

Contents

Acknowledgments	vii
Preface	viii
1 After colonialism	1
• The colonial aftermath • Postcolonial re-membering
• Gandhi and Fanon: the slave's recovery
2 Thinking otherwise: a brief intellectual history	23
• Marxism, poststructuralism and the problem of humanism • What is Enlightenment? • Descartes' error • Nietzsche's genealogy
3 Postcolonialism and the new humanities	42
• Provincialising Europe • Power, knowledge and the humanities • Oppositional criticism and the new humanities • The world and the book
• The postcolonial intellectual
4 Edward Said and his critics	64
• Enter Orientalism • The Said phenomenon
• Rethinking colonial discourse
5 Postcolonialism and feminism	81
• Imperialist feminisms: woman (in)difference
• Gendered subalterns: the (Other) woman in the attic
• Conflicting loyalties: brothers v. sisters
• Between men: rethinking the colonial encounter
6 Imagining community: the question of nationalism	102
• Good and bad nationalisms • Midnight's children:

POSTCOLONIAL THEORY

	the politics of nationhood • A derivative discourse?
7	One world: the vision of postnationalism • Globalisation, hybridity, diaspora • Mutual transformations • Postnational utopias: toward an ethics of hybridity	122
8	Postcolonial literatures • Textual politics • Postcolonial texts, anti-colonial politics	141
9	The limits of postcolonial theory • The meta-narrative of colonialism • The end of colonialism	167
	Bibliography	177
	Index	189

Index

- Ackroyd, A., 93
 Adam, I., 169, 172
 Adorno, T., 37, 40, 109
 Afghanistan, 110
 Africa, x, 3, 32, 56, 102, 103,
   105, 108, 110, 112–14 passim,
   118, 121, 123, 126, 131, 134,
   135, 146–7, 150–1, 169, 170,
   171
 Ahmad, A., 24, 56–8, 60, 63, 67,
   69–70, 164, 168
 Algeria, 93–4, 99, 102, 126, 130,
   138
   Fanon, 9, 17–22, 67, 72, 93–4,
   99, 111–13, 120–5 passim,
   130, 132, 137–9, 147
 alterity, ix, 27, 84, 128, 136, 163, 175
   and imperial textuality, 143, 144
   and nativism, 108–10
   Cartesianism and repression of cultural alterity, 40–1
   civilisation difference, 20
   excluded by Marxism, 24–5, 73
   myth of pure origins, 37–9, 130
   Otherness
     and identity, 54
     Cartesianism and omitted
       Other, 39–40
     colonised as Other, 15, 31–4, 47–8, 52
     essentialised Other, 76
     master–slave relationship,
       16–17, 20–1, 112
     of colonised black man, 99
     poststructural views, 39–41
 poststructuralism, ix, 14–16,
   26–7, 31–2, 36–41, 72–3, 83
 v. consensus, 27–8
   see also cultural essentialism;
     cultural nationalism;
     third-world woman
 amnesia see postcolonial
   remembering
 Anderson, B., 103–4, 106,
   113–16, 151–2
 anti-colonial nationalism, 149
   and anti-colonial textuality, 151–3
   and cultural nationalism, 20, 78, 96, 98, 102–3, 106–7,

- 108, 118, 123, 129, 130, 135, 138
- and feminism, 82-3, 93-8
- and nativism, 108-10
- diverse forms, 168-9, 170
- masculinities, 100-1
- politics of nationhood, 110-13
- problem of derivativeness, 113-21, 138
- copy of oppressing system, 115-16
- ideology of modernity, 118-19
- imperialist/nationalist ideology, 117-18
- nationalism taught by oppressor, 114-15
- transfer of State machinery, 119-21
- resistance, 78, 81-2, 88
- Fanon, 17-22, 93-4, 99, 111-13, 120-1, 123-4, 130, 137-9
- Gandhi, 17-22, 95-6, 100-1, 112
- role in postcolonial theory, 112-13
- Said's critiques, 81-2, 108-10
- solidarities, 111, 135
- transitional phase, 122
- Western ambivalence to new nationalisms, 106-10 passim
- will-to-difference, 108, 113, 118
- see also* Western nationalism
- anti-colonial textuality, 142
- and colonial vocabulary
- abrogation and
- appropriation, 134-5, 147-8, 150-1, 153
- Caliban paradigm, 148-9
- mimicry, 149-51
- and nationalism, 151-3
- colonial encounter as textual contest, 141-2, 154-6
- critical response of colonised to colonial literature, 155-6
- see also* colonial textuality
- Antony, M., 161
- Appiah, K. A., 54
- Arnold, M., 50-2
- Ashcroft, W., 82-3, 136, 144-8, 152, 161-3, 168, 170, 175-6
- Asia, 1-3, 56, 72, 102, 103, 105, 108, 110, 112, 170
- Aurobindo, S., 155-6
- Austen, J., 134
- Australia, 134, 136, 168-70
- Austria, 115
- Bacon, F., 28, 37
- Bakshi, P. K., 79
- Bangladesh, 169
- Barker, F., 65
- Barr, P., 91-3
- Bauman, Z., 39, 40
- Benjamin, W., 106
- Bernauer, J., 27
- Bhabha, H., 9, 10, 12, 21, 72, 73, 78, 112, 123, 130-2, 134-5, 149-50, 153-4, 156-7, 163-4
- Blake, W., 161
- Bloom, H., 48-9, 149
- Boehmer, E., 143, 148, 152, 154, 158-9
- Bove, P., 45
- Bowie, M., 10
- Brennan, T., 66, 162-3
- Brewer, A., 24, 115
- Bronte, Charlotte, 90-1
- Brucioli, 49
- Bruni, L., 46, 48, 49
- Burke, E., 158
- Butler, 108
- Cabral, 112
- Campana, A., 45
- Campbell, G., 156
- Canada, 136, 168
- Cannadine, D., 116
- Cantimori, D., 49, 50
- Carpenter, E., 79, 101, 154
- Cartesianism, 25-7, 30-1, 36-41 passim, 72
- and Enlightenment, 34, 36

- association of knowledge and power, 36-7, 39-40
- Cogito*, 9, 34-6, 38, 39
- mathematical method and unity of knowledge, 36, 41
- poststructuralist critiques, 26-7, 36-41 passim, 72
- rational consensus, 27-8
- self-defining, all-knowing, formally empowered subject of consciousness, 34-6, 37
- theory of subjectivity and knowledge, 28, 29, 35-6
- Cesaire, A., 137-8
- Chabran, A., 60
- Chakrabarty, D., 26, 28, 44-5, 54, 74, 171, 172
- Chambers, I., 61
- Chatterjee, P., 65-6, 78, 94, 96, 114, 116, 118-19, 149, 169
- Chicana/o studies, 60
- China, x, 87, 171
- Chow, R., 126-8, 132
- Cicero, 46
- Clifford, J., 76, 132-3
- Cloots, 116-17
- Cohn, B., 118, 133
- Colebrooke, H. T., 76
- colonial aftermath, 166
  - and will-to-forget, 4, 7-8, 10
  - doubleness, 17-18
  - fear of failure, 5
  - moment of arrival, 5-6, 110
  - need for self-invention, 6-7
  - problem of derivativeness, 113-21, 138
  - Said's vision, 109
  - troubled relation to past, 5, 6-7
- colonial civilising mission see colonial pedagogy
- colonial encounter
  - cultural transformations, 94, 130
  - diaspora, 129-32
  - double representation of power, 14-16
  - hybridity, 129-40 passim
  - master-slave relationship, 16-17, 20-1, 139
  - psychological resistance, 17-22, 111-12
  - mutual transformations, 4, 11, 129-35, 140
  - anti-colonial solidarities, 135
  - cross-communication, 126, 130-1, 137-8
  - figure of colonised native, 134-5
  - loss of colonial identity, 133-4, 137-8
  - mutation in consciousness of colonised, 130
  - of anti-colonial identities, 130
  - parallel contamination, 138-9
  - oppositional view, 11-12, 81-2, 102, 112, 124, 171-3
  - as cooperative venture, 124-5
  - as textual contest, 141-2, 154-6
  - competing masculinities, 98-101
  - postcolonial therapeutic recovery of past, 4-11 passim, 14, 20
  - and complicity of colonised, 4-5, 10-11, 14, 20, 173
  - presence of desire, 4, 11-12, 20-2
  - postnational' reading, 124-5, 129-35, 140
- colonial masculinities, 92, 98-101
  - critiques, 100-1
  - cult of masculinity, 99-100
- colonial pedagogy, 13, 18
  - civilising mission, 17, 19, 32-4, 40-1, 72, 83, 93, 95, 116, 123, 133-4, 144-6, 169, 171
  - resistance, 17-22
- coloniser as educator, 32-4
- English a privileged language, 147
- English literature as textual standard, 144
- English studies, 144-7

- and civilising mission, 144–6
- and colonised subjectivities, 145–6, 155
- and promotion of Englishness, 145
- as check on threat of insubordination, 144–5
- selective and critical response of colonised, 154–6
- formative lessons of nationalism, 114–15
- influence of Enlightenment, 31–3, 40–1
- Macaulay's 1835 minute, 30, 32–3, 44, 144
- role of memsahibs, 93
- see also* colonial textuality; Renaissance humanism
- colonial textuality, 148
- and consolidation of imperial authority, 91, 143–4
- and exalted cultural self-image, 143–4
- as controlling mechanism, 142–3, 145
- as inter-textual network, 143
- canonicity of English literature, 144
- colonial encounter as textual contest, 141–2, 154–6
- selectivity of colonised readers, 154–6
- travel narratives, 125–6, 134
- utopian and other alternatives, 154–5
- Victorian novel, 90–1, 134, 143–4
- see also* anti-colonial textuality; colonial pedagogy
- colonialism, 16, 113–21
- see also* colonial encounter; colonial pedagogy; colonial textuality; Western nationalism
- Conrad, J., 118, 165
- Cuba, 70
- cultural essentialism, 151, 163
- and national consciousness, 123–4
- essentialised Other, 76
- ethnic/racial identity, 122
- identitarian politics
- Englishness, 126
- essential black identity, 128–9, 135, 137–8
- ethnicity as marginal, 126
- neo-Orientalism and endangered authenticities, 126–7
- Othering and exoticisation of ethnicity, 126
- postcolonial opportunism, 127–8
- myth of pure origin, 37–9, 130
- settler cultures, 136
- v. enlightened postnationalism, 124, 136
- v. international solidarities, 123
- v. multicultural syncretism, 151–2
- cultural materialism, 141–2, 159
- cultural nationalism, 20, 78, 96, 98, 102–3, 106–7, 108, 118, 123, 129, 130, 135, 138
- see also* anti-colonial nationalism
- cultural studies, 42, 52–3
- Curtius, E., 46
- Curzon administration, 133
- Darbar, M., 133
- Deane, S., 109–10, 116
- Deleuze, G., 43, 53, 84
- Derrida, J., 25, 26, 27, 37–40 passim, 72–3, 159
- Descartes, R., 9, 28, 34, 35–41 passim
- Dharampal, 120
- diaspora, 123–32 passim
- as mobility of thought and consciousness, 131, 132
- disruption of native/domestic space, 132
- idiom of exile, 132, 164–5

- loss of Western/colonial identity, 133–4 migrant novel, 152, 153, 162–3, 164
 migration of slave labour v. postcolonial immigration, 134
 unhomeliness, 12–13, 132
 Dickens, C., 134
 Diderot, D., 29, 30, 133
 difference see alterity
 Diop, A., 134
 Dirlik, A., 56–8, 60, 63
 Disraeli, B., 127
 Docherty, T., 173–4
 During, S., 158, 163, 166, 173–5
 Eagleton, T., 71, 159–60
 education see colonial pedagogy
Encyclopaedia Britannica, 37
 Engels, F., 51
 English language, 13, 176
   anti-colonial abrogation and appropriation, 134–5, 147–51, 153
   English a privileged language, 147
   see also anti-colonial textuality
 English studies
   as academic discipline, 144–5
   canonicity of English literature, 144
   colonial functions
     check on threat of insubordination, 144–5
     civilising mission, 144–6
     promotion of Englishness, 145
   dominance challenged by postcolonial pedagogy, 146–7
   postcolonial English Departments, 146
   selective and critical response of colonised, 155–6
 Enlightenment humanism, 114, 116, 119, 133, 149
   and colonial civilising mission, 32–3, 40–1
   and revisionary accounts of colonialism, 33
   human-ness as way of knowing, 29, 42
   Kant's moral agent, 139–40
   Kant's rational adult, 30–4, 41 and non-adult as non-human, 32
   defence of childhood, 33–4
   exclusive concept of humanity, 31–2
   Foucauldian critique, 31–2
   inferiority of childish, colonised Other, 32, 169
   universalism, 30–4 passim, 36
 Nietzschean anti-humanism, 70
   myth of progress, 37
   myth of pure origins, 37–9, 130
 poststructuralist critique, 25–7, 72
 theory of subjectivity and knowledge, 28, 29
   see also Cartesianism
 epistemology see knowledge
 Essex Symposia series, 65–6
 existentialism, 17–18, 20, 27, 34
 Fanon, F., 9, 17–22, 67, 72, 93–4, 99, 111–13, 120–1, 122, 123–4, 125, 130, 132, 137–9, 147
 Featherstone, M., 61
 feminism, 81–101
   and poststructuralism, 83
   conflicting loyalties, 93–8
   female imperialist
     and gendered subaltern, 88–93 passim
     as individual subject, 91–3
   female individualism, 90–1
   feminist/women's studies, 42–4 passim
   imperialist feminisms, 82–8 relation to postcolonialism, 82–5, 88–9, 91, 93, 94, 101, 102, 168

- socialist v. psychoanalytic feminism, 57
- v. anti-colonial nationalism, 82-3, 93-8
- see also third-world woman
- Forster, E. M., 79, 97, 154
- Foucault, M., 14-15, 25-7, 30-2, 35-40, 43, 48, 52-3, 55, 56, 59, 62-3, 71-7 passim
- Fox, R., 78
- France, 69, 73, 116-17, 126
- Freud, S., 10, 57, 149
- Frow, J., 61
- Galileo, 28
- Gandhi, M. K., x, 17-22, 37, 67, 78, 95, 96, 100, 101, 112, 121, 122, 137, 147, 150, 173
- Gandhi, R., 165
- Garin, E., 46, 47, 49
- Gay, P., 29, 33, 37
- Gellner, E., 104-6, 120
- Gendzier, I., 16-17
- German idealism, 50, 52
- Germany, 69, 116
- Gilroy, P., 131, 135
- globalisation of capital, 24, 57, 71-3, 125
- globalisation of cultures
  - and possibility of consensus, 27-8
  - cultural identity v. international solidarities, 123
  - ethical agent as hybrid entity, 140
  - imperialist global view, 126
  - role of national consciousness, 123-4
  - Said's view, 81-2
  - utopian postnational ethic, 109, 124-5, 136-40, 174-5
  - rationale
    - fluid global circuitry, 125-6
    - post-national solidarities, 128-9
    - suspicion of identitarian politics, 82, 126-8
- Gordimer, N., 157, 161
- Gramsci, A., 1, 55
- Greene, C., 168
- Griffiths, G., 170
- Guattari, F., 43, 53, 84
- Guha, R., 1, 51, 111, 120, 172-3
- Gunew, S., 74-5
- Habermas, J., 27, 53, 62
- Hall, S., 52-3, 124, 126, 128-9, 130, 131, 135
- Halliburton, D., 54
- Harris, W., 161
- Hegel, G. W. F., 20, 105, 106, 108, 170-1
  - master-slave paradigm, 16, 17
- Heidegger, M., 37, 39, 48, 53-4
- Herder, 133
- history
  - grand narratives, 26, 71, 72
  - Hegelian account, 16, 104-6, 108, 170-1
  - postcolonial debate, 170-6
- passim*
- Hobsbawm, E., 24, 107-8
- Holst Petersen, K., 93
- Homer, 46, 76
- Horkheimer, M., 37, 40
- humanism
  - and postcolonialism, 28, 168
  - assumed superiority of Western man, 29-30
  - assumption of universal, rational human nature, 27-30
- passim*
- literary v. scientific, 29-30, 42
- term, 27, 45
- see also Enlightenment
  - humanism; Renaissance
  - humanism
- humanities
  - canonical v. subjugated knowledge systems, 42-5
- passim*, 53-4
- exclusion of non-Western thought, 44
- power, knowledge and the

- humanities, 43, 45–52, 53, 54, 55
- State as proper end of knowledge, 49, 50
- see also* English studies; new humanities; Renaissance humanism
- hybridity, ix
  - analytical limitations, 136
  - colonial encounter, 130–1, 135–6, 138–9
  - ethical agent, 139–40
  - textuality, 149–54 passim, 156, 160–5 passim
  - utopian postnational ethics of hybridity, 82, 124, 125–9 passim, 136–40, 174–5
- idealism, 50, 52
- imperialism see under Western nationalism
- India, x, 17–22, 26, 30, 32–3, 37, 44, 65, 67, 71–3, 78, 91–3, 95–101 passim, 108–9, 111–14 passim, 118–22 passim, 126, 127, 133, 136–7, 144–7 passim, 150–1, 153–8 passim, 163–6 passim, 170, 171, 173
- Indonesia, 102
- Ireland, 102, 109
- Islamic World, 66, 109
- Jameson, F., 6, 24, 25, 27, 57, 115, 152
- Jones, W., 76, 79–80
- Kant, I., 30–1, 33–4, 36, 41, 116, 139–40
- Kaplan, C., 57
- Khan, C., 168
- Khureshi, H., 127
- Kiernan, V. G., 32
- Kipling, R., 92, 127
- knowledge
  - knowing differently, 41
  - knowing investigator v. unknowing subject, 2, 86–9, 94–5
- poststructuralist critique of link with power, x, 15–16, 43, 64
- problems of representation, 2, 44, 86–90, 94–5, 111, 128
- subjugated knowledges, 15–16, 42–5, 52
  - and Lichtung, 53–4
- see also* colonial pedagogy; colonial textuality; humanism; humanities; Orientalism (Said); postcolonial intellectual
- Kristeva, J., 86–7, 89, 117
- Lacan, J., 9–10
- Lawrence, H., 92
- Lawson, A., 142
- Levinas, 41
- Lloyd, D., 18, 50, 103, 105–6, 107–8, 110, 119–20
- Locke, J., 28
- Lyotard, J., 7–8, 28, 33–4, 37, 39, 40, 41, 71, 174, 176
- Macaulay, T. B., 29–30, 32–3, 34, 44, 99, 144
- McClintock, A., 98, 174
- Mahon, M., 27
- Marangoly George, R., 91
- marginality, ix
  - marginality studies, 55–6, 59, 65
  - postcolonial concern, 55–6, 82–4
- Marx, K., 51, 57, 71–3, 170
- Marxism, 51, 55
  - critique of colonialism, 23–4, 114, 115
  - events of 1968, 69
  - globalisation of capital, 24, 57, 71–3, 125
  - Marx on British rule in India, 33, 71–2
  - Marxist-humanism, 27–8
  - political basis of postcolonial theory, ix, 167

- poststructuralist critiques, 24–8
  - passim*, 69–74 passim, 170
- principle of solidarity, 27–8
- Said's critique, 64, 69–74
- social democracy, 69–70
- socialist feminism, 57
- utilitarianism, 61–2
- master–slave relationship, 16–22
  - passim*, 111–12, 139
- Maurras, 116–17
- Mayo, K., 95–8
- Mboya, T., 112
- Mehta, V., 100
- Memmi, A., 6–7, 11–12
- memsahibs, 91–3, 96–8 passim
- migrancy see diaspora;
  - postcolonial intellectual;
  - postcolonial textuality
- Milton, John, 156
- mimicry, 149–51, 153–4
- Montesquieu, C., 116
- moral philosophy
  - critique of Kant's concept of moral agent, 139–40
  - hybrid ethical agent, 140
  - postnational utopian ethic, 138–9, 174–5
- Mukherjee, B., 153
- Nairn, T., 106–7, 110
- Nandy, A., 13, 15–17, 19, 21, 32, 100–1, 125, 137–8, 169, 173
- Narayan, J., 119
- national consciousness, 113, 123–4
- nationalism see anti-colonial
  - nationalism; Western nationalism
- Nehru, J., 6
- New Criticism, 160
- New Critics, 160
- new humanities, 42–63, 175
  - concerns
    - contiguity between knowledge and power, 43, 52, 55
    - dominant knowledge systems, 42–5, 70
    - recovery of marginalised knowledges, 42–5, 52–4
    - feminist/women's studies, 42–4 passim
    - role of oppositional criticism, 52–5
      - and Heidegger's Lichtung, 53–4
    - South Asian studies, 1–2
      - see also* postcolonial studies
- Newton, I., 28
- Ngugi wa Thiong'o, 112, 146–7, 150–1
- Nietzsche, F., 37–41, 70, 109
- Norris, C., 38, 159
- Nussbaum, M., 140
- Okri, B., 153
- Ondaatje, M., 153
- Orientalism, 44, 84, 88, 142–4, 154, 163, 165
- Orientalism* (Said), 25, 33, 64–82, 88, 142–3
  - and Marxism, 64, 69–74
  - and poststructuralism, 64, 69–74 passim
  - as subjunctive text, 68–70
  - criticised, 66–7, 69–70
  - revolutionary impact, 25, 64–5
  - themes
    - colonial discourse analysis, 64–5, 67–8, 74, 77–80
    - colonial knowledge and power, 64, 67, 70–6 passim
    - European and American imperialism, 65
    - Orientalism
      - and Western thinking, 67–8
      - meanings, 76
- Otherness see alterity
- Pagden, A., 133–4
- Pakistan, 164
- Palestine, 66, 71
- Parry, B., 11, 14, 18, 112–13, 122
- Pateman, C., 169
- Pathak, Z., 65
- pedagogy see colonial pedagogy;

- humanities; Renaissance humanism
- Petrarch, 29, 47–8, 51
- Porter, D., 79
- postcolonial intellectual
  - academic activism, 54–5
  - discourse of minor-ness and alterity, 128
  - figure of the exile, 132
  - leftist anti-intellectualism, 61–2
  - privileged, 57–8
  - problem of positionality, 58–9
  - role of third-world intellectuals, 59–60
  - Said's view of political obligations, 64, 132
  - theorising as inward, 57–8
  - theorising v. social realities, 55–7, 58–9
  - thought v. experience, 60–3
- postcolonial literary theory, 141–66 passim
  - and cultural materialism, 141–2, 159
  - and deconstruction, 159–60, 163
  - and hybridity, 161–3, 165–6
  - and New Criticism, 160
  - and Romanticism, 160–2, 165–6
  - new slogan of mimicry, 150
  - paradox of postcolonial canon, 165–6
  - re-reading of anti-colonial counter-textuality, 154–7
  - see also* anti-colonial textuality; colonial textuality; postcolonial textuality
- postcolonial remembering, 9–17, 140, 176
- postcolonial studies, 25, 58, 65
  - and new humanities, 42, 44–5
  - and subaltern studies, 1–3, 26, 172–3
- constituency, ix–x
- internal divisions, 2–3
- meta-issues, 167–76
  - debate on history, 170–6
- passim*
- diverse colonialisms, 168–9, 172
- diverse subjectivities, 169–70
- postcolonial English Departments, 146
- postcolonialism as theory, ix
  - procedure of analysis-theory, 8–10 passim
  - theoretical remembering, 10–11, 14
  - therapeutic retrieval of
    - colonial past, 4–5, 7, 8–9
    - of complicity in colonial condition, 10–11, 14, 20
    - of presence of desire, 11–12, 20–2
    - of resistance, 17–22
    - of subordination, 10
- postcoloniality as condition
  - as condition troubled by historical amnesia, 4, 6–7, 140
  - troubled relation with past, 6–7, 10–14 passim
- terminology, 3–4, 129–30, 171–2, 174–6
- see also* feminism; Marxism; Orientalism (Said); postcolonial literary theory; postnationalism; poststructuralism
- postcolonial textuality, 154–66
  - and nation-ness, 151–2, 163–4
  - and subjectivity, 164–5
- migrant novel
  - and metropolitan centre, 153, 160–1
  - as third world representative, 162–3
  - hybridity, 152, 153
  - politics of migrancy, 164
- new bourgeois novel, 163–4
- Rushdie, 153–4, 157–8, 163–6
- textual politics, 142, 156–9
- postnationalism, 122–40
  - contiguity with postcolonialism colonial experience as

- cooperative venture,
123–5, 129–36, 138–9
- postnational utopias, 82, 109,
125–9 passim, 136–40,
174–5
- ethics of hybridity, 137–8
- enlightened postnationalism,
124, 136
- poststructuralism, 25, 131
- analysis of power, 14–16
- antagonistic relationship with
Marxism, 24–8, 74, 170
- and Said's critique, 69–74
passim
- critique of Western epistemology, ix, 25–7, 30–1,
36–41 passim, 72
- deconstruction, 159–60
- power/knowledge link, 43, 48,
54–6, 64, 72–4
- theoretical basis of postcolonialism viii–ix, 25–7,
167
- theorisation of cultural alterity,
ix, 14–16, 26, 31–2, 36–41,
72–3, 83
- power, 37
- coercive v. seductive, 14
- double representation, 14–16
- master–slave relationship, 16–22
passim, 111–12, 139
- see also knowledge; Western
nationalism
- Prakash, G., 15, 18, 134
- Pratt, M. L., 125–6, 131, 133, 134–5
- psychoanalysis, 8–10 passim, 78, 149
- psychoanalytic feminism, 57
- Purkayasta, S., 65
- Ranger, T., 118
- Rao, R., 150–1
- rationalism see Cartesianism;
Enlightenment humanism
- Rawls, J., 139–40
- Reaganism, 69
- religion, 104
- Renaissance humanism
and German idealism, 50, 52
- Arnold's totalitarian humanism,
50–2 passim
- claims to disinterestedness, 45,
48, 50–1
- concern with pedagogy, 29, 45
- human-ness as content of
knowledge, 29, 42
- humanism v. scholasticism, 47
- origins, 42, 45–7, 49
- production of whole or representative human beings,
46, 48, 50
- and capacity to command,
49–50
- constraints on human-ness,
47–8
- Homo humanus* v. Homo
barbarus, 47–8
- relation with the State, 50–1
- collusion, 51–2, 55
- flourishes where State under threat, 51–2
- moulding of ideal citizen
subjects, 49
- State as proper end of
knowledge, 49, 50
- role beyond the academy
extension of education, 46
- political motivations, 48, 49, 50
- studia humanitatis* or liberal arts, 45–52
- exclusions of minor curricula
and social categories, 46–7, 51
- umanista*
academic monopoly, 45
- forming and shaping role, 46,
48, 49
- Rhodes, C., 169
- Romanticism, 155, 160–2 passim,
165–6
- Rousseau, J., 169

- Rushdie, S., 5-6, 8-9, 58, 153-4, 157-8, 163-6
- Russell, B., 35
- Russia, 116
- Said, E., 7, 52, 86, 102, 108-9,
118, 122, 124, 126, 129, 132,
134, 143-4, 153, 156
see also Orientalism (Said)
- Sanchez, R., 60
- Sandel, M., 139-40
- Sartre, J. P., 17, 18, 20, 34
- Scandinavia, 69
- Schiller, J., 50
- Seneca, L. A., 51
- Sengupta, S., 65
- Seth, V., 12-14, 22
- settler colonies, 3, 136, 168-70
- Shakespeare, W., 146, 148
- Sharpe, J., 91, 98-9
- Shelley, P. B., 155
- Sheridan, S., 43
- social democracy, 69-70
- socialist feminism, 57
- South Asian studies, 1-2
- Soyinka, W., 121
- Spanos, W. V., 45
- Spear, P., 114-15
- Spivak, G., 1-3, 25, 26-7, 34,
55-6, 59, 65-6, 74, 84, 86-7,
88, 90-1, 93-4, 126-7
- Sprinker, M., 71
- Steele, F., 93
- stereotyping, 77-9, 99-100
- Strachey, L., 101
- subaltern studies, 172-3
- Subaltern Studies group, 1-3, 26, 172-3
- subalternity, 1-3, 26, 86-93
passim, 111, 128
- Suleri, S., 10, 83-4, 164-5
- Tagore, R., 95, 121
- Talpade Mohanty, C., 85-6, 88,
89, 168
- Taylor, C., 16, 29
- textuality
- books and their
    circumstantiality, 67-8
- indicative v. subjunctive texts,
    67-8
- linked to power, 77, 141-2
see also anti-colonial textuality;
    colonial textuality;
    postcolonial textuality
- Thatcherism, 69, 126
- third-world woman
- Algerian women, 93-4
- and postcolonial-feminist merger, 82-5, 88-9, 91, 93, 94, 101
- conflicting feminist loyalties,
        93-8
- female v. cultural emancipation, 93
- feminism v. anti-colonial
        nationalism, 96
- individualistic norm v. female imperialism, 90-3, 96-8
        passim
- double colonisation, 83, 86
- Indian woman, 95-7
- native woman question, 93-5, 97
- v. anti-colonial nationalism, 93-7
- Western feminist articulation,
    82-8
- absence of gendered
        subaltern, 86-93 passim
- colonialist category, 85-6, 89
- essentialised, 85, 88, 89
- iconic status, 83, 88
- marginalised, 83-4
- object of Western knowledge,
        86-7, 88-9
- Othered, 85-6, 88
- representation, 94-5
- self-consolidating project, 85-6
- Westernisation, 95-7
- Tiffin, C., 142, 169-70, 172
- Todorov, T., 116-17
- travel, 125-6, 132-4
- Trinh, T., 84-8 passim, 128
- Trivedi, H., 125
- Tucker, J., 30

- United States, 66, 129, 175
- utilitarianism, 61-2
- utopianism, 154-5
  - postnational utopias, 125, 136-40, 174-5
- Vietnam, 114
- Virgil, 46
- Viswanathan, G., 30, 33, 144-6, 155
- Walcott, D., 161
- Warren, B., 24
- Weber, M., 36, 37
- West, C., 59
- West Indies, 3
- Western nationalism
  - as genre, 119-20
  - as progressive
    - and Enlightenment rationalist secularism, 104-5, 107
    - and shift to industrial economies, 104
    - canonical form of organisation and identity, 105
    - Hegelian account, 104-6, 108, 170-1
    - homogenous, 104-5, 114
    - ideology of modernity, 104-10 passim, 114, 118-19
    - myth of progress, 37
  - as regressive
    - atavistic underpinnings, 106-7
- European imperialism, 115-18
  - and nationalism, 115-18
  - and nationalism/cosmopolitanism debate, 116-17
  - global perspective, 126
- Marxist view, 114, 115
- militaristic v. civilisational colonialism, 15
- modularity, 113
- universalisable interests, 109-10, 116-17
- hostility to new nationalisms, 103-4
  - anti-modern, 106-10 passim
  - as projection of own atavism, 107
  - obstacle to internationalism, 103-4, 109
  - provincial, 109-10
- masculinity of empire, 98-101
- nationalism a European invention, 113-14
- role of colonial discourse
  - consolidation of imperial authority, 91, 143-4
  - controlling mechanism, 142-3, 145
  - exalted cultural self-image, 143-4
- see also* anti-colonial nationalism
- Western philosophy see
  - Cartesianism; Enlightenment humanism
- White, J., 157-8, 161
- Wieland, C. M., 33
- Wilde, O., 100-1
- Wilkins, C., 76
- Williams, R., 62, 68-70
- Woolf, V., 101
- Yeats, W. B., 109-10
- Young, R., 170
- Zionism, 66