CONTENTS

About the Author ix
Foreword x
Acknowledgements xii

INTRODUCTION 1
About this Book 1
Aims of the Book 2
Early Years Practice in Context 3

PART I EARLY INFLUENCES 13
John Locke and the Emergence of Empiricism 14
Jean-Jacques Rousseau and the Concept of 'Child' 18
Johann Pestalozzi and the Importance of Nature 22
Friedrich Froebel and the Importance of Play 26
Rachel and Margaret McMillan and Social Reform 30
The Psychodynamic Tradition 33
Rudolf Steiner and the Changing Needs of Children 39
Maria Montessori: The Environment and Learning 43

PART II MODERN INFLUENCES 51
John Dewey and Child-centred Education 52
Burrhus Skinner and Behaviourism 56
Jean Piaget: An Enduring Legacy 60
Lev Vygotsky: Learning and Social Constructivism 66
John Bowlby and Early Attachment 72
Albert Bandura and Social Learning Theory 76
Urie Bronfenbrenner: Learning in the Wider Context 80
Jerome Bruner and Constructivism 85
Howard Gardner and Theories of Multiple Intelligence 91
Reuven Feuerstein and Instrumental Enrichment 96
Nel Noddings and the Ethics of Care 100
Te Whāriki 103
Loris Malaguzzi and Reggio Emilia 106
Carol Dweck and Children's Mindsets 110
Guy Claxton: Building Learning Power 113
Barbara Rogoff: Children as Participants in their Cultural Communities 116

PART III CHALLENGES FOR THEORISTS IN A CHANGING WORLD 119

Poverty 120

Artificial Intelligence: Changing Landscapes 130

Glossary 136
Index 138