

Contents

Acknowledgments vii

Chapter 1	A Personal Perspective on the Selling of Academia DONALD G. STEIN	1
Chapter 2	College Sports, Inc.: How Big-Time Athletic Departments Run Interference for College, Inc. MURRAY SPERBER	17
Chapter 3	The Benefits and Cost of Commercialization of the Academy DEREK BOK	32
Chapter 4	Increased Commercialization of the Academy Following the Bayh-Dole Act of 1980 MARY L. GOOD	48
Chapter 5	Delicate Balance: Market Forces versus the Public Interest JAMES J. DUDERSTADT	56
Chapter 6	Pushing the Envelope in University Involvement with Commercialization RONALD A. BOHLANDER	75
Chapter 7	Conflicting Goals and Values: When Commercialization Enters into Tenure and Promotion Decisions KAREN A. HOLBROOK AND ERIC C. DAHL	89
Chapter 8	Buyer and Seller Views of University- Industry Licensing JERRY G. THURSBY AND MARIE C. THURSBY	103
Chapter 9	The Increasingly Proprietary Nature of Publicly Funded Biomedical Research: Benefits and Threats ARTI K. RAI	117

Chapter 10	The Clinical Trials Business: Who Gains? MARCIA ANGELL	127
Chapter 11	Reforming Research Ethics in an Age of Multivested Science SHELDON KRIMSKY	133
Chapter 12	The Academy and Industry: A View across the Divide ZACH W. HALL	153
Chapter 13	Responsible Innovation in the Commercialized University DAVID H. GUSTON	161
	Contributors	175
	Index	179