Contents

List of Figures vii
Notes on Contributors ix

Introduction: 'People Don't Like to Look at This': The Ex-Cinema of Kira Muratova 1
Irina Schulzki and Irina Gradinari

Part I Rebellion of Form

1. Late Style in Kira Muratova's Eternal Return 37
Ivan Sokolov
2. Neither Narrate nor Describe: Kira Muratova's Non-Totalising Art of Collage 53
Irina Denischenko
3. Formalism and Defamiliarisation: A Study of Self-Reflective Form in Kira Muratova's Film Aesthetics 71
Vera Kotelevskaya
4. 'A Different Rhythm of Breathing': Brevity in Muratova's Oeuvre 85
Eugénie Zvonkine

Part II Reframing Gender

5. Gender Axiology in Soviet Cinema: A Study of Kira Muratova's Early Features 103
Nikolay Poselyagin
6. Gaze and Affect: The Asthenic Syndrome 118
Irina Gradinari
7. Reading Muratova's Film Aesthetics through Fashion 135
Marina Rojavin

Part III Community and Ethics Reimagined

8. An Ethics of Gesture in Muratova's Cinema 155
Irina Schulzki
9. Kira Muratova's Likenesses 172
Lida Oukaderova
10. The Screen as Cage: Dismantling the Human-Animal Divide in The Sentimental Policeman 190
Raymond De Luca
11. The Art of Deception: Genre, Attunement, and Intention Attribution in The Tuner 208
David G. Molina

Part IV Interlacements and Contexts

12. Through the Looking-Glass Water: Ex-Centric Visions in Muratova and Parajanov 227
Olha Briukhovetska
13. Dysphonia as an Art Practice: Muratova, Tarkovsky, Gogoberidze 243
Lilya Kaganovsky
14. Loss of Control in Auteur Film: Agnès Varda and Kira Muratova 258
Michael Niehaus
15. Performatism of Language in the Films of Kira Muratova and Herbert Achternbusch 272
Ilja Kukuj
16. Kira Muratova in the Ukrainian Cinematic Process: Perspectives from National Film Scholarship 286
Larysa Naumova

Index 301