

Contents

List of abbreviations

Acknowledgements

Introduction (Interest and aims of the work, its methods and contribution)

PART I THE CLASS STRUGGLE AND MORAL PROBLEMS

- Chapter 1.* Moral and national hara-kiri
- Chapter 2.* "We are charlatans who passed ourselves off as surgeons" (Pavel Kohout)
- Chapter 3.* "We have learned from our own blunders" (Ladislav Mňačka)
- Chapter 4.* "From a blockhead to a human being" (Luděk Pachman)
- Chapter 5.* "Without the benefit of humanism and justice" (Arthur London, Rudolf and Heda Margolius, Karel Kaplan, Eduard Goldstücker)

PART II ECONOMIC PROBLEMS AND SOCIAL HISTORY

- Chapter 1.* The ČSR: Workers and intellectuals in a Soviet economy (Eugen Loeb, Radoslav Selucky, Ota Šik, Jan Štern)
 - 1. Cast of actors
 - 2. Fears, hopes and illusions (1945-8)
 - 3. Stalin's hand
 - 4. Workers' opposition (1948-53)
 - 5. Intellectuals' collaboration (1948-56)
 - 6. The New Course and hesitant de-Stalinization
 - 7. Popular roots of revisionism: Workers in a "workers' state" (1956-9)
 - 8. White collar reaction to pressure from below
 - 9. Conclusion
- Chapter 2.* The ČSSR: Economic reform and scientific-technical revolution? (Loeb, Selucky, Šik, Štern, continued)
 - 1. Economic failure and intellectual power
 - 2. Workers opposed, intellectuals changing
 - 3. The decisive year 1963: From economic stagnation to economic discussion
 - 4. Problems of the New Economic Model
 - 5. Political and social conditions of the scientific-technical revolution (Radovan Richta)
 - 6. Workers' activism before and after the invasion

- XV/111
7. The intelligentsia in 1968
 8. Human versus Soviet face of socialism
 9. Abnormalizing the normal (intellectuals)
 10. Abnormalizing the normal (workers)
- Chapter 3. Patterns of stratification: Workers and intellectuals (Pavel Machonin, Zdeněk Mlynář, Zdeněk Hejzlar, Michal Lakatoš)
- The theme
1. First stage: Imported Stalinism
 2. Second stage: Reforms
 3. Restoration and revenge
 4. Conclusion: The advantages and limitations of sociology
-

PART III SEARCHING FOR TRUTH AND REALITY

- Chapter 1. In history
1. The re-educators
 2. Karel Bartošek: From Stalinism to the New Left
 3. Josef Macek: Communist "Hussitism," a career, and cautious compromising
 4. Milan Hübl, Gustáv Husák, and some other retrievers of the past (Pavel Reiman)
 5. Husák and Hübl: Moscow time again
- Chapter 2. In philosophy
1. On the warpath (1945-8): Arnošt Kolman
 2. Stalinist philosophy (1949-54): Karel Kosík
 3. Kosík: post-Stalinist rebirth
 4. Milan Machovec: Could Jesus help the Marxists?
 5. Ivan Sviták: The strategy of truth
 6. Miroslav Kusý: The strategy of probing the limits
 7. The question of internationalism
- Chapter 3. In politics (Jiří Pelikán)
1. Student leader purging students
 2. Anti-colonial fight led from a colony
 3. A TV view of the Castle (Čestmír Císař)
 4. Revolution by television
 5. Carnegijsky: How to turn friends into enemies
 6. The beliefs of youth
 7. Why do they collaborate?
 8. Towards Euro-communism?

CONCLUSION (Aberration, recovery, lost and found, realism, Russian tyranny)

BIBLIOGRAPHY

NAME INDEX

SUBJECT INDEX