

Contents

Introduction	11
Theoretical Starting Points	23
Emplacement	26
Bodily intelligence	29
Authenticity, individuality	30
Concord, cultivation of a sense of communication and solidarity	31
Contemporary Duncan Method	33
Duncan dance technique	34
Improvisation	36
Creation	39
The art of teaching	40
Movement and its quality	43
Naturalness	44
Precision	45
Effort	46
Fluidity	49
Transmission	50
Phrasing	51
Unity of content and form	52
Didactics of the contemporary Duncan Method	53
Dance as an artistic, creative activity	54
The specifics and values of dance	56
Natural movement, bodily intelligence	60
How do we comprehend a movement's quality?	64
Dance technique	72
Correct posture	74
Movement of the torso, neck, and head	79
Lower limb movement	84
Movement of the upper limbs	89

Locomotion	93
Walking, running, jumping, spinning, turning	99
Dance improvisation	101
Creativity	105
Dance and space	110
Dance and time	113
The dynamics of movement	115
Dance and music	121
Non-verbal communications and relationships	123
The art of teaching	130
The dance instructor's personality	134
Principles of the teaching process	135
Working with children	141
Construction of a dance lesson	143
Conclusion	149
Recommended literature	163
Czech-Language Sources	166