

Foreword by Dylan Riley ix

Introduction 11

PART ONE: THE PERIOD OF FASCISM

1. Imperialism and Fascism. Monopoly Capitalism and the Imperialist Chain 17
2. The German and Italian Links of the Chain 25
 - I. Germany 25
 - II. Italy 29
3. The Period of Fascism and the Third International 36
 - I. The Comintern's general view and its changes of course: the problem of the period and steps in the class struggle 36
 - II. Immediate effects on the Comintern's analysis of fascism 47
4. Conclusion: the Transition to Monopoly Capitalism, and 'Economic Crisis' 53

PART TWO: FASCISM AND THE CLASS STRUGGLE

1. The Political Crisis: Fascism and the Exceptional State 57
 - I. The problem and the Comintern 57
 - II. Thalheimer, Gramsci, Trotsky 59
 - III. The analytical framework: political crisis, class struggle and the institutional system 62
2. The Growth of Fascism 65

PART THREE: FASCISM AND THE DOMINANT CLASSES

1. General Propositions 71
 - I. Contradictions between dominant classes and dominant fractions of classes 71
 - II. The crisis of hegemony 72
 - III. Modifications in hegemony 72
 - IV. The breaking of representational ties, and the political parties 73
 - V. The ideological crisis 76
 - VI. The offensive by big capital and the power bloc 78
 - a. On attack and defence 78
 - b. The steps in the process 79
 - VII. The fascist parties, fascism and the dominant classes and class fractions; domination, hegemony and the ruling class: the relative autonomy of fascism 83

2. Germany 89

I. The economic contradictions 89

II. Big and medium capital: was fascism 'economically retrograde'? 95

III. The crisis and the politico-ideological process 100

IV. The Nazi Party, Nazism and the dominant classes and class fractions; hegemony and the ruling class 108

3. Italy

I. The economic contradictions 114

II. Big capital and landowners 118

III. The crisis and the politico-ideological process 123

IV. The fascist party, fascism and the dominant classes
and class fractions; hegemony and the ruling class 131

PART FOUR: FASCISM AND THE WORKING CLASS

1. General Propositions 139

I. Steps and characteristics of the 'process of defeat' and the working-class defensive 139

II. Forms of the ideological crisis:
the crisis of the revolutionary organizations 143

III. Social Democracy: class nature and function, policy, and the thesis of 'social fascism' 147

IV. The Communist Parties and their policy:
the turns of the Comintern and the strategy of alliances 156

V. The fascist organizations, fascism and the working class;
the condition of the working class under fascism 165

2. Germany 168

I. The process of defeat, the defensive and the politico-ideological crisis 168

II. German social democracy 177

III. The German Communist Party (KPD) 180

IV. National Socialism and the working class 188

a. The Nazi organizations and the working class 188

b. The condition of the working class under Nazism;
the questions of the fascist trade unions 191

3. Italy 198

I. The process of defeat and the defensive 198

II. The politico-ideological crisis: Sorel and revolutionary syndicalism 200

- III. Italian social democracy and the Maximalists 204
- IV. The Italian Communist Party (PCI) 209
 - a. The Bordiga tendency and party policy 209
 - b. Gramsci and the workers' councils: the Comintern, the trade-union question and the problem of the 'union-party' relation 213
- V. Fascism and the working class 218
 - a. Fascist organizations and the working class 218
 - b. The condition of the working class under fascism: the CGL and the fascist trade unionists 220

Appendix: The USSR and the Comintern 223

PART FIVE: FASCISM AND THE PETTY BOURGEOISIE

- 1. The Class Nature of the Petty Bourgeoisie and Petty-bourgeois Ideology 237
- 2. General Propositions 247
 - I. Monopoly Capitalism and the petty bourgeoisie: its economic situation 247
 - II. The political crisis and the petty bourgeoisie as a social force; the fascist parties and the interests of the petty bourgeoisie 247
 - III. The ideological crisis and 'fascist ideology': Imperialist ideology and petty-bourgeois ideology 251
 - IV. The condition of the petty bourgeoisie under fascism 256
- 3. Germany 259
- 4. Italy 265

PART SIX: FASCISM AND THE COUNTRYSIDE

- 1. Classes in the Countryside 271
- 2. General Propositions 278
 - I. The economic situation in the countryside 278
 - II. The politico-ideological crisis 278
 - III. The fascist parties, fascism and the peasant classes: town and countryside 280
 - IV. Monopoly capitalism and the countryside: the condition of the peasant classes under fascism 283
- 3. Germany 285
- 4. Italy 291

PART SEVEN: THE FASCIST STATE

1. The State Apparatus and the Ideological Apparatuses 299
 - I. Gramsci 299
 - II. Ideological apparatuses as State apparatuses 301
 - III. Branches of the repressive State apparatus; characteristics of the ideological State apparatuses 302
2. The Exceptional State and the Fascist State:
Type of State, Form of State and Form of Regime 310
3. General Propositions on the Exceptional State 313
 - I. Forms of State Intervention 313
 - II. Modification in the relations between the repressive apparatus and the ideological apparatuses 314
 - III. The displacement of the dominant branch or apparatus 318
 - IV. Modifications in the juridical system: regulation and limits 320
 - V. Significance of modifications in the electoral principle; on the single-party system 324
 - VI. The extent of bureaucratization 327
 - VII. Centralism and internal contradictions: parallel networks and transmission belts 328
4. General Propositions on the Fascist State as a Form of Exceptional Regime 331
 - I. The established system 331
 - II. The rise of fascism within the state apparatuses 333
5. Germany 336
 - I. The rise of fascism 336
 - II. The established system 339
6. Italy 350
 - I. The rise of fascism 350
 - II. The established system 351
- Conclusion 351
- Index 361