

Contents

List of contributors	xi
Foreword	xiii
G.A. HARRISON
1 The pervasiveness of plasticity	1
D.F. ROBERTS
2 Plasticity in early development	18
D.J. PRITCHARD
3 Plasticity in the growth of Mayan refugee children living in the United States	46
B. BOGIN
4 The place of plasticity in the study of the secular trend for male stature: an analysis of Danish biological population history	75
J.L. BOLDSSEN
5 Plasticity, growth and energy balance	91
S.J. ULJASZEK
6 The study of migrants as a strategy for understanding human biological plasticity	110
G.W. LASKER
7 Human migration: effects on people, effects on populations	115
D. COLEMAN
8 The use of surnames in the study of human variation and plasticity	146
J.H. RELETHFORD
9 A biological anthropological approach to measuring societal stress of parasitic disease: a case study of schistosomiasis	159
C.G.N. MASCIE-TAYLOR & G.E.H. MOHAMED
10 Biological adaptability, plasticity and disease: patterns in modernizing societies	190
R.M. GARRUTO

11	Human biological adaptability with special emphasis on plasticity: history, development and problems for future research	213
	L.M. SCHELL
	Index	239