1 Introduction	3
"Talk of Mysteries"	3
The Mystery of Human Behavior	4
Three Explanatory Views of Human Behavior	12
The Holistic Approach	14
The Scientific Method	15
What Psychologists Do	19
The Author's Biases	20

PART I Biological Bases of Behavior 23

2 The Brain	25
"On the Other Hand"	25
Your Brain	28
The Brain and Behavior	32
The Cerebral Hemispheres	37

How the Hemispheres Differ	45
Summary	49

3 Sleep, Drugs, and Altered States of Consciousness 53

"Perchance to Dream"	53
Consciousness	55
Biological Rhythms	56
Sleep Cycles	58
Dreams	65
Altered States of Consciousness	68
Drugs	71
Drugs and Mental Processes	80
Summary	82

4 Structure and Function of the Brain 87

"The Riddle of Rage"	87
The Mind-Body Problem	90
The Lobes of the Brain	94
The Mind-Body Problem: Three Theoretical Viewpoints	96
Violence: Three Theoretical Viewpoints	98

Biological Determinants of
Violence	106
Summary	110

5 General Systems Theory 115

"The System Is the Solution"	115
How to "Tick Better"	118
Scientific Theories	119
General Systems Theory	121
Systems within Systems	127
Psychology: From Structuralism to
Systems Theory	129
Evaluating General Systems
Theory	132
Summary	134

PART II Sensation and Perception 137

6 Introduction to Sensory Psychology: "Touch," Taste, and Smell 139

"How to Build a Better Robot"	139
The Senses	141
The Skin	142
The Skin Receptors	143
The Deep Receptors	147
Motion-Change Detectors	147
Adaptation and Habituation	150
Taste	151
Smell	154
Summary	159

7 Hearing and Seeing 163

"The Eyes and Ears of the World"	163
Hearing	165
The Auditory Stimulus	166
Vision	172
The Visual Stimulus	173
The Eye	175
Optical Defects	179
Visual Sensitivity	180
Color Vision	183
Color Deficiencies	184
Summary	187

8 Visual Perception and Speech Perception 191

"Great Expectations"	191
Perception	193
Visual Perception	197
Visual Depth and Distance	202
Constancies and Illusions	209

Pupil Responses	213
The Development of Perception	214
Auditory Communication	217
Summary	220

9 Cognition 225

"Cogito, Ergo Sum"	225
Cognition	227
Attention	229
Input Screening	232
Thresholds	234
Concepts and Categories	240
Problem Solving	243
Artificial Intelligence	246
Channel Capacity	250
Sensory Isolation	250
Summary	254

PART III Motivation 257

10 Introduction to Motivation 259

"By Bread Alone"	259
Motivation: Fact and Theory	263
Drive Theory	268
Arousal Theory	270
Obesity: A Holistic Approach	272
The Biology of Hunger	272
Intra-Psychic Influences on
Obesity	278
Social/Behavioral Influences on
Obesity	279
Eating Disorders	281
How to Gain or Lose Weight	284
The Concept of Choice	286
Summary	287

11 Sexual Motivation 291

"The Mating Game"	291
Sexual Motivation	293
The Biology of Sex	296
Intra-Psychic Aspects of Sexual
Motivation	300
Social/Behavioral Influences on Sexual
Motivation	303
The Pleasure Centers	306
Sex is Multi-Determined	308
Summary	309

12 Emotion, Stress, and Coping 313

"The Stress of Life"	313
Emotions	315
The Biology of Emotions	317

Intra-Psychic Aspects of Emotionality	322
Social/Behavioral Influences on Emotion	326
Coping with Stress	331
Emotion: A Holistic Approach	333
Summary	334

PART IV Learning and Memory 339

13 Conditioning and Desensitization 341
“The Leningrad Connection”	341
The Innate Reflex	344
Pavlov’s Conditioning Studies	345
Conditioned Emotional Responses	350
Counter-Conditioning	353
Summary	357
14 Operant Conditioning and Cognitive Skills 363
“That’ll Learn You”	363
Learning Theories	367
Cognitive Theories of Learning	369
Operant Conditioning	371
Analysis of Skinner’s System	375
Operant Versus Respondent Conditioning	377
Biofeedback	379
Skinner’s Approach: An Evaluation	380
Alcoholism: Disease or Learned Behavior	382
Summary	386
15 Memory 389
“Where Is Yesterday?”	389
Memory	392
Memory Systems	393
Item Storage and Retrieval	399
Forgetting	401
Memory Disorders	404
The Search for the Engram	406
The Biochemistry of Memory	407
Summary	413
16 Hypnosis, Pain, and Placebos 417
“Mesmer’s Magic Wand”	417
Mind over Matter	420
Anton Mesmer and the Discovery of Hypnosis	423
Hypnosis	425

Pain	429
Summary	434

PART V Maturation and Development 437

17 Infancy and Early Childhood: Physical and Emotional Development 439
“Where Sex Leaves Off”	439
Human Growth and Development	442
Developmental Issues	443
Genetic Development	445
The Beginnings of Life	448
What Newborn Infants Can and Can’t Do	452
Emotional Development	456
Love	456
Hormonal Influences on Maternal Behavior	458
Intra-Psychic Aspects of Attachment	458
Social/Behavioral Aspects of Emotional Development	464
Paternal Love	465
Summary	470
18 Cognitive Development: Early Childhood and Adolescence 475
“Think About It”	475
Cognitive Development	477
Language Development	478
Concept Formation and Problem Solving	484
Jean Piaget	489
Piaget’s Four Developmental Stages	493
Play	499
Summary	501

PART VI Personality 505

19 Personality Theories: Psychoanalysis, Humanism, and Social Learning Theory 507
“The Span of Life”	507
Personality Theory	509
Sigmund Freud	512
Carl Jung	521
Alfred Adler	523
Erik H. Erikson	524
Humanistic Theories of Personality	529

Henry A. Murray	531
Social Learning Theory	532
Recent Trends in Personality Theory	535
Maturity and Old Age	535
Summary	538

20 Individual Differences: Measurement and Meaning 543

"Measure for Measure"	543
Static Personality Theory	545
Trait Theory	548
Measuring Individual Differences	551
Objective versus Subjective Tests	561
Summary	565

21 Abnormal Psychology 569

"I'm Crazy—You're Crazy"	569
Warning: Controversial Material!	572
What Is Normal?	572
DSM-III	579
Mental Disorders	580
Personality Disorders	589
DSM-III: An Evaluation	589
Summary	595

22 Psychotherapy 599

"The Odds in Favor"	599
Turning Knowledge into Power	602
Primitive Approaches to Mental Illness	602
Four Issues Concerning Psychotherapy	603
Biological Therapies	603
Intra-Psychic Therapy	608
Social/Behavioral Therapy	616
Group Therapy	616
Therapy and the Whole Individual	623
The Future of Psychotherapy	624
Summary	625

PART VII Social Psychology 629

23 Person Perception, Attribution, and Social Roles 631

"The Best of Intentions"	631
Social Psychology	634

Person Perception	637
The Attribution Process	646
Social Roles	649
Roles as "Behavioral Intentions"	652
