

CONTENTS

Acknowledgements .....	vii
Introduction .....	1
1. The Principle of Identity in Heidegger's Descartes .....	9
Presumptions of the Universal Science of René Descartes .....	10
Archimedean Point .....	17
The Metaphysical Body as Res Extensa .....	23
Divided and Re-Unified Human Being .....	26
The Passions of the Soul and 'Ontological Force' .....	33
Principle of Identity in Universal Science .....	42
2. The Impossibility of a Powerless Da-sein and a Powerful World in Fundamental Ontology .....	47
Basic Concepts of Fundamental Ontology .....	48
First Approximation of the Issues of our Research .....	52
Da-sein and Non-Da-sein Beings .....	54
Affairs .....	59
Authenticity and Inauthenticity .....	64
The Transition from Inauthenticity to Authenticity: The Third Mode of Being .....	67
Modal Transformation via Angst , Calling of Conscience and Being-Toward-Death: Powerlessness and the Force of an Indeterminate 'It' .....	69
Leaving the Third Mode of Being, Selfhood and Resoluteness ....	82
The Unifying Function of Time and the Constancy of Selfhood .....	86
Conclusion to Heidegger's Conception .....	90
3. Paul Ricoeur: Third Mode through Narrativity .....	97
Conceptual Configuration: Between Analytical Philosophy and Phenomenology .....	99
The Project of a Hermeneutics of the Human Self .....	103
Semantic Individualization .....	108
Pragmatic Individualization .....	112

From Individualization to Identification .....	114
Narrative Identification .....	120
Being is Action: Hierarchical Structuralization of Human Ontology .....	129
Narrative Identity .....	138
Ethical Action and Moral Institution .....	144
Summary and Critique of Ricoeur's Concept .....	149
4. The Powerlessness of Self-Relating and the Power of the World: Exemplification .....
Literary Examples .....	164
I Am Me .....	164
The Double Traitor .....	172
Note to Literary Examples .....	177
Pathology of the Normal Human Being .....	179
The Fear of Being Oneself .....	181
Tiredness of Being Oneself .....	185
Conclusion .....	189
5. Happy Powerlessness, Relaxed Da-sein .....
The Point of Departure .....	194
Derrida's Critique of the Good Will to Understand .....	197
Merleau-Ponty's Metaphor of the Blind Spot, the Other Side and Experience Which is Outside of Itself .....	206
Powerlessness .....	215
Alternation of Da-sein and Affairs, Existence as a Relaxed Game .....	219
Power Field .....	224
The Self-Relationship of Powerless Potentiality-of-Being .....	227
Relaxed Thinking and its Improbable Answer to the Question of Identity .....	231
Bibliography .....	235
Index of Subjects .....	241
Index of Modern Authors .....	243