

CONTENTS

	Acknowledgements	ix
	Author biographies	x
1	Introducing normative and different childhoods, developmental trajectory and transgression Lindsay O'Dell, Charlotte Brownlow and Hanna Bertilsdotter-Rosqvist	1
PART I
	Deconstructing ‘developmental tasks’	7
2	Exploring leisure, hobbies and special interests: the constructive role of special interests for children with ASD Georgena Ryder and Charlotte Brownlow	9
3	Beyond boy and girl: gender variance in childhood and adolescence Katherine Johnson	25
4	Becoming a popular girl: exploring constructions of friendships in teen magazines Hanna Bertilsdotter-Rosqvist and Charlotte Brownlow	41

PART II
Locating development	55
5 'The failed child of the failing mother': situating the development of child eating practices and the scrutiny of maternal foodwork Maxine Woolhouse	57
6 Family relationships and troubled masculinities: the experience of young men in contact with social care services Martin Robb, Brid Featherstone, Sandy Ruxton and Michael R.M. Ward	72
7 Beyond vulnerability: working with children who have experienced domestic violence Jane Callaghan, Joanne Alexander and Lisa Fellin	85
PART III
The limits of childhood	103
8 Independent migrant children, humanitarian work and statecraft: mapping the connections in South Africa Stanford Taonatose Mahati and Ingrid Palmay	105
9 Working children Lindsay O'Dell, Sarah Crafter, Guida de Abreu and Tony Cline	119
10 Parricides, school shootings and child soldiers: constructing criminological phenomena in the context of children who kill Amanda Holt	132
11 Conclusion: theorising transgressive developmental trajectories and understanding children seen as 'different' Lindsay O'Dell, Charlotte Brownlow and Hanna Bertilsdotter-Rosqvist	146
Index	157