

Contents

Preface and acknowledgements	v
Part I: Migration studies and the problem of culture	1
Chapter 1: Migrations and cultural analyses: a point of departure	3
Chapter 2: Comparative studies of migration, ethnicity, 'race' and culture in the U.S.A. and Britain	16
Chapter 3: Traditions, structures and culture as process	36
Part II: Practising cultures	55
Chapter 4: The politics and poetics of ethnicity	57
Chapter 5: Dance, music and relations of power	71
Chapter 6: Re-negotiating 'tradition': the case of dowry	89
Part III: Constructing identities: gender, class, and ethnos	103
Chapter 7: The cultural construction of gender in modern Greece	105
Chapter 8: Generating identities: age, social bodies and habitus	121
Chapter 9: Intersections: gender, ethnicity, class and culture in Australia	144
Bibliography	168
Index	182