

Foreword	iii
Nina Kolesnikoff
Generic Experimentation in Russian Postmodern Prose	1
Paul D. Morris
Gor'kii's Mother and the Paradigm of the Socialist Realist Novel	13
Allan Reid
Family Values: Reading Aksenov's Moscow Saga through Bulgakov's White Guard	29
Douwe Fokkema
Suicide as a Metaphor of Free Will: Traces of Dostoevsky's Kirillov in Gide, Camus, and Coetzee	41
Wojciech Skalmowski
Writers and Ideology: Poland's Prose during the Period 1956–70	53
Włodzimierz Bolecki
Polish Émigré Literature and Polish Literary History	67
Marek Haltof
Krzysztof Kieślowski: European Art Film and National Context	79
Lubomír Doležel
K. H. Mácha: A Hero of Structural Poetics	91
Johannes F. Welfing
Friedrich Nietzsche and Milan Kundera: A Polyphonous Voice	107

Peter Petro

- Martin Šimečka's The Year of the Frog:
A Postmodernist Bildungsroman 123

Roumiana Deltcheva

- European Peripherality: The Image of Bulgaria as Other 133

Oleh S. Ilnytskyj

- Cultural Indeterminacy in the Russian Empire:
Nikolai Gogol as a Ukrainian Post-Colonial Writer 153

Natalia Pylypiuk

- Vasyl' Stus, Mysticism, and the Great Narcissus 173

Wladimir Krynski

- Modernist Fallacies and Ambiguities of the Modern 211