

CONTENTS

Figures	page ix
Tables	xiii
Boxes	xv
Preface	xvii
Part I Basic concepts and processes	1	Part II High-incidence disorders	235
1 Normality and abnormality in the context of human development: basic definitions	3	12 Disruptive, impulse control and conduct disorders	237
2 History: from ancient wisdom to the behavioral and cognitive revolutions	14	13 Depression	266
3 Classification of children's psychological problems: pseudoscience or fundamental part of the helping process?	41	14 Attention deficit/hyperactivity disorder	295
4 Genetics and psychopathology MARA BRENDGEN	63	15 Anxiety disorders	324
5 The physiological underpinnings of child psychopathology PAUL HASTINGS AND AMANDA GUYER	84	Part III Developmental disorders	351
6 Family influences, family consequences and family interventions	110	16 Intellectual disability	353
7 The helpful and harmful influences of peers, friends and siblings	135	17 Autism spectrum disorders	372
8 Cultural dimensions of child psychopathology	154	18 Learning problems as child psychopathology	394
9 Psychological assessment as part of the caring process	174	Part IV Less frequent and less clearly defined forms of child psychopathology	413
10 Prevention and mental health promotion WITH ELI CWINN	195	19 Eating disorders	415
11 Psychological interventions with children and adolescents	219	20 Bipolar disorder in childhood and adolescence: a modern-day epidemic?	436
		21 Substance use disorders	447
		22 School refusal	463
		23 Post-traumatic stress disorder	470
		24 Gender dysphoria in children: or, what is psychopathology? WITH ELI CWINN	483
		Glossary	496
		Bibliography	527
		Index	627