Table of Contents

Preface V

List of Contributors XXVII

Introduction XXIX

Mark Lunney
Employers' Liability and Workers' Compensation: Australia 1

I. Introduction 1
A. Basic system of compensation and liability 1
B. Interaction with other institutions 3
C. Empirical evidence 4
II. Workers' Compensation 5
A. Scope of cover 5
1. When can workers' compensation be claimed? 7
2. Spatial and temporal dimensions of course of employment . . 8
B. Compensation trigger 10
C. Scope of protection 14
D. Heads and levels of benefit 15
1. Medical care 15
2. Rehabilitation assistance 16
3. Lost earnings 17
4. Non-pecuniary losses 19
5. Dependents' benefits 20
6. Comparison with damages in tort 22
7. Lump sum or periodical payments? 23
E. Funding systems 25
1. Types of system 25
2. Contribution to the workers' compensation fund 27
3. Incentives 27
F. Administration and adjudication of claims 28
1. Organisational framework of workers' compensation institutions 28
2. Who decides claims for benefits 28
3. Reviews and appeals: special tribunals or general civil justice system? 29
4. Speed of claims' resolution and administrative costs 30

G. Rights of recourse of workers' compensation institutions 32
1. Recourse against employer 32
2. Recourse against a co-worker 32
3. Recourse against third parties 33
H. Interaction with general social welfare provision and private insurance 34
1. Fund of first resort? 34
2. Deductibility of benefits 34
3. Recourse of social welfare agencies, social health insurance, private health insurers against workers' compensation institutions 35
I. Interaction with employers' liability 36
1. Availability of damages in addition to workers' compensation benefits 36
2. Deductibility of benefits provided by workers' compensation in action against employer 37
3. Subrogation of workers' compensation into the claim of worker against employer 38
III. Employers' Liability 38
A. Classification 38
1. Contract or tort? 38
2. General law or a special category 39
B. Elements of liability 39
1. Liability of employers for their own acts or omissions 39
2. Liability of employers for the acts or omissions of their employees and others 39
3. Relevance of health and safety legislation in establishing liability 40
4. Overall a fault-based or strict liability system 41
5. Causation 41
6. Effect of victim's contributory conduct 41
C. Scope of protection 42
D. Heads and levels of damages 43
1. Same level as in other cases of personal injury 43
2. Heads of recoverable damage 44
3. Costs of medical care 44
4. Costs of rehabilitation assistance 44
5. Lost earnings, loss of earning capacity, and loss of pension entitlements 45
6. Non-pecuniary loss 45
7. Dependents 46
8. Form of payment 46
E. Administration of claims 47
1. Courts or specialised tribunals 47
2. General civil procedure or special procedures? 47

3. Reviews and appeals 48
4. Speed of claims' resolution and administrative costs 48
F. Rights of recourse 49
1. Against other employees or their liability insurer? 49
2. Against third parties 49
G. Interaction with social welfare systems and private insurance . . . 50
1. Deductibility of benefits received from social welfare agencies 50
2. Recourse of social welfare agencies and private insurers against the employer 50
H. Insurance 51
1. Voluntary or mandatory? 51
2. General liability insurance or special policy 51
3. Basic principles of employers' liability insurance 52
IV. Evaluation and Conclusions 53
A. Compensation 53
B. Prevention 54
C. Overall costs 55
D. Interaction between workers' compensation and private law . . . 55
E. Plans for reform 56
F. Overall quality of each system independently and in combination 58

Ernst Karner and Felix Kernbichler
Employers' Liability and Workers' Compensation: Austria 63
I. Introduction 63
A. Basic system of compensation and liability 63
1. Historical development 63
2. Basic system 65
3. Relation to private law remedies 66
B. Interaction with other institutions 67
C. Empirical evidence 68
II. Workers' Compensation 68
A. Scope of cover 68
1. Protected sphere of life 69
2. Attribution 70
B. Compensation trigger 72
C. Scope of protection 73
1. Personal injury 73
2. Sexual harassment 73
3. Dignitary injuries 74
4. Property damage and pure economic loss 74
D. Heads and levels of benefit 75
1. Benefits in kind 75
2. Cash benefits 76

E. Funding systems 81
1. Funding through contributions 81
2. Financial equalisation (Finanzausgleich) 83
F. Administration and adjudication of claims 83
G. Rights of recourse of workers' compensation institutions 87
1. General 87
2. Recourse against the employer 89
3. Recourse against a colleague? 90
4. Recourse against third parties 91
H. Interaction with general social welfare provision and private insurance 91
1. Relationship between health and accident insurance 91
2. Relationship between Social Insurance and Minimum Insurance 93
I. Interaction with employers' liability 93
III. Employers' Liability 94
A. Classification 94
1. General tortious fault-based and the employer's liability privilege 94
2. Work accidents caused by vehicles for which there is enhanced liability 98
B. Elements of liability 98
1. Fault-based liability 98
2. Strict liability 100
3. Liability for risks without fault 101
C. Scope of protection 103
D. Heads and levels of damages 103
1. Personal injuries 103
2. Material damages 104
E. Administration of claims 104
F. Rights of recourse 105
G. Interaction with social welfare systems and private insurance . . . 105
H. Insurance 105
IV. Evaluation and Conclusions 106
A. Compensation 106
B. Prevention 106
C. Overall costs 107
D. Interaction between workers' compensation and private law . . . 107
E. Plans for reform 109
F. Overall quality of each system independently and in combination 110

Vibe Ulfbeck
Employers' Liability and Workers' Compensation: Denmark 111
I. Introduction 111
A. Basic system of compensation and liability 111
B. Interaction with other institutions 112
C. Empirical evidence 112
II. Workers' Compensation 112
A. Scope of cover 112
B. Compensation trigger 115
C. Scope of protection 117
D. Heads and levels of benefit 118
E. Funding systems 120
F. Administration and adjudication of claims 120
G. Rights of recourse of workers' compensation institutions 121
H. Interaction with general social welfare provision and private insurance 122
I. Interaction with employers' liability 123
III. Employers' Liability 124
A. Classification 124
B. Elements of liability 125
C. Scope of protection 127
D. Heads and levels of damages 128
E. Administration of claims 130
F. Rights of recourse 131
G. Interaction with social welfare systems and private insurance . . . 132
H. Insurance 133
IV. Evaluation and Conclusions 134
A. Compensation 134
B. Prevention 134
C. Overall costs 135
D. Interaction between workers' compensation and private law . . . 135
E. Plans for reform 135
F. Overall quality of each system independently and in combination 135

Richard Lewis
Employers' Liability and Workers' Compensation: England and Wales 137
I. Introduction 137
A. The basic system of compensation and liability 137
1. Tort 138
2. Workers' compensation 140
3. Why preferential compensation for workers? 141
B. Interaction with other institutions 143
C. Empirical evidence 143