

Contents

Foreword	ix
Václav Havel
Acknowledgments	xi
List of Major Parties and Coalitions	xiii
Maps	xv
The Past as Prologue	1
Michael Kraus and Allison Stanger
1 Contending Views of Czechoslovakia's Demise	7
Michael Kraus and Allison Stanger
Part I—The Legacies of the Past
2 Inevitability, Probability, Possibility: The Legacies of the Czech–Slovak Relationship, 1918–1989, and the Disintegration of the State	29
Carol Skalník Leff
3 The Possibilities for Czech–Slovak Compromise, 1989–1992	49
Jan Rychlík
Part II—Institutional Challenges and Constitutional Controversies
4 From “Velvet Revolution” to “Velvet Split”: Consociational Institutions and the Disintegration of Czechoslovakia	69
Petr Kopecný

- |   |   |     |
|---|---|-----|
| 5 | The Impact of Institutional Factors on the Breakupof the Czechoslovak FederationSharon Wolchik           | 87  |
| 6 | Electoral Rules and the Fate of Nations: Czechoslovakia's LastParliamentary ElectionFrantišek Turnovec   | 107 |
| 7 | The Price of Velvet: Constitutional Politics and the Demiseof the Czechoslovak FederationAllison Stanger | 137 |

Part III—Media, Economic, and International Factors

- |    |   |     |
|----|---|-----|
| 8  | Failing Democracy: Journalists, the Mass Media,and the Dissolution of CzechoslovakiaOwen V. Johnson            | 163 |
| 9  | Explaining Czechoslovakia's Dissolution: Assessing EconomicPerformance before and after the BreakupJan Svejnar | 183 |
| 10 | The End of Czechoslovakia: International Forces and FactorsMichael Kraus   | 199 |

Part IV—The View from the Ground: Czech and Slovak Perspectives

- |    |   |     |
|----|---|-----|
| 11 | A Retrospective Look at the Dissolution of Czecho-SlovakiaJán Čarnogurský                        | 221 |
| 12 | The Division/Dissolution of Czechoslovakia: Old Sins and NewForms of SelfishnessPetr Pithart | 227 |
| 13 | A Comment on Čarnogurský and PithartDaniel Kroupa  | 235 |
| 14 | Fragments from the Dividing of CzechoslovakiaMiroslav Macek                                      | 241 |
| 15 | Domestic and International Aspects of the CzechoslovakState's Crisis and EndMilan Zemko      | 247 |
| 16 | Czechoslovakia after 1989: The Reasons for the DivisionPeter Zajac                               | 259 |

17	Notes on the Role of Television in Czechoslovakia's Dissolution Martin Vadas	269
Part V—Czechoslovakia's Dissolution in Comparative Perspective
18	On Ethnic Conflicts and Their Resolution Stanley Hoffmann	287
19	Lessons from the Breakup of Czechoslovakia Michael Kraus and Allison Stanger	299
	Appendix: Narrative Chronology of the Czech–Slovak Conflict, 1990–1992	307
	Index	333
	About the Contributors	345

Index

- Adamec, Ladislav, 139, 142
- Africa, conflicts in, 288–290, 292–296.
See also ethnic conflicts
- Agrarians, Slovak, 31, 33, 46n11. See also First Republic
- Antal, Jozsef, 210. See also Hungary
- Arab-Israeli conflict, 293. See also intra- and interstate conflicts
- arms industry. See Czechoslovakia, Czech Republic, Dienstbier, economic conditions, foreign policy, Mečiar, Slovakia
- Austria, 70, 91, 194. See also Austro-Hungarian Empire, economic conditions
- Austro-Hungarian Empire, 80, 91, 184, 195, 291; compromise of 1867, 61.
See also First Republic
- Baltic republics, struggle for independence, 89, 248, 253
- Beneš, Edvard, 2, 41, 46n6, 201, 263; nationalist philosophy, 3; relations with Soviet Union, 201, 203. See also Czechoslovakia, First Republic
- Bil'ak, Vasil, 50–51. See also Communist Party in Czechoslovakia
- Bohemia, 1–2, 5, 210, 229, 241, 300, 302.
See also Czech-Slovak relations, World War II
- Bratislava, 2, 9, 171, 174, 210. See also constitution and state treaty, 1989–1992; Slovakia
- Brezhnev, 201, 216n6
- Brno, constitutional and state treaty negotiations at, 244–246
- Burešová Dagmar, 53, 55, 57, 251; common state, view of, 255
- Čalfa, Marián, 52–53, 169, 244, 250, 280; arms sales, 208; “federal Slovak”, 251; Government of National Understanding, interim federal prime minister, 139. See also constitution and state treaty, 1989–1992; dissolution
- Čarnogurský, Ján, 18–20, 56, 59, 77; constitution and state treaty negotiations, role in, 140, 146, 148–149, 223–224, 243, 252–254; dissolution, analysis of, 18–19, 221–225; European Community, membership in, 213–214, 224–225; fall of communism, impact on Czech-Slovak relations, 221; Maastricht, as model for Czechoslovakia, 211; nationalism, role of, 236; Slovakia, views on independence of, 212–214; Soviet coup of 1991, views of, 211.
See also Christian Democratic

- Movement, constitution and state treaty, Czech-Slovak relations, dissolution, Mečiar
- Catholicism, 2
- Central Europe, 199, 229, 266, 287, 304.
See also Eastern Europe, economic conditions
- Chamber of the Nations. See Federal Assembly
- Chamber of the People. See Federal Assembly
- Charles IV, Holy Roman Emperor, 2
- Charter 77, 6. See also Havel
- Christian Democratic Movement (KDH), 19, 77, 211–213, 222, 224, 243, 251.
See also Čarnogursky; constitution and state treaty, negotiations; Mečiar; political institutions and parties
- chronology of Czech-Slovak dissolution, 49–64, 307–332
- Civic Democratic Party (ODS), 9, 21; constitution and state treaty negotiations, role in, 57–63, 213, 244, 259–260, 302–303. See also Klaus, Macek, political institutions and parties
- Civic Forum, 51, 74, 109; constitution and state treaty negotiations, role in, 140–142, 251, 252, 262; reasons for conservative approach to constitutional draft, 140–142; Slovak demands, parody of, 242; split of party, 54–55; timing of elections, 302. See also constitution and state treaty, elections (1990), elections (1992), Havel, political institution and parties, Velvet Revolution
- civil society, 13, 97–98, 114, 262. See also Czech-Slovak relations
- Cold War, 5, 18–19, 23, 202–203, 287–288, 306; See also ethnic conflicts, interstate conflicts, intra- and interstate system, NATO, self-determination
- communism: bourgeois nationalists, 33, 94; collapse of, in Eastern Europe and Soviet Union, 7; fall of communist regime in Czechoslovakia, 2, 51, 99; post-communist transformations, nature of, 203; resistance to, source of Czechoslovak solidarity, 75, 221; rise and takeover in Czechoslovakia, 1, 5, 72, 90; transition literature, 137. See also Communist Party in Czechoslovakia, Prague Spring, Soviet Union, Stalin
- Communist Party in Czechoslovakia, 6, 32, 39, 50, 72–73, 78, 95, 139, 172–173, 305; coup d'état of 1948, 185; “federalized totalitarianism,” legacy of, 203; legacy and power of, 6, 64n4, 90; purges, 5–6, 33, 93–94; Round Table talks, 73; ultimate authority on rights and obligations, 299; television, control of, 270. See also communism, Czechoslovakia, mass media
- concentration camps, 5
- consociational government, 10, 40, 84n14, 305; examples of, 70–71, 82; failure in Czechoslovakia, 10, 69–70, 75–76, 80–83, 305; political leadership, role of, 70; power sharing, 69–72, 304–305; preconditions for, 71–72, 80–81. See also Constitutional Amendment of 1968, ethnic conflicts, intra- and interstate conflicts
- Constitutional Amendment of 1968, Law on Federation, 11, 21, 40–41, 49, 76; Communist Party, attitude toward federation, 204; control of constitutional process, 204; Czech-Slovak dissatisfaction with, 50–51; dissolution, role in, 237; federal structures in, 49–50, 73–74, 143; “pseudofederalism,” 203, 206; subordination of republics to center, 204. See also constitution and state treaty, Czech-Slovak relations, Federal Assembly, minority veto
- constitution and state treaty, 1989–1992: alternatives, search for, 251–254, 256; comparisons with 1968 deliberations, 153; constitutional framework, need for new, 250, 262; constitutional

- "moment," 151–152; constitutional reconstruction, choices, 138, 256; Constitution of 1960, legacy of, 143–144, 150; deadline for drafting, 20, 151, 232, 261, 302; deadlock and failure, reasons for, 64, 145–146, 149–150, 152–154, 221–225, 237–238, 248, 259, 263–265; dissolution, extraconstitutional solution to, 238–239; drafting of new, 20, 85n21, 98, 138, 147; drafting process and approval, 147–148, 213; economic and defense union, proposed, 20, 216, 245–246; Hrádeček, meetings at, 146–150, 153; legal training, lack of, 264; nationalist perspectives of, 248–249; negotiations, 23, 38, 48n42, 51–64 passim, 98–99, 140–141, 145–150, 224, 250–252; partition as second best solution, 22, 256, 260; power sharing agreement, 53–57, 145, 149, 251, 266, 304; referendum on, 58, 61–62, 256, 259; republics pay own way, 222; rule of law, 262; Slovak "blackmail" and demands for equality, 153, 222–223, 263; sovereignty, disputes over, 144–146, 149, 204, 214; Tocqueville, Alexis de, 262; Trenčianské Teplice, meetings at, 53, 145, 250. See also Čarnogursky, Civic Forum, Czech-Slovak relations, Czechoslovakia, dissolution electoral system, elites, Havel, Klaus, Mečiar, minority veto, referendum
- Constitution of 1920. See First Republic
- Constitution of 1948, 73
- Constitution of 1960, 72, 141, 143
- Council for Mutual Economic Assistance (CMEA), 183, 186. See also Eastern Europe, economic conditions
- cultural differences. See Czech-Slovak relations
- Czech National Council. See Czech Republic, elections (1992)
- Czechoslovakia: arms sales, 206–207; asymmetry and weakness of institutional structures, 11, 31, 73, 101, 143–144, 204, 261; birth of, 1, 66n3, 199, 200; censorship, 94; Communist rule, legacy of, 90, 153, 203; dissolution, compared to Soviet Union and Yugoslavia, 7, 24, 88–90, 100, 199, 212, 250, 253, 256, 259–260, 299–301; division of state assets, 101; federalized totalitarianism, legacy of, 203–206; Germany and Hungary, fear of, 17–18, 200–201, 209, 228; historical overview, 1–6, 200–203; Hungarian card, playing of, 218n29; interwar period, (1918–38), 1; minorities, German and Hungarian, 3, 31, 89, 101–102, 200–201, 209, 266–267; modernizing forces, 266; relationship with Soviet Union, 201–202, 216n6; republics, historical differences, 1–6, 8–9, 41–42, 89–90, 241, 247–248, 267, 305–306; reunification, after World War II, 93, 247–248; segmented society, 69–70; Soviet coup of 1991, impact of, 211–212; "stateness" problem, 8, 29–30, 34, 45; "uninterrupted existence" of, 210. See also Austro-Hungarian Empire, civil society, consociational government, Constitutional Amendment of 1968, constitution and state treaty, Czech Republic, Czech-Slovak relations, dissolution, economic conditions, elections (1992), elites, ethnic conflicts, First Republic, foreign policy, Havel, intra- and interstate conflicts, Maastricht, mass media, NATO, elections of 1992, political institutions and parties, Prague Spring, Slovakia, television, World War II
- Czech Republic: arms industry, 207; better off without Slovakia, 230; borders of, 194; centralism, tolerance of, 229; Ministry of International Affairs, 215; National Council, 55, 57, 108, 143–144, 148, 222, 251, 265; resource transfer to Slovakia, 222, 243. See also constitution and state treaty,

- Czechoslovakia, Czech-Slovak relations, dissolution, economic conditions, elections (1992), elites, foreign policy, Havel, Pithart, political parties, Prague, Slovakia
- Czechs, 2, 20. See also Czechoslovakia, Czech-Slovak relations, Slovakia
- Czech-Slovak relations: compromise and cooperation, tradition of, 78–80, 82, 114, 146, 305; cultural, historical, and social differences, 47n13, 47n19, 165, 231, 237, 241, 263, 266–267; Czech arrogance and chauvinism, 35, 139, 230, 249, 261; “dialogue of deaf,” 146, 305–306; elites and triadic leadership, 32–33, 38–39, 76; empathy, lack of, 248; ethnic conflicts and homogeneity of republics, 75, 82, 89, 94, 98, 100, 300; external threats, role of, 80, 202, 221, 305; “federal Slovaks,” 251; First Republic, 29–30, 89, 92; grievances and misunderstandings, legacy of, 16, 35–37, 40–43, 45, 51, 80, 153, 165, 168, 215, 222, 230–231, 248, 305–306; hyphen war, 22, 52–53, 176, 222, 236, 241, 249; identity, search for, 215; institutional linkages, lack of, 97–98; interstate relationship between, 214–215; Kočice government program, 30, 93, 203–204; Marxist analysis of, 34–35, 205; minorities, role in, 3–4, 31, 82; political leadership, importance of, 302–303; post-1989 overviews, 37–46, 88–89, 99, 221–225; Round Table talks, 73, 139–140; self-determination, common quest for, 2; Slovak demand for autonomy and equality, 153, 201, 222; Slovak gains during crises, 36, 47n5; Slovak ingratitude, 35, 42, 90, 94, 98, 261; socialism, attitudes toward, 231; sovereignty issues, 144–145, 204, 214, 253; Soviet influence on, 205; subordination of republics to center, 204–205; transformation, keys to successful, 262; twin challenges, democratization and decolonization, 306; violence, absence in relationship, 300. See also Austro-Hungarian Empire, Communist Party in Czechoslovakia, Constitutional Amendment of 1968, constitution and state treaty, Czech Republic, dissolution, economic conditions, electoral system, elites, ethnic conflicts, Federal Assembly, foreign policy, Havel, intra- and interstate conflicts, Klaus, mass media, Mečiar, nationalism, political institutions and parties, Slovakia
- de Gaulle, Charles, 142
- demonstration effect. See Maastricht, Treaty of
- Dienstbier, Jiří, 55, 217n15; arms sales, 207–208; foreign policy views, 202, 205. See also constitution and state treaty, foreign policy, Havel, political institutions and parties
- dissidents, 6, 19, 141–142, 221, 236, 303–304; composition of, 78; role in binding republics, 221. See also Havel
- dissolution: constitutional framework, cause of, 37–39, 299; economic conditions, role in, 184, 195–196; electoral system, impact on, 107; foreign policy, role in, 199–200, 215–216; inevitability of, 8–9, 18–19, 23, 44–46, 64, 87–88, 102, 138, 214, 225, 227, 247; institutional factors, role in, 96–100; internal and external influences on, 199–200, 216; international context of, 17–18, 199, 216; lessons from, 102, 301–306; mass media, role in, 13–15, 43, 163–166, 175, 177–178, 237, 250, 261, 282–283; political institutions, role of, 304–305; political leadership, role in, 302–304; post-dissolution relations, 225, 228–229, 246, 267; public opinion and polls, 42, 44, 61, 88–89, 94–95, 98, 100, 102, 253–254, 256, 263, 302; reasons for, 1, 7–24 passim, 44–46, 64, 80, 87–89, 199, 206, 241, 252,

- 260–261, 282, 299–306; Western arguments against, 259. See also Černogursky, consociational government, constitution and state treaty, Constitutional Amendment of 1968, Czechoslovakia, Czech Republic, Czech-Slovak relations, economic conditions, elections (1990), elections (1992), elites, Havel, intra- and interstate relations, Klaus, Kroupa, Macek, mass media, Mečiar, nationalism, Pithart, political institutions and parties, referendum on dissolution, self-determination, Slovakia, sovereignty, Soviet Union, television, Yugoslavia, Zajac, Zemko
- Dubček, Alexander: constitutional commission, head of, 223; Prague Spring, 73; relations with Soviet Union, 202, 216n6; socialism with a human face, 6, 94. See also Communist Party in Czechoslovakia, Prague Spring
- Eastern Europe, 2, 5, 17, 266; economic conditions, 16, 183, 186(tables 9.2 and 9.3), 188(table 9.4), 189(table 9.5), 190, 192, 195(table 9.6); political conditions, 1–2, 5, 76, 199, 287. See also Central Europe, Cold War, economic conditions, European Union, Warsaw Pact
- economic conditions: agriculture, 184; arms industry, 16, 185, 194, 196n9–11, 207; common economic plans, 187; comparative performance, 16, 183–197 passim, 265; disparities between republics, 2–3, 15–17, 79–80, 91–92, 100; exchange rate policy, 191; First Republic, development during, 184–185; foreign trade and investment, 191–192; government budgets, 188–189, 189(table 9.4), 205; growth rates, 186(table 9.1), 187, 195; guest workers, 194, 196n12; income and wage differentials, 185–187; income distribution, 189; inflation, 182, 187, 188(table 9.2); investment, 190–191, 190(table 9.5); money pipeline to Slovakia, 228, 235; nomenklatura capitalism, 267; population, 3, 80–81, 184; post-split developments, 195; preferential investment in Slovakia, 15–16, 35, 41–42, 50, 79, 94, 185, 194, 205, 228, 235, 243; Slovak economy, underestimation of, 183–184, 187, 195; unemployment, 16, 79, 95–96, 184, 192–195, 193(table 9.6), 196n11, 252, 265; unit labor costs, 187–188, 188(table 9.3); See also Czechoslovakia, Czech-Slovak relations, dissolution, Eastern Europe, foreign policy, Slovakia
- education, 168, 300; Slovak nationalism and, 34, 47n13, 91–92, 94
- elections (1990), 12, 45, 53, 109, 143, 169, 301. See also electoral system, political institutions and parties
- elections (1992), ix, 6, 9–10, 13, 19, 64, 78, 109–125 passim, 151, 221; institutional legitimacy, creation of, 300. party alignments, 57–59, 109, 255–256, 302; party profiles and representations in federal parliament, Czech, and Slovak national councils, 113–123(figures 6.1–6.10 passim), 111–128(tables 6.1–6.14 passim); television, role of, 174–175; voter participation, 109. See also electoral system, mass media, political institutions and parties, television
- electoral system, 107–109, 143; asymmetry of institutional structures, 144; electoral rules and distribution of power, 118–125; parliament, elements of, 108, 143; threshold levels and proportional representation, impact of, 13, 58, 70, 74, 108–109, 118–125, 134n3, 143; voting power, 115, 118–125, 129–134. See also elections (1990), elections (1992), elites, Federal Assembly, minority veto, political institutions and parties

- elites: consociational government, role in, 71, 80; dissolution, role in 9–12, 20–23, 39, 47n19, 62, 78, 82–83, 96, 199, 212, 215, 235–236, 261, 267, 301, 303. See also constitution and state treaty, Czech-Slovak relations, dissolution, elections (1990), elections (1992), electoral system political institutions and parties
- emigration, Czech and Slovak diaspora, 2
- Estonia, independence movement of, 249
- ethnic conflicts, 3–4, 7, 23–24, 85, 95, 98–99, 248; clash of civilizations, 289; collective intervention in, 294–295; economic disparities, result from, 15; international regimes, role in settling, 292–295, 297; interstate breakdowns, role in, 289–290; minorities, protection of, 292, 296; multiple faces and parents, 23–24; Organization for Security and Cooperation in Europe, role of, 292–293; resolution of, 292–297; universal security dilemmas, created by, 290; violence, forms of, in, 292; voluntary secession, 292. See also Czech-Slovak relations, intra- and interstate conflicts, self-determination, sovereignty
- European Community. See European Union
- European Union, 24, 100, 209, 213, 214, 228, 238, 293; conflicts, role in, 293–297. Czechoslovakia, interest in joining, 213–214, 224–225. See also čarnogursky, economic conditions, foreign policy
- Federal Assembly, 49–50, 59, 63, 73–74, 98, 108, 143, 238–239. See also Constitutional Amendment of 1968, constitution and state treaty, dissolution, electoral system
- federation, 32, 87, 96, 263; common state, 2, 9, 19, 93, 218n45, 247, 254–255, 260, 265, 305; dysfunctional in Czechoslovakia, 240, 246. See also Čarnogursky, Constitutional Amendment of 1968, constitution and state treaty, Czech-Slovak relations, dissolution, Havel, Mečiar, Velvet Divorce
- First Republic, 1918–38: arts and sciences in, 4–5; clergy, role of, 91; constitution of 1920, 30, 72, 139, 142; creation in 1918, 1–2, 66n33, 72; Declaration of Independence (1918), 2, 142; economic conditions, 79, 184; education, role of, 34, 91; equal political and civil rights, 3; institutional relations, 30–31; interwar governance, strategy of, 31; liberal democracy, as a, 1, 4, 30; media's role, 167; minorities, treatment of, 4, 31; Pittsburgh Agreement, 2, 148, 158n5, 300; political and cultural orientation, 4–5; Slovakia, autonomy of, 31, 200–201, 263; Slovak views of, 102; social engineering, during, 34, 47n13; traditions, adopted by Czech Republic, 102 triadic leadership, 32–33. See also Austro-Hungarian Empire, Czechoslovakia, Hlinka Populists, Second Republic, Slovakia
- foreign policy: arms sales, 206–209; foreign ministries, establishment of separate, 101, 215–216; Germany, friendship and cooperation treaty, 209; Hungarian minority, impact of, 210–211; investment in Czechoslovakia, 210; Moscow influence on, 205–206; reaction to Soviet coup of 1991, 211–212; state and regional crises, impact of, on, 206, 212, 215–216. See also Cold War, constitution and state treaty, Czech-Slovak relations, Dienstbier, dissolution, Dubček, Havel, Maastricht, Mečiar, NATO, World War I, World War II
- Fukuyama, Francis, 18, 202, 221, 288
- Gabčíkovo Dam, 64, 66n34, 205, 211, 267. See also Hungary
- Germany: Friendship Treaty with Czechoslovakia, 209; Sudeten Germans, 3, 5, 209, 266. See also

- Czechoslovakia, foreign policy, Hitler, Munich Agreement of 1938, Sudetenland, World War II
- Gorbachev, Mikhail, 6, 95, 139, 303. See also Soviet Union
- Gottwald, Klement, 204. See also Communist Party in Czechoslovakia, Stalin
- Government of National Understanding. See Čalfa
- Great Moravian Empire, 1
- Habsburg Empire, 3, 46n2. See also First Republic
- Havel, Václav, 18, 20, 40, 53, 59, 62, 75, 99, 150, 209, 214; arms sales and disarmament, 208; Charter 77, 6; constitution and state treaty negotiations, 20, 75, 137, 141–142, 146–152, 223, 232–233, 262, 264, 301, 304; dissolution of Czechoslovakia, reasons for and attitudes toward, ix, 6–8; “federalized totalitarianism,” 18, 203, 206, 299; foreign policy views, 202; hyphen war, 52, 249; leadership, compared to Milosevic, 301; leadership, moral force of, 304; media, professionalism of, 271–272; Public Against Violence, support of, 222; reaction to Soviet coup of 1991, 211–212. See also Civic Forum, constitution and state treaty, dissolution, elites, foreign policy, political and institutional parties, referendum, Velvet Divorce, Velvet Revolution
- Hitler, Adolph, 4, 5, 18, 201, 291–292. See also ethnic conflicts, Munich Agreement of 1938, World War II
- Hlinka Populists, 31–33, 92–93, 169. See also First Republic, Slovakia, Tiso
- Hungary, 82, 91, 188, 192, 201, 210–211, 267, 287; minority in Czechoslovakia, 210, 267; rule of Slovak lands, 2, 5; Slovakia, relationship with, 210–211; Slovakia and Ruthenia, former provinces of, 3. See also Austro-Hungarian Empire, Czechoslovakia, Eastern Europe, economic conditions
- Huntington, Samuel, 287
- Hus, Jan, 2
- Husák, Gustav, 50–51, 140, 204, 250. See also Communist Party in Czechoslovakia
- hyphen war. See Czech-Slovak relations
- intelligentsia, 4–5
- interstate system: collapse of Soviet Union, changes following, 202, 216; dissolution of Czechoslovakia, impact on, 200; what constitutes a nation, 288; World War II, changes following, 200–202. See also Cold War, ethnic conflicts, foreign policy, self-determination, sovereignty
- intra- and interstate conflicts: examples of, 289–290, 292–297; resolution of, 23, 292–297; use of force in, 295. See also Cold War, ethnic conflicts, self-determination, sovereignty
- Jewish community, 3
- Jičínský, Zdeněk, 141, 241. See also constitution and state treaty
- Kalvoda, Jan, 56, 148–149, 264
- Klaus, Václav, 9–10, 10, 25n16, 59, 154, 176; constitution and state treaty negotiations, 24n3, 43, 48n42, 57, 100, 154, 244–246, 292, 302–303; media coverage of, 281; meetings with Mečiar, 48n42, 57–63, 81, 89, 96, 99, 175, 244–246, 256; mission to Košice, 242–243; See also constitution and state treaty, Civic Democratic Party, Civic Forum, dissolution, elites, Havel, Mečiar, political institutions and parties
- Klepáč, Ján, 56, 58
- Košice Program of 1945. See Czech-Slovak relations
- Kováč, Michal, 21, 25n18, 60, 244–245

- Kroupa, Daniel, 235–239. See also Čarnogursky, constitution and state treaty, dissolution, Pithart
- Kun, Bela, 36
- Lenin, 204
- Lithuania, independence of, 219
- lustration laws, 270–271. See also
 television
- Maastricht, Treaty of, 17–18, 211, 216.
See also Czech-Slovak relations, foreign policy
- Macek, Miroslav (ODS), 20–21, 60; dysfunctional federation, cause of dissolution, 240, 246; Klaus, relationship with, 25n16; Mečiar's negotiating tactics, 21, 60, 245. See
also constitution and state treaty, dissolution, political institutions and parties
- Marx, 289
- Masaryk, Tomáš, 2, 23, 47n13, 167;
 founding vision of, 200, 227, 260; Hrad Group, 167, 179n19; nationalist philosophy of, 3. See also communism,
 Czechoslovakia, First Republic
- mass media: American journalism, comparisons with, 176–177; censorship and state control, 6, 169, 173, 175–176, 216n6, 274, 276; cross-circulation in republics, 164, 170–172, 177, 230–231, 270; Czech and Slovak media, goals of, 167–169; Havel's views of, 271–272; historical development of, 166–167, 177–178, 270, 273–275; national discourse, role in creating, 13–15, 43, 166, 168,
 174–176; nationalist views in, 167,
 169–170, 175, 177, 237; newspapers, 167–168, 171, 270; objectivity and professionalism, 13–14, 163–165, 169, 172, 175, 177, 250, 270, 280, 282;
 political parties, relationship with,
 165–166, 168, 172, 279–280;
 popularity of, 266, 278; public trust in,
 164, 166, 172, 174, 178, 281; radio, 167, 174–175; stereotypes in, 167–168;
 television, 14–15, 166, 172–176, 266;
 Velvet Revolution, 168. See also
 Czech-Slovak relations, dissolution,
 Havel, Mečiar, television
- Mečiar, Vladimír, 7, 9–10, 21, 25n18, 41, 48n42, 53, 57–58, 60, 77–78, 85n29,
 95, 100, 209, 222–223, 242, 244–246,
 302–303; confederation, conception of, 56, 213–214, 216, 223; constitution and state treaty negotiations, 21, 145, 154,
 213, 250–251, 254, 256, 302–303;
 Klaus, meeting with, 21, 48n42, 57–63,
 81, 89, 96, 99, 175, 244–246, 256,
 302–303; mass media, use of, 164,
 166–167, 174, 177–178, 274, 278;
 Movement for a Democratic Slovakia, founder of, 223; mass media, use of,
 164, 166–167, 174, 177–178, 274, 278;
 power sharing, ultimatum on, 54; prime minister, ouster as, 55, 208, 223; secret talks with Soviet generals, 208; self-determination, Slovakia's right to, 213;
 Slovak sovereignty, declaration of, 223;
 Slovenia, as model for dissolution, 12.
See also constitution and state treaty, dissolution, Klaus, Movement for a Democratic Slovakia, political institutions and parties, Public Against Violence
- Mikloško, František, 53, 57, 148, 251. See
also constitution and state treaty,
 Slovakia
- Milovy accord, 9, 22, 57, 150, 223–224,
 255. See also constitution and state treaty, dissolution
- minority veto, 11, 45, 49, 70, 74 98, 143, 238, 282, 304–305; dissolution, cause of, 21; paralysis of decision-making, 152, 204, 238, 304–305. See also Constitutional Amendment of 1968, constitution and state treaty, Czech-Slovak relations, dissolution, electoral system, political institutions and parties
- Moravia, 5, 82, 140, 171, 210, 241, 252,
 300, 302. See also Czechoslovakia,
 World War II

- Movement for a Democratic Slovakia (HZDS), 9, 48n42, 77, 95–96, 100, 209, 224; dissolution negotiations, 55–63, 244, 259–260, 302–303; referendum, promise of, 223. See also constitution and state treaty, dissolution, Klaus, Mečiar, political institution and parties, Public Against Violence
- Movement for Civic Freedom (HOS), 140. See also constitution and state treaty, political institutions and parties
- Munich Agreement of 1938, 36, 93, 209, 222, 228; partition of Czechoslovakia, 1, 5, 259. See also foreign policy, Hitler, Sudetenland, World War II
- nationalism, 22, 34–35, 97, 215; degeneration into war, 291; dissolution, cause of, 20–22; international allegiances, need for, 296–297; irrational nature of, 289; Marx, view of, 289; multiple faces and parents, 290–291; provides social identity, 289. See also Beneč, Cold War, Czech-Slovak relations, dissolution, ethnic conflicts, foreign policy, intra- and interstate conflicts, Masaryk, Slovakia
- NATO, 7, 100, 202, 293, 295. See also Cold War, ethnic conflicts, foreign policy, intra- and interstate conflicts, United States
- normalization, 6, 9, 20, 50, 79, 143, 201–202, 236–237, 250. See also Constitutional Amendment of 1968, constitution and state treaty, Czechoslovakia, Czech-Slovak relations, dissolution, economic conditions, federation
- Organization for Security and Cooperation in Europe (OSCE), 292–293. See also ethnic conflicts, intra- and interstate conflicts
- Organization of African Unity, 293. See also ethnic conflicts, intra- and interstate conflicts
- Ottoman Empire, 287
- Pithart, Petr, 19–21, 52–53, 174; civic community, absence of, 19; constitution and state treaty Czech ignorance of Slovakia, 19–20, 230–231; discussions, 52–54, 57, 140, 214, 232, 255, 302; dissolution 19, 227–229, 232–233; European Union, interest in joining, 228; Havel, role in dissolution, 232–233; Slovak nationalism, misunderstanding of, 229; statesmanship, failure of, 232. See also constitution and state treaty, Czech-Slovak relations, dissolution, elites, political institutions and parties
- Poland, 188, 192, 202, 287, 304. See also Eastern Europe, economic conditions, political institutions and parties, 12–13, 19, 75, 109–110, 213, 280–281; dissolution negotiations, 50–63, 75, 76–77, 244, 252, 254–255, 263, 265; fragmentation of, 13, 109; new parties, creation of, 51; postcommunist transformations, role in, 304; profiles and representations in federal parliament, Czech, and Slovak national councils, 113–123 (figures 6.1–6.10); 111–128 (tables 6.1–6.14); See also Civic Forum, constitution and state treaty, elections (1990), elections (1992), electoral system, Movement for a Democratic Slovakia (HZDS), Public Against Violence (VPN)
- Potsdam Conference, 5. See also World War II
- Prague: German occupation, 5; “Pragocentric” policies, 32, 34, 39, 164, 201, 203, 215, 208, 229. See also Czech-Slovak relations, dissolution
- Prague Linguistic Circle, 4–5
- Prague Spring, 1, 6, 73, 94, 141, 165, 172–173; federation law, 204; legacy of, 6; Soviet invasion, 3, 211, 263. See also Communist Party in Czechoslovakia, Dubček
- Protectorate of Bohemia and Moravia. See Bohemia, Moravia, Munich Agreement of 1938, World War II

- Protestantism, 2
- Public Against Violence (VPN), 20, 51–52, 74, 77, 109, 208, 212, 222, 243–244, 252, 262–263; convention of, 244, 279; election tactics, 236; Mečiar, recall of, 223; Movement for a Democratic Slovakia, party split, 224. See also Čarnogursky, elites, Havel, Mečiar, Movement for a Democratic Slovakia, political institutions and parties, television, Zajac
- referendum on dissolution, 10, 14, 58, 99, 158, 176, 223, 259, 264, 279, 302. See also constitution and state treaty, Czech-Slovak relations, dissolution, Havel, Mečiar
- Romania, 192. See also Central Europe, economic conditions
- Ruthenia, 3, 5, 201, 203. See also Hungary, Ukraine
- Rychetsky, Pavel, 141, 164. See also constitution and state treaty
- Second Republic (1945–48), 39, 93. See also Communist Party in Czechoslovakia, First Republic
- self-determination: electoral system, role of, 107, 125; examples of, 202, 287–288; international limitations on, 296 post-Cold War conflicts, 288; secession, last resort, 296; Slovakia, right to, 212–213; sovereignty, conflicts with, 23–24, 287, 295–296. See also Čarnogursky, constitution and state treaty, 1989–1992, Czech-Slovak relations, intra- and interstate conflicts, ethnic conflicts, Mečiar, Slovakia, sovereignty
- Silesia, 2
- Slovak Christian Democrats, 77, 109. See also political institutions and parties
- Slovak Communist Party (KSS), 31, 51. See also political institutions and parties
- Slovak Democratic Party, 51. See also political institutions and parties
- Slovakia: arms industry, 19, 185, 199, 206–208; clergy, 92; constitution, adoption of, 62; creation of, in 1939, 90; education, role of, 34, 91, 47n19, 300; equality, demand for, 4, 94, 222; Hungarian minority in, 102; independence, unintended outcome, 303; industrial structure of, 79, 91; inequality with Czechs, 6; Ministry of International Affairs, 101, 214–215; National Council, 9, 22, 31, 44, 52, 57, 78, 108, 143, 148, 222, 238, 249, 265; nationalism, 20–21, 34–35, 77, 90–91, 101–102, 169, 201, 215, 229, 235–237, 242; 1947 coup, 204; postwar autonomy of, 97, 203, 263; sovereignty, declaration of, 230; World War II, legacy of 72–73, 73n90, 97, 300; Žilina accords, 40, 93. See also constitution and state treaty, Czechoslovakia, Czech Republic, Czech-Slovak relations, dissolution, economic conditions, ethnic conflicts, First Republic, mass media, Mečiar, nationalism, Soviet Union, World War II
- Slovak National Council. See elections (1992), Federal Assembly, Slovakia
- Slovak National Party, 41, 212; confrontational nationalism, 236. See also political institutions and parties, Slovakia
- Slovak People's Party. See Hlinka Populists
- Slovaks, 2, 20. See also Slovakia
- sovereignty: limitations on, in New World Order, 23–24, 288, 295–296; secession, last resort, 296; self-determination, conflicts with, 287, 295–296. See also constitution and state treaty, Czech-Slovak relations, ethnic conflicts, foreign policy, intra- and interstate conflicts, self-determination, Slovakia
- Soviet Union, 5, 88, 97, 192, 263; Brezhnev doctrine, 303; collapse of, 201; coup of 1991, 211, 301; Czechoslovakia, relationship with, 203, 205, 263; dissolution, compared to

- Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia, 90, 100, 199, 212, 253, 259–260, 299–301; divide and rule policy, 201, 305; equality among nations, 204; intervention, 288; Kočice government program, Moscow's authorship of, 203–204; resource allocation in Czechoslovakia, 205; sovereignty of Soviet republics, impact of, 212. See also Cold War, communism, Communist Party in Czechoslovakia, foreign policy, Gorbachev, NATO, Prague Spring
- Stalin, Josef, 5, 201, 204. See also communism, Soviet Union
- state treaty. See constitution and state treaty, dissolution
- Sudetenland, 266, 292; cessation to Germany, 5, 201; Germans in, 3–4, 168, 201, 209, 261; polls on expulsion, 210; post-war expulsion of Germans, 5, 266; return of Germans, 209. See also Germany, Hitler, Munich Agreement of 1938, World War II
- Syria, arms sales to, 207–208
- television: censorship, 274; Czech Television (ČTV), creation of, 274–275; dissolution, role in, 282–283; Federal Council for Radio and Television Broadcasting, 273–275; federal television, division of assets, 275, 277–278; history of, 270, 273–275; informational sovereignty of republics, 274–276; instrument of Communist Party, 172, 270, 276; lustration and employment, 270–271, 273; Mečiar, vision of television's role, 174–175, 274, 278–280; 1992 election coverage, 15, 277–278, 281; objections to federal programs, 274–276; political parties, influence on coverage, 280–281; professionalism and training, 170, 172, 270–271, 273, 280–281; programming balance and conflicts between federal and republic television, 172–174, 273, 276–278, 281; public trust in, 166, 174; referendum, coverage of, 14, 176, 279; relationship with Czech and Slovak Television, 277–279; servility to state, 176, 271, 273, 280–281; Slovak Television (STV), 15, 274–281 state monopoly, end of, 173; Velvet Divorce, contribution to, 15, 282–283; western assistance, 271. See also Czech-Slovak relations, dissolution, mass media, Mečiar
- Tiso, Josef, 92. See also Hlinka Populists
- totalitarianism, legacy of, 18, 22. See also Communist Party in Czechoslovakia, Czech-Slovak relations, Havel
- Ukraine, 193, 203. See also economic conditions, Hungary, Ruthenia, Soviet Union
- Union of Soviet Socialist Republics. See Soviet Union
- United Nations, role in conflicts, 290, 293–296. See also Cold War, ethnic conflicts, intra- and interstate conflicts, United States
- United States: arms sales by Slovakia, 208
- Cold War interventions, 202, 288; United Nations, relations with, 293; Yugoslavia, involvement in, 303. See also Cold War, Soviet Union, United Nations
- Vadas, Martin, 269, 282–283. See also constitution and state treaty, television
- Velvet Divorce, ix, 8–9, 19, 23, 44, 81, 83, 101, 212, 225, 292, 306; consociational government, role in, 10; elites, critical role of, 302–303; post-divorce relations, 225; reasons for, 114, 299–302; television, role of, in, 302–303. See also Civic Forum, constitution and state treaty, Czech-Slovak relations, Havel, mass media
- Velvet Revolution, 1, 6, 109, 221; constitutional development, 139–141, 151. See also Civic Forum, Havel, Velvet Divorce

- Visegrad, 196n9, 228. See also Eastern Europe, economic conditions
- Warsaw Pact, 6, 139, 202, 205. See also Cold War, Eastern Europe, Soviet Union
- Wilson, Woodrow, 2, 200. See also First Republic, self-determination
- World War I, 199, 202; interstate system, transformation after, 200, 202; nationalism, role in start of, 291. See also Czechoslovakia, First Republic, foreign policy
- World War II: Czech-Slovak experiences, during, 72, 247–248, 259; nationalism, role in start of, 291; postwar reunification of Czechoslovakia, 72, 93, 97, 247–248, 259, 300; protectorate of Bohemia and Moravia, German occupation of Czech lands, 5, 72, 80, 259; Slovak state, creation of, 93. See also Czechoslovakia, Hitler, Munich Agreement of 1938, Second Republic, Sudetenland
- Yeltsin, Boris, 301
- Yugoslavia, 39, 88, 97, 199–200, 248, 250, 288, 295; dissolution, compared to Czechoslovakia and Soviet Union, 7, 24, 88–90, 100, 199, 212, 250, 253, 256, 259–260, 299–301; elections, 301; ethnic groups, 281 See also Eastern Europe, ethnic conflicts, intra- and interstate conflicts
- Zajac, Peter, 22–23; dissolution, reasons for 260–267. See also constitution and state treaty
- Zemko, Milan, 22; dissolution, analysis of factors in, 247–256; Czech power plays, 250–251. See also constitution and state treaty