Part I Critical Reading

1 The Role of Scientific Research Articles in the Natural Sciences 3
1.1 Overview 3
1.2 Understanding Scientific Research Literature 3
1.3 Reading Primary Literature Compared to Other Texts 6
1.4 Common Challenges in Reading Primary Literature 7
1.5 Types of Primary Literature 10
1.6 Overview of Peer Review 11
1.7 Citing Research Articles 13
1.8 Research Article Structure 15
1.9 Approaches to Reading Primary Literature 20
1.10 Conclusion and Looking Ahead 23
1.11 Chapter Key Takeaways 24

2 The CERIC Method 25
2.1 Overview 25
2.2 Arguing from Evidence 25
2.3 Reading and Writing Out of Order 27
2.4 Evidence-Based Methods of Reading 28
2.5 Introducing the CERIC Method 29
2.6 Finding the CERIC Elements in a Research Article 34
2.7 How the CERIC Method Works 35
2.8 Chapter Key Takeaways 39

3 Claim 40
3.1 Overview 40
3.2 What Is a Claim? 40
3.3 Types of Claims 42

3.4 Finding the Claim 43
3.5 Multiple Claims, Subclaims, and Findings 46
3.6 Worked Example 48
3.7 Chapter Key Takeaways 49

4 Evidence 50
4.1 Overview 50
4.2 What Is Evidence? 50
4.3 Types of Evidence 52
4.4 Distinguishing Evidence from Other Sources of Information 55
4.5 Finding the Evidence 57
4.6 Worked Example 58
4.7 Chapter Key Takeaways 60

5 Reasoning 61
5.1 Overview 61
5.2 What Is Reasoning? 61
5.3 From Reasoning to Argument 71
5.4 Reasoning Compared to Other Elements 82
5.5 Finding Reasoning 85
5.6 Worked Example 90
5.7 Chapter Key Takeaways 93

6 Implications 95
6.1 Overview 95
6.2 Defining Implications 95
6.3 Types of Implications 101
6.4 Implications Compared to Other Elements 106
6.5 Finding Missing Implications 109
6.6 Worked Example 110
6.7 Chapter Key Takeaways 111

7 Context 112
7.1 Overview 112
7.2 Defining Context 112
7.3 Types of Context 117
7.4 Context as the Main Research Question 121
7.5 Context Compared to Other Elements 126
7.6 Worked Example 128
7.7 Chapter Key Takeaways 129

8 Putting It Together in a CERIC Review 131
8.1 Overview 131
8.2 Creating a CERIC Review 131

8.3 Effective CERIC Reviews 137
8.4 Going beyond the Review 144
8.5 Worked Example 147
8.6 Chapter Key Takeaways 154

Part II Critical Thinking

9 Using CERIC to Compare Articles 157
9.1 Overview 157
9.2 Comparing Research Articles 157
9.3 Identifying Related Articles for Comparison 159
9.4 Visual Comparisons 166
9.5 Worked Example 167
9.6 Chapter Key Takeaways 176

10 Using CERIC to Critique and Peer Review Articles 177
10.1 Overview 177
10.2 The Importance of Critical Peer Review 177
10.3 Finding Common Flaws in Research Articles Using the CERIC Structure 180
10.4 Evaluating the Quality of a Research Article 183
10.5 Applying CERIC in the Peer Review Process 185
10.6 Worked Example: Fatal Flaws Plus Elaborate Fraud 187
10.7 Chapter Key Takeaways 192

11 Using CERIC for Presentations 193
11.1 Overview 193
11.2 How Do We Talk about Primary Literature? 193
11.3 Presentation Types: Summaries and Critiques 199
11.4 The CCERI Framework for Presentations 202
11.5 More Guidance on Presenting the Essential Elements of an Article 205
11.6 Integrating and Balancing Critique 213
11.7 Worked Example with the CERIC Presentation Template 215
11.8 Chapter Key Takeaways 219

12 Using CERIC for Literature Review 221
12.1 Overview 221
12.2 Defining a Literature Review 221
12.3 Where Literature Reviews Appear in Science 223
12.4 Preparing for a Literature Review 226
12.5 Designing the Literature Review 230
12.6 Practical and Ethical Considerations for Scientific Literature Reviews 237
12.7 Worked Example: A Methodological Evolution Arc 239
12.8 Chapter Key Takeaways 242

13 Using CERIC with Social Collaborative Annotation (SCA) 243
13.1 Overview 243
13.2 What Social Collaborative Annotation Brings to Research Education 243
13.3 Choosing and Setting Up Digital SCA Spaces 249
13.4 Integrating SCA in CERIC Reviews 251
13.5 Worked Example 259
13.6 Chapter Key Takeaways 262

14 Using CERIC with Generative Artificial Intelligence (GenAI) 263
14.1 Overview 263
14.2 What GenAI Brings to Research Education 263
14.3 Integrating GenAI into CERIC Reviews 270
14.4 Worked Example 272
14.5 Conclusion and Future Directions 277
14.6 Chapter Key Takeaways 279
