

Contents

List of Contributors / vii

Preface / ix

PART ONE: Methods and International Inspiration

- 1 Two Trends in the Process of Secularization in the Nineteenth and Twentieth Centuries—Miloš Havelka / 3
- 2 Secularization of the Working Class—The Czech Model: A Hypothesis and Methodical Contemplation—Jiří Matějček / 23
- 3 The Secularization of the Workforce in Germany in the Nineteenth Century—Jürgen Schmidt / 39
- 4 The Slovak Worker between God and Marx—Roman Holec / 60

PART TWO: Politics and Party Line

- 5 The Anti-Clericalism of Social Democracy and the Secularization of the Working Class in the Czech Lands—Jiří Malíř / 83
- 6 Catholics and the Issue of Working-Class Secularization—Pavel Marek / 116
- 7 Secularization and the Working Class's Response to Marxism
—Lukáš Fasora / 127
- 8 The Influence of Secularization on German Workers' Parties in Northwest and North Bohemia within the Intellectual Milieu of Imperial Germany
—Kristina Kaiserová / 142

PART THREE: Case Studies

- 9 The Crisis of Identity in the Priesthood at the Turn of the Twentieth Century—Jiří Hanuš / 151

- 10 The Move away from the Catholic Church by Journeyman Cloth Makers in Liberec (Reichenberg) around the Middle of the Nineteenth Century
—Jiří Kořalka / 161
- 11 The Social Democratic Atheist Movement in Interwar Ostravsko
—Martin Jemelka / 174
- 12 The Question of Piety in State Tobacco Factories—Marie Macková / 193
- 13 The Workers' Song: An Element of Secularization in Nineteenth-Century Czech Civic Society?—Josef Šebesta / 200

Bibliography / 209

Index / 227