

Contents

List of Tables	vii
Acknowledgements	ix
Foreword	xi
Oliver Carter
Introduction: Regulating Digital Media in Africa – Politics, Law and Governance	xiii
Vincent Obia and Sulayman Bah
PART 1: REGULATORY TRENDS AND THE RESEARCH LANDSCAPE	1
1. Regulating Digital Technologies in Africa: Navigating a Shifting Tech Landscape	3
Hayes Mawindi Mabweazara
2. Human Rights, Freedom of Expression and Multi-Stakeholderism in the Governance of New Media Technologies in Africa – Interview with Guilherme Canela	23
Vincent Obia
3. Mapping a Research Agenda for Digital Media Regulation in Africa: A Systematic Analysis	36
Vincent Obia
PART 2: STATE POLICY APPROACHES AND REGULATORY CHALLENGES	81
4. Cybersecurity Laws, Digital Media Spaces and Media Freedoms in Zambia	83
Ndawana Youngson, Joanne Knowles and Elastus Mambwe

5. Morocco's Approach to Digital Media Regulation: State Policy, Power Asymmetry, Platform Dialogue – Interview with Latifa Akharbach Yemisi Akinbobola	105
6. Regime Change?: Digitalization, Media Convergence and the Constraints to Reforming Ghana's Analogue-Era Regulatory System Kobina Ano Bedu-Addo	112
7. Broadcast Media Regulation and Democratic Transitions in Africa: A Nigerian and South African Case Study Yemisi Akinbobola, Vincent Obia and Trust Matsilele	135
PART 3: DIGITAL MEDIA CENSORSHIP: FRICTIONS, TENSIONS, REACTIONS	161
8. Balancing Freedom with Responsibility or Simply Pandering to Political Whims: An Analysis of Kenya's 2018 Computer Misuse and Cybercrimes Act Muthoni Esther King'ori and Maureen Syallow	163
9. Interrogating Online Journalism Regulation and Censorship in Africa – Interview with Churchill Otieno Sulayman Bah	180
10. Senegal's Approach to Digital Media Regulation: Limited Civil Society Consultation, State Control and the Need for a Continental Approach to Governance – Interview with David Diaz-Jogeix Sulayman Bah	188
11. Evasive Journalism: Circumventing the Regulation of Online Journalism in The Gambia Sulayman Bah	199
Conclusion: Afrokology and the Imperative to Decolonize Tech Regulation in Africa Winston Mano	221
Notes on Contributors	227
Index	231