

Editorial

- Jonathan Todres and Ton Liefaard: Who “Owns” Children’s Rights in a World of Conflict? 239-244

Articles

- Angelika Thelin and Torbjörn Forkby: Participation Put on Hold: On Unfulfilled Expectations of Children’s Contribution to Policy-Making for Prevention 245-270
- Sophy Baird: Digital Masculinities and the Rights of the Child: Confronting the Manosphere’s Influence on Young Boys 271-301
- David W. Patterson: The Climate Crisis and Reporting Under the Convention on the Rights of the Child: Opportunities for Developing Countries? 302-333
- Yijia Liu: Criminalisation as a Tool of Child Repatriation: A Critical Comparison of the Hague Child Abduction Convention and International Refugee Law 334-361
- Lisa Isenström, Gabriela Martinez Sainz, Sarah Zerika, Susan Gollifer and Dorota Duda: The Aims of Education and Initial Teachers’ Education: A Rights-Based Comparative Study of Five Countries 362-391
- Natallia Sianko, Migena Kapllanaj, Mark A. Small and Lyudmyla Tsykalova: Culture and the Right to Participate: Insights from Children in 18 Countries 392-425
- Sylwia Koziel and Ylva Spånberger Weitz: Blurry Transitions: Children’s Experiences of Participation and Non-Participation in the Planning and Implementation of Open Care Services 426-453
- Anastasiia Doroshenko and Tracee Green: Despite The Push and Pull Factors They Stayed: A Secondary Data Analysis of Ecological Causes, Consequences and Responses to Girl Soldiering in Africa 454-481
- Elaine Bidmead, Karissa Williams, Catherine El Zerbi, Mandy Cheetham and Cathryn Gathercole: “People shouldn’t Have to be Worried About Going Broke All the Time.” The Views of Primary School Children on Their Needs, Government Support for Families and Universal Credit 482-516
- Olaitan O. Olusegun: Access to Justice For Children with Albinism in Nigeria 517-542