

CONTENTS

2.1. Complexity and Relationship of Implementation of Methods of Criminalistics and Forensic Examination in Crime Investigation	7
Nadezhda Mailis
Integrated reconstruction of crime.	9
Józef Wójcikiewicz, Violetta Kwiatkowska-Wójcikiewicz
A handsome perpetrator returns: the role of an expert witness in the field of eyewitness identification.	15
Vaclav Krajník
Some discussions about correlation of definition of criminalistics and forensic science.	22
Janina Juškevičiūtė
Criminal profiling – first experience	31
Genrikas Nedveckis, Giedrius Mickus
The possibilities and practical use of the new automated dactyloscopic identification system in Lithuania.	42
Aleksandras Kovalenka, Vitas Saldžiūnas
Legal regulation and practice of application of polygraph examinations in the Republic of Lithuania	52
Michał Gramatyka, Marek Leśniak, Tadeusz Widła
The “voice polygraph” or the conventional polygraph - a confrontation attempt	70
Ireneusz Soltyszewski, Krzysztof Krassowski, Zygmunt Gidzgień
Drowning – criminalistical and forensic medicine aspects	82
2.2. Warranty of Successful Investigation of Violent Crime – Effective Application of Special Knowledge	93
Marat Arystanbekov
Algorithmization of investigation process of the mercenary- violent crimes.	95
Tatyana Volchetskaya, Ekaterina Osipova
Complex counteractions against human trafficking as prevention of violent crimes: transnational aspect	109
Valerij Shepitko
Some problems of investigation of organized murders.	126
Vidmantas Egidijus Kurapka, Snieguolė Matulienė
Problematic issues of violent crimes in Lithuania: the pre-trial investigation practice and recommendations.	138
Annika Lall
Application of special knowledge during the investigation of criminal case No. 1-05-259 ...	159
Jurgita Jurėnienė, Janina Juškevičiūtė
Practice of solving the situational issues in investigation of the blood traces formation.	180