
Contents

List of contributors	viii
Acknowledgements	xv
 Introduction to the Research Handbook on Asylum and Refugee Policy Jane Freedman and Glenda Santana de Andrade	 1
 PART I A HISTORICAL APPROACH TO ASYLUM AND REFUGEE POLICY
1 Making markets: the historical development of the refugee regime Julia Morris	7
2 Asylum and legal protection: a history Phil Orchard	25
3 Need for critical reimagination: colonial legacy of the 1951 Refugee Convention Jay Ramasubramanyam and Ulrike Krause	39
 PART II GEOGRAPHICAL AND GEO-POLITICAL CONTEXT FOR UNDERSTANDING REFUGEE POLICY
4 Refugee policy in Latin America: structural pillars and good practices Liliana Lyra Jubilut, Melissa Martins Casagrande and Marina Cardoso Farias	53
5 Climate refugees in India and international law: convergences divergences and anomalies Atul Alexander	76
6 Old tensions and new questions: the expansion of refugee sponsorship Shauna Labman and Rachel McNally	95
7 ‘If you change the country, you are not a real refugee’ – the impact of the Dublin Regulation on refugees’ flight and arrival experiences Anja Bartel	112
8 Refuge in silos: how three of the largest MENA hosts address Syrian mass displacement in the absence of coordinated efforts and responses Jasmin Lilian Diab	124

9	Liminal refuge in the land of (decreasing) opportunity Stephanie J. Nawyn and Breanne Leigh Grace	146
10	Refugee governance in the Middle East: insights from Turkey, Lebanon and Jordan Zeynep Şahin-Mencütek and Fatma Yılmaz-Elmas	159

PART III SECURITISATION, VIOLENCE AND RESISTANCE

11	Crises, violence and vulnerabilities for refugees in Europe Jane Freedman	177
12	South Africa's dalliance with temporary protection of refugees – is it a form of 'sophisticated containment' or a humanitarian act? Fatima Khan	188
13	The violent externalisation of asylum Jane Freedman	204
14	Refugee's resistance: analysing survival strategies through the prism of intersectionality Glenda Santana de Andrade	221

PART IV INTERSECTIONALITY AND ASYLUM AND REFUGEE POLICIES

15	Intersections of gender, sexuality and 'race' in queer asylum claims Nina Held and Aderonke Apata	239
16	Women and gender in asylum and refugee law and policy Jane Freedman	251
17	Beyond the transient protections of the Children's Act: contestations on citizenship and belonging for foreigners with refugee claims in South Africa Sikanyiso Masuku	267
18	Exclusionary refugee protection regime, colonial others and gender dualities Rose Jaji and Ulrike Krause	280
19	Conducting sexual and reproductive health and rights research amongst refugee women in sub-Saharan Africa: some ethical and methodological considerations Tamaryn L. Crankshaw and Victoria M. Mutambara	291

PART V CURRENT AND FUTURE CHALLENGES TO ASYLUM AND REFUGEE POLICY

20	Understanding solidarity practices with refugees Óscar García Agustín, Paola Buconjic, Martin Bak Jørgensen, and Mashudu Salifu	305
----	---	-----

21	Climate change and refugees: a challenge to legal frameworks Simon Behrman and Avidan Kent	320
22	Key issues relating to ethics when conducting research with forcibly displaced people Christina Clark-Kazak	337
23	Protection beyond refuge: expanding on the need for an intersectional approach to Syrian refugees' social protection in Jordan Jasmin Lilian Diab	349
	Index	364