

SUMMARY OF CONTENTS

---

	Page
Preface	v
Acknowledgments	vii
 Chapter 1. Why Rhetoric and Why Now . . . Again?	 1
 THEORETICAL UNDERPINNINGS OF LEGAL ARGUMENT
 Chapter 2. A Short History of Rhetoric	 9
A. Ancient Greece and Rome	10
B. Early Christianity, the Middle Ages, and the Renaissance	25
C. From Epistemology to the Elocutionary Movement	42
 Chapter 3. Contemporary Rhetoric	 61
A. The Inadequacy of Language	62
B. The Ethics of Persuasion	64
C. Practical Reasoning	66
D. Communication as Rhetoric and Rhetoric as Motive	72
E. Theories of Composition	74
F. Twentieth Century Legal Philosophies	83
 Chapter 4. The Traditional Canons of Rhetoric	 99
A. Types of Rhetoric and Forms of Proof	100
B. The Canons of Rhetoric	101
C. Invention of Artistic Arguments	105
D. Arrangement of Arguments	123
E. Style of Arguments	130

PRACTICAL APPLICATIONS OF RHETORICAL THEORY TO LEGAL WRITING

Chapter 5. Invention: Logos in Legal Writing	137
A. Rule Synthesis	139
B. Rule Application	150
C. Analogical Reasoning	170
Chapter 6. Invention: Pathos in Legal Writing	179
A. Theory of the Case	180
B. Crafting Arguments from Your Client's Point of View	186
C. Addressing Counter-Arguments	195
Chapter 7. Invention: Ethos in Legal Writing	203
A. Gaining Credibility	204
B. Professionalism	206
C. Good Faith and Candor to the Tribunal	208
Chapter 8. Arrangement: Large and Small Scale Organization in Legal Writing and Oral Argument	213
A. The Analytical Paradigm	214
B. Objective Legal Writing	215
C. Persuasive Writing	229
D. Oral Argument	255
Chapter 9. Style: From Clarity to Polish in Legal Writing	259
A. The Plain English Movement	260
B. Clarity and Conciseness	263
C. Legal Writing Conventions	276
D. English Grammar, Punctuation, and Usage	280
E. Citation Format	286
F. Polish	297
G. Cumulative Revision Exercise	302

SECTION TITLE	xiii
Appendix A. Answers to Distributed Terms Exercise	309
Appendix B. Sample Traditional Memorandum	311
Appendix C. Sample Appellate Brief	321
Appendix D. Suggested Answers to Exercise on Clarity and Conciseness	331
Appendix E. Suggested Answers to Exercise on Legal Writing Conventions	333
Appendix F. Suggested Answers to Exercise on Grammar, Punctuation, and Usage	335
Appendix G. Suggested Answers to Citation Exercises for Practitioners	337
BIBLIOGRAPHY	339
FIGURES INDEX	349
SUBJECT AND NAMES INDEX	351