cindra S. Kamphoff, Minnesota State University, Mankato;
Erin J. Reifsteck, University of North Carolina at Greensboro;
DeAnne Davis Brooks, University of North Carolina at Greensboro
- 19 Pushing Boundaries: Applied Sport Psychology Beyond Sport 424
Shannon Baird
KBR Contractor
Cognitive Enhancement Practitioner
U.S. Army Special Forces Human Performance Program
- 20 Mental Health 453
David Tod, Lancaster University, England, United Kingdom;
Hayley E. McEwan, University of the West of Scotland, Scotland, United Kingdom;
Mark B. Andersen, Halmstad University, Sweden and Institute for Social Neuroscience, Melbourne, Australia
- 21 When to Refer Athletes to Other Helping Professionals 471
Hayley E. McEwan, University of the West of Scotland, Scotland;
David Tod, Lancaster University, England;
Mark B. Andersen, Halmstad University, Sweden and Institute for Social Neuroscience, Melbourne, Australia
- 22 Athlete Burnout 488
J. D. DeFreese, University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill;
Thomas D. Raedeke, East Carolina University;
Alan L. Smith, Utah State University
- 23 Injury Risk and Rehabilitation: Psychological Considerations 508
Jean M. Williams, University of Arizona;
Carrie B. Scherzer, Mount Royal University
- 24 Athletes' Careers and Transitions 537
Natalia B. Stambulova, Halmstad University, Sweden
- 25 Exercise and Physical Activity Participation: An Identity-Centered Approach 560
Duke Biber, James Madison University;
Caitlyn Hauff, University of South Alabama;
Diane Whaley, University of Virginia
- Index 582*