

Contents

Introduction.....	6	3 Research and Cold-calling.....	81	6 Making Yourself Known in the Marketplace.....	127
1 What is a Portfolio?	9	Why Research Is Important.....	82	Networking Pays Off	128
The Student Portfolio	10	Targeting Your Research.....	83	Pitching for a Presentation	129
The Professional Portfolio.....	13	Jobs in the design world.....	83	Promotional Material	133
The Graphic Design Portfolio.....	18	Illustration commissioners.....	88	Digital media	133
The Illustration Portfolio.....	19	Research Resources	89	Case study: Sophie Blackall	134
The Cross-disciplinary Portfolio.....	22	Professional journals.....	89	Case study: Linzie Hunter	135
Summary.....	23	Annuals and sourcebooks	89	Presentation Pointers.....	142
2 Making Sense of the Marketplace	25	Yearbooks, mailing lists and industry directories.....	91	Be prepared	142
Design Groups.....	27	Libraries.....	91	Presenting Your Portfolio	143
Branding.....	27	Industry-related websites, portals and blogs ..	91	Post-presentation Reminders.....	145
Design for digital media.....	29	Cold-calling.....	92	Websites	145
Multidisciplinary design.....	29	Speculative Applications.....	93	Case study: Bowie Style	146
Design internships.....	32	Student Exhibitions and Competitions.....	94	Sourcebook advertising	150
Illustration commissions.....	32	Summary.....	95	Follow-up visits.....	150
Advertising Agencies.....	35	4 Creating a Good Portfolio	97	Summary.....	151
Routes into advertising design.....	35	Basic Approaches	98	Resources	152
Routes into advertising illustration.....	37	Learn to be Objective.....	99	Professional Bodies and Membership Organizations	152
Opportunities for cross-disciplinary practitioners.....	37	The Contents.....	100	Information and Advice	153
The Editorial Sector.....	40	Are all the pieces up to my highest standards?.....	100	Portfolio Manufacturers and Suppliers	153
Openings for designers.....	40	Is self-indulgent work taking up prime portfolio space?.....	101	Useful Design Websites	154
Illustration commissions.....	47	What new samples should I add to my portfolio?.....	101	Useful Illustration Websites	154
Book Publishing.....	51	Should new samples be put in context?.....	101	Useful Publications	155
Starting as a book designer.....	51	How many samples should I include?.....	105	Annuals and Competitions.....	156
Children's books.....	52	How do I show published work?.....	105	Subject-specific Links.....	156
Educational publishing.....	52	Should I include my sketchbooks?.....	107	Index	158
Adult fiction.....	57	How Many Portfolios?.....	107	Picture Credits	160
Adult non-fiction.....	57	Summary.....	109
Comics and Graphic Novels	61	5 Choosing the Right Portfolio	111
The independent route.....	61	The Digital Portfolio.....	112
The commercial route.....	61	What can go wrong?.....	112
Television and Film	66	How to get it right.....	113
Opportunities for designers.....	66	Remote presentations	113
Opportunities for illustrators.....	69	Presenting your portfolio on a tablet.....	115
Computer Games Development	72	Preparing work for digital presentation	115
Illustration skills.....	72	The Print Portfolio	116
Greetings Cards.....	77	Size matters	116
In-house design positions.....	77	What kind of portfolio?.....	117
Illustrating greetings cards	77	Leaves and laminates	117
Finding the right publisher.....	77	How to display your work	120
Creating a portfolio	78	Photographs of samples	120
Setting up as a publisher.....	78	Summary.....	125
Summary.....	79

Related study material is available on the Laurence King website at www.laurenceking.com