

Contents

Preface	vii
1 Introduction	1
Sociology's intellectual character	5
Conclusion	15
Select bibliography and further reading	16
2 Karl Marx	18
Biography and social background	19
Early years: the critique of Hegel's idealism	24
The critique of political economy	34
The partnership with Engels	40
The materialist conception of history	42
Issues of interpretation	54
Changes in the nature of capitalism	70
Conclusion: Marx's legacy	78
Select bibliography and further reading	83
3 Max Weber	87
The early career	92
Weber and modern capitalism	94
The organisation of society	105
Capitalism, rationality and social change	119
The methodological Weber	122
The legacy	141
Select bibliography and further reading	147
4 Émile Durkheim	150
The study of social action	153
The reality of society	158
The unity of society	167
Autonomy and constraint	177
The solidarity of society	188
Thought and society	195
The diagnosis of society	199

The aftermath	204
Select bibliography and further reading	210
5 Conclusion	212
References	221
Index	225

Index

- Aborigines, 158, 189–90, 192–4, 197–8
- action
- affectual, 105–7
 - Durkheim's view of, 153–5
 - explanation at the level of meaning, 138
 - expressive, 156–7
 - rational, 105–7
 - subjective understanding as basis of, 14, 105–7
 - symbolic character of, 157–8
 - traditional, 105–7
 - types of, 105–7
 - utilitarian picture of, 106, 155–6, 159
- Adorno, Theodore, 3, 53–4, 213
- alienation
- economic, 34, 53
 - in Hegel, 27
 - of labour, 37–40
 - of religion, 29, 32, 53
 - of working class youth, 77
- Althusser, Louis, 54, 58, 65, 76, 80, 213
- ancient Judaism, 104, 119–20
- authority, 113–16
- Becker, Howard, 208
- beliefs
- and action, 90, 190–1
 - as basis of church, 189
 - explanation of, 90, 97
- Bentham, Jeremy, 8
- Blumer, Herbert, 145
- bourgeois, -ie, 22, 42
- as dominant class in capitalism, 48–52
- Braverman, Harry, 80–1
- bureaucracy, 115–18, 133–4
- iron cage of, 53, 121–2, 214
- calculation, 96
- calling, 100
- Calvinism, 98–9, 100–5, 114, 138–9, 177–8
- capitalism, -ist
- and attitudes to work, 95–6
 - and individualism, 9, 56
 - and market value, 62–4, 67
 - and property, 8, 37–8, 40–1
 - as destroyer of tradition, 9, 40, 100
 - as predestined stage in social evolution, 59
 - as the dominance of private property, 57
 - changes in nature of, 70–8
 - collapse of, 67
 - development of, 47–8, 50–2, 59, 67–8, 95, 97–8
 - disorganised, 216
 - finance, 60, 70–1
 - hidden dynamic of, 64–7
 - in England, 22
 - in West, 94–6, 97
 - monopoly, 71–2, 78, 80–1
 - society, 61–70, 94, 119–21, 143–4
 - source of profit in, 63–4
 - spirit of, 95–105, 118
 - state, 66–7
- capitalist production, 36
- and overproduction, 67–9
 - competition in, 40, 45, 67–70
- cash nexus, 51
- caste system, 111–12, 116
- causality, 104, 167, 177
- charisma, -tic, 113–15, 122
- Christianity
- Feuerbach's critique of, 29–30
- city states, 118
- citizenship, 118
- civil society, 35
- in Hegel, 27–9, 32
- class
- as basis for collective action, 57, 74, 108–12, 136
 - as consequence of social relations of production, 47–52, 73–5
 - as relation to market, 108–9
 - conflict between capital and labour, 73–5
 - dominant, 47, 49, 57
 - interests, 33, 57
 - polarisation of, 74–5
 - struggle, 33, 74
- class consciousness
- development of, 50–1, 57, 74–5, 110
 - problem of, 75–8

- classification
 - social origins of, 196–7, 208–9, 215
- collective consciousness, 164–5, 171, 180, 201
- collective effervescence, 192–3
- collective phenomena
 - Weber's characterisation of, 136–7, 146
- collective representations, 164
- commodity, ies
 - as source of wealth, 35–4
 - fetishism of, 46, 53, 62
 - in capitalism, 62–4, 67
- comparative method, 104, 167
- Comte, Auguste, 6, 10–11, 12, 123–5, 150, 153–4
- concepts
 - abstract nature of, 128
 - conflict theory, 107, 141–3
- Confucianism, 117–18
- consciousness
 - false, 76
 - social nature of, 56, 79, 170
 - social origins of, 42, 44
- contract, 175–7
- contingency
 - in history and social affairs, 12, 15, 60, 97, 139–41
- corporatism, 72–3
- correlation, 181
- credit system, 68, 82
- crime
 - Durkheim's analysis of, 155–6, 169, 199–200, 206, 207
- Critical Theory, see Frankfurt School
- culture, -al, 4, 14, 25, 43, 44, 140, 147, 165, 167
 - mass, 77
 - studies, 77, 94, 122, 127, 212
 - tragedy of, 53
- Darwin, Charles, 82, 172
- Derrida, Jacques, 213
- Descartes, René, 7
- dialectic, -al,
 - of history, 26–7, 52–3
- division of labour
 - and forces of production, 45
 - and individual self-interest, 8
 - and interdependence, 170–1
 - and lack of coordination, 202
 - and mental labour, 46
 - anomic forms of, 200–1
 - as exploitation, 46–7
 - forced, 201–2
 - origins of, 45–6, 172
 - stages of, 47–52, 169–73, 180
- domestic labour, 4
- dominant ideology, 57
- domination
 - in modern society, 215, 217
 - types of, 113–16, 142
- Dreyfus Affair, 152
- Durkheim, Émile,
 - and crisis of industrialism, 1, 27
 - as conservative thinker, 151, 205
 - as structuralist, 154, 205–8, 219
 - attack on individualism, 157–8
 - conception of sociology, 153, 160–7, 199–204, 206
 - his early career, 150–3
 - his evolutionism, 172, 189
 - his socialism, 151, 202–4, 206
- economic determinism, 41, 89–90, 119
- economic interests
 - and ideas, 98–9
- economic thought
 - classical, 8–9
 - sociological assumptions of, 9
- education, 52
 - in capitalism, 80–1
- embourgeoisement, 80–1
- empiricism, 123–5
- Engels, Frederick
 - and deterministic view of history, 41
 - relation with Marx, 20–2, 40–2
- Enlightenment
 - individualistic presuppositions of, 5–7, 9–10, 54, 146, 160, 212–13
- ethical neutrality, 129
- ethnicity, 217
- ethnomethodology, 16, 145
- everyday life, 14
- exchange value, 36, 51
- experiment
 - in Durkheim's methods, 167, 177
- explanation
 - at the level of causality, 104
 - at the level of meaning, 138–9
- factory system, 40, 48
- family
 - in Chinese society, 118
- feminism, 4, 213
- feudal society, 32, 47–9, 59
 - patterns of marriage and kinship in, 59
- Feuerbach, Ludwig
 - critique of religion, 29–30, 31, 62, 188
- finance capitalism, 50–71
- Fordism, 214
- Foucault, Michel, 215
- Frankfurt School, 3, 53, 76–7, 146, 212

- French Revolution, 48
- Freud, Sigmund, 182
- functionalism
 - consensus, 142–3
 - Durkheim and, 2, 205–7
 - structural, 206
- Garfinkel, Harold, 145
- gender, 217
- generalisation
 - causal,
 - in history and sociology, 15, 87, 126–8, 139–40
- Germany
 - agrarian problem in, 93–4
 - liberalism in, 92
- globalisation, 217
 - of capital, 70–1, 73
- Goffman, Erving, 207–8, 209
- Gramsci, Antonio, 76–7, 212
- Habermas, Jürgen, 213
- Hegel, G.F.W.
 - his idealist philosophy, 15, 20, 24–33, 34, 37, 44
 - his philosophy of history, 24–9, 98
 - historical materialism and critique of, 32–3, 52–4
 - notion of alienation, 27, 32–4
 - political thought of, 21, 27–9, 30–4
- hegemony, 76
- hermeneutic, -s, 138–9, 145
- history, -ical
 - as class struggle, 47–52
 - as contingency, 15, 130, 140–1
 - as the fulfilment of Spirit, 24–7
 - change as dialectical process, 26–7, 60–1
 - deterministic view of, 4, 79
 - materialist conception of, 42, 59, 97
 - problems of causality in, 97, 119–20, 126–7, 138–9
 - relevance for sociology, 15
- Hobbes, Thomas, 7–8, 154
- holism, 136–7
- homo economicus, 8, 134
- Horkheimer, Max, 3, 53–4
- Hume, David, 129
- ideal type
 - in economics, 134–5
 - in Weber, 133–5
- idealism, -ist, 46, 52, 56, 123, 140
- ideas
 - and human action, 89
 - as social representations, 190–2, 195–9
 - in history, 98–100
 - ideology, 57, 212
 - ideological state apparatuses, 76–7
 - idiographic, 128–9
 - individual
 - and society, 6–11, 56, 157, 168, 173–7, 184–8
 - as autonomous agent, 7–9, 201
 - as product of society, 168, 173, 177
 - in Durkheim's sociology, 154–5, 157, 173–7
 - individualism, 7–11, 174, 178
 - excessive, 175, 182–3
 - in Weber, 135–7, 144
 - industrialism
 - and development of social thought, 8–9, 213
 - in contemporary society, 214–15
 - see also* capitalism
 - intellectual inquiry,
 - as value relative, 12, 126–9
 - internalisation,
 - of moral order, 184–8
 - interpretative sociology, 138–9, 144–5
- Junkers, 92–4
- Kant, Immanuel
 - Durkheim's reaction to, 195–6
 - influence of in Weber's thought, 123–6, 137, 141
 - view of knowledge, 123–6
- knowledge
 - and the interests of inquiry, 126–9
 - and values, 128–9
 - as point of view, 12, 124–5
 - growth of scientific, 5
 - in Kant, 123–6
- labelling theory, 207–8
- labour, 46–27
 - reserve army of, 73
 - theory of value, 36, 63–6, 69
- labour theory of value, 62–4
- language, 56, 65, 165
- law
 - in modern society, 141
 - repressive, 169–70, 173
 - restitutive, 171
- Lazarsfeld, Paul F., 204
- Lenin, Vladimir I., 70
- Lévi-Strauss, Claude, 208, 213
- Locke, John, 7
- Luther, Martin, 100–5, 114
- Lyotard, Jean, 1, 213, 215
- Malthus, Thomas, 172

- managerial revolution, 71
- materialism, -ist
 - conception of history, 42–3, 52–4
 - dialectical, 55
- material productive forces
 - as foundation of social life, 43–52, 56–61
- Mandarin China, 116–18, 120, 140
- Mauss, Marcel, 196–9
- Marcuse, Herbert, 3
- market forces, 35, 46, 53, 62–4, 67–70
- Marx, Karl
 - and Engels, 21–2, 40–2
 - appearance and reality argument, 64–6, 81–2
 - background, 19–23
 - critique of Hegel's idealism, 24–34
 - critique of Hegel's view of the state, 30–4
 - critique of political economy, 21, 23, 34–40, 82
 - early humanism, 54–5
 - epistemological break in thought of, 54, 65
 - Hegelian themes in, 55
- mass media, 77, 212
- Mead, George Herbert, 3, 145
- meta-narratives, 2, 216
- methodonstreit*, 88, 122
- methodological individualism, 135–7, 205
- mind,
 - in construction of knowledge, 124–6, 208
- mode of production, 18, 33
 - and revolution, 49–51
 - and social organisation, 43–52, 60
- monasticism, 99–100, 130
- money,
 - as symbolic form of capital, 39, 67
- monopoly capitalism, 71–2
- moral density, 173
- moral education, 151–2, 203
- motivation
 - for economic activity, 90, 95, 100–5, 178
 - for science, 141
- myth, 208–9

- nation-building, 143–4
- naturalistic fallacy, 129
- natural sciences
 - and social sciences, 11, 126–8, 137, 167, 204
 - sociology of knowledge and, 209
- new middle class, 75, 80–1
- nomothetic, 126–7
- nominalism, 10, 125, 135, 146

- overdetermination, 65–7

- ownership
 - and control, 36, 71
- Parsons, Talcott, 2, 141, 142, 154, 177, 206
- pathological
 - states of society, 199–204
- patriarchal society
 - feminist critique of, 4
- phenomenology, 145
- philosophy, 25, 28
 - as intellectual weapon, 34
- polarisation thesis, 75
- political economy
 - as ideology, 36, 46, 62, 90
 - elements of, 35–6
 - the critique of, 42, 68
- positivism, 12, 123, 150, 153–4, 204–5
- post-modernism, -ist, 4, 145–7, 212, 215–16
 - as echo of themes in classical theorists, 216–20
- Poulantzas, Nicos, 66
- power
 - and party, 112–13
 - as forms of domination, 112–16
 - as hegemony, 76
 - as result of control over forces of production, 46–52
 - elite, 72
 - in Weber, 107–16
- primitive communism, 45
- private property,
 - and productive forces, 45–6, 47–52
 - and the state, 32, 61
 - in capitalism, 8, 38, 40
- profane, 189
- proletariat
 - as revolutionary class of capitalism, 49–52, 74
 - as universal class, 53
- Protestantism,
 - and social change, 100–5, 116, 119–20, 138
- Protestant ethic,
 - and spirit of capitalism, 96–105, 177
- Prussia, 92–3
- psychology, 7, 153, 164, 167
- punishment,
 - Durkheim's view of, 155–6

- rational, -ism, 123–4
 - calculation, 96, 106, 218
 - legal domination, 114–15
- rationalisation
 - and capitalism, 96, 119–20
 - and disenchantment of the world, 120–1, 145–6, 218–19

- in West, 89, 119–21, 146–7, 215, 218–20
- rationality
 - and human freedom, 5
 - and values, 129–30, 146
 - in Hegel, 25–6
 - iron cage of, 12, 215
- Reformation Europe, 97, 100, 114, 119
- reification, 205–7
- relations of production, 42–53
- religion, -ious
 - and economic ethics, 104–45, 119
 - and economic interests, 90, 116–18, 138, 140–1
 - as alienation, 29–30, 31–3, 62
 - as ideological expression, 31
 - as symbolism and collective life, 190, 198–9
 - Durkheim's study of, 188–4
 - suffering, 91
 - see also* Protestant ethic
- revolution, 10, 23, 32, 49–51, 69
 - in Marx, 49–52, 60–1, 213
- Ricardo, David, 35–6
- rites, 192–4
- rituals, 207–8
- Romantic movement, 8
- Rousseau, Jean-Jacques, 5, 9, 19, 33
- sacred, 189
- Saussure, Ferdinand, 65, 212
- Schutz, Alfred, 145
- science
 - and rationalisation in the West, 96, 218
 - and religion, 194
 - and sociology, 10–15, 218–19
 - and value freedom, 129–32
 - as irrationally motivated, 132
- Simmel, Georg, 53
- Smith, Adam 5, 8–9, 13, 35, 46, 170
- social change
 - material sources of, 44–52
- as revolution, 49–52
- social differentiation, 170–3
- social facts
 - causes of, 167
 - coercive power of, 175, 184
 - Durkheim's analysis, 161–7
 - emergent nature of, 163–6
 - level of explanation of, 164
 - study of, 166–7
 - suicide as, 177–84
- socialisation, 184
- socialism, -ist, 14, 151–2
 - movement, 21, 93
 - parties, 121–2
- social reality
 - as sui generis, 14, 105
- social relations
 - as essentially conflictual, 38
- social stratification, see class; status
- society
 - as aggregate of individuals, 6, 154, 160
 - as base and superstructure, 51, 58–60, 65–6, 89–90
 - as collective representation, 164
 - as moral order, 158–60, 184–8, 193
 - as organic, 10–11, 14, 136, 200, 205
 - as priority over individual, 9, 42–3, 105, 154–5, 157, 173–7
 - as product of economic relationships, 38–9, 46–7
 - as totality, 65, 154, 205
 - capitalist, 61–70
 - communist, 50, 61
 - contemporary industrial, 214–15
 - diagnosis of, 199–204
 - nature of, 13–15, 144
 - unity of, 167–73
- sociologist
 - as diagnostician, 11, 87, 168, 199–204, 206
- sociology
 - and education, 153
 - and industrialism, 1, 212
 - and literary criticism, 212
 - and values, 12
 - as critique of individualism, 7–11
 - as science, 3, 10–15, 87, 126–30, 132–3
 - contemporary, 215–30
 - Durkheim's conception of, 153, 160–7
 - intellectual character of, 5–15, 122–3
 - its level of reality, 160
 - relevance to history, 15, 122, 127, 143
- solidarity
 - and suicide, 181–4
 - in Goffman, 207
 - mechanical and organic, 169–73, 174, 180–1, 198, 202–3
 - types of, 168
- space
 - and time, 195–6
- Spencer, Herbert, 153–5, 159–60, 169, 175–6
- state
 - and civil society, 27–9, 33–4
 - as economic actor, 72–73
 - as ideological, 31, 33–4, 49, 81
 - capitalist state, 66–7
 - Hegel's view of, 27–9, 49
 - origins of, 46–7

- state, cont.
 - withering away of, 61
- statistics, -ical
 - French tradition of suicide statistics, 177
 - in social research, 204
- status
 - groups, 110–12
- stratification
 - Weber's analysis of, 108–12
 - see also* class
- Strong Programme in Sociology of
 - Knowledge, 209
- structuralism, 205–7, 208–9, 213, 219
 - post-, 2–3, 209, 213
- subjective understandings, 14, 105–6, 144
- suicide
 - Durkheim's study of, 177–88
 - types of, 179–81
- suicidogenic currents, 179, 186
- surplus value, 36, 64–5, 67
 - theory of, 62–4, 69
- symbolic interactionism, 16, 145
- totemism, 189–92, 197–9
- urbanisation
 - in Britain, 23
- utilitarianism
 - Durkheim's critique of, 155–8, 160, 169, 175
 - its picture of social action, 106, 159
- value, -s
 - and politics, 129–31
 - exchange, 51, 63–4, 67–70
 - freedom, 128–32
 - labour theory of, 36, 63–6, 69
 - national, 93, 106
 - relativism in, 128
 - use, 51, 63
- verstehen*, 91, 126, 137–9
- Weber, Max
 - and comparative study of religion, 91–2, 104–5, 118–19
 - and interpretative sociology, 138–9, 144–5, 154
 - and scientific knowledge, 88, 122–7
 - and universities, 130–1
 - antipathy to single factor explanations, 90, 99, 139–41
 - as bourgeois Marx, 142
 - as materialist, 140–1
 - as nominalist, 125, 135, 146
 - his disillusionment, 146–7
 - his disdain for methodological debate, 88–9
 - his early career, 88, 92–4
 - his individualism, 135–7, 144
 - legacy, 141–7
 - on economic change, 57
 - on politics, 129–31
 - on the origins of capitalism, 94–105, 119–20
- Weber thesis, 102–5, 119–20, 219
- white collar workers, 143
- working class, 21, 57, 214–15
 - emergence of, 49–51, 74–5
 - movements, 39, 77, 81
- Young Hegelians, 20, 28–33, 39, 41, 86