

Contents

Abbreviations	7
Acknowledgements	9
Introduction	13
1. Making Greek books: "alla greca" bindings in Venice and Europe	25
1. Defining "alla greca": speaking, dressing, living in the Greek manner	28
2. A glossary of Greek-style bindings	33
2. Making books Greek: Greek materiality and alterity	57
1. Texts and editions	66
2. Making materiality: the ethnicity of Greek book owners and bookbinders	73
3. The economy of Greek-style bindings in Italy	87
1. Identifying Greek-style bookbindings in early modern sources	89
2. Prices: know-how and materials	94
3. Making sense of prices	98
4. Daniele Barbaro: "alla greca" and "alla latina"	100
4. Collecting Greek-style bindings	105
1. The gift of Greekness: San Zanipolo, Marcus Musurus, and the Eupatrides	107
2. Scholars and ambassadors	117
3. Bibliophile or bibliotaphos ? Johann Jakob Fugger	124
5. The legacy of Byzantium	133
1. The new Romes	134
2. Conversations with antiquity: genealogies, myths, and collecting practices	139
3. Interacting with the body of the book	144
4. Civic humanism and Greekness in Venice	145
Conclusion	155
Appendix: Census of Greek-style bookbindings made in western Europe	161
Bibliography	247
Index of manuscripts and early printed books not listed in the Appendix	287
Index of names	289