Contents

About the Author iv
Preface and Acknowledgements v

Introduction: The Nation, the State and the Territory 1

1 Why Is Post-communist Europe Different from Western Europe? 22

PART I Nations in Flux 39
2 States, Nations and Citizens in Reconfigured Regions 41
3 'Shrunken' State: Nationalism as a Geopolitical Concept 61
4 In the Name of the Serbian Nation 72

PART II Historical Revisionism 89
5 Revising Historical Memory: Russia, Ukraine, Fascism and Communism 91
6 Unusable Past and Remembering the Holocaust 104

Conclusion: 'New' Nationalism and Its Dilemmas 124

Notes 133
References 135
Index 144