

Contents

INTRODUCTION	4
CHAPTER 1
Transformation Processes in the Czech Republic	6
Preface	6
1.1 State Socialism and Central Planning.....	7
1.2 The Theoretical Concept of the Transformation Process: the Washington Consensus vs. the Institutional Economy	11
1.3 Selected questions regarding the transformation process in the Czech Republic	14
1.3.1 The internal mode of debate: the influence of Václav Klaus	14
1.3.2 Economic policy: privatization, external economic relations	16
1.4 Ways of Integrating into the World Economy: the Way of the Czech Republic	22
1.5 Current Situation: Convergence or Divergence?.....	27
Conclusion	31
Bibliography	34
CHAPTER 2
Transformation Processes in Poland	36
Preface – Brief History	36
2.1 Four Decades of Communism in Poland.....	42
2.1.1 Boleslaw Bierut Era (1948-1956)	42
2.1.2 The Wladyslaw Gomulka Period and De-Stalinization (1956-1970)	44
2.1.3 The Edward Gierek Era (1970-1980)	45
2.1.4 End of Communist Rule (1980-1989)	48
2.1.5 Features of the Polish Economy under Communist Rule	55
2.2 Polish Negotiated Transformation.....	58
2.2.1 The Change of the Regime	59
2.2.2 The Round Table	60
2.2.3 Formal Arrangements of the Negotiations	60
2.2.4 The Round Table and its Aftermath	61
2.3 Economy in Transition	68
Conclusion	73
Bibliography	75
CHAPTER 3
Transformation Processes in Hungary	78
Preface – Socialistic Economy and Market Reforms	78
3.1 Change of Political Regime.....	83
3.2 The First Years of Transformation – the Reforms of Antall’s Cabinet:	85
3.3 Turning Point of Economy Policy	87
3.4 Causes behind the Rejection of Radical Reforms.....	89
3.5 Stabilization – The Bokros Package.....	93
3.6 Economy at the Beginning of the 21st Century.....	98
3.7 The Economic Approaches of FIDESZ.....	102
Conclusion	105
Bibliography	106
INDEX	108