Table of Contents

Notes on Contributors 7

Preface 9

PART I
Post-Cold War Europe and NATO 11

NATO and its Challenges after the Cold War:
Searching for a New Role
Jiří Šedivý 13

Humanitarian Interventions: UN and NATO—
Rivalry Versus Partnership?
Jan Jireš 26

Transatlantic Relations and the European Security and Defence Policy:
Their Impact on the NATO Members and Candidate Countries
Erik Yesson 35

PART II
The Netherlands: An Active International Player 41

Dutch Foreign Policy: Limited Sources Versus Active Approach
Ine Megens 43

European Integration or Transatlantic Cooperation: Dutch Approach
Tom Maasen 50

"Western" Attitudes Towards the Integration Efforts of the Central and Eastern European Countries
Sander Huisman 56

PART III
Central Europe and Its Integration into Trans-Atlantic Security Structures 65

The First NATO Enlargement: Breaking the Cold War Bloc Borders and Changing the Geopolitical Situation
Adéla Kadlecová 67

Progress of the Czech Republic's Integration into NATO
Hana Hubáčková 76

Slovak Position After the First NATO Enlargement and the Attitude of Slovak Political Elites Towards Membership in NATO
Zuzana Jasenovcová 80