

CONTENTS

Abstract	v
Résumé	v
List of Figures	viii
List of Tables	x
Acknowledgements	xi

Introduction

Patricia D. Sutherland	1
-------------------------------------	---

Chapter 1: Molecular Archaeology of the Dorset, Thule, and Sadlermiut: Ancestor-Descendant Relationships in Eastern North American Arctic Prehistory

M. Geoffrey Hayes, Joan Brenner Coltrain, and Dennis H. O'Rourke	11
---	----

Chapter 2: Ethnogenesis in the Central and Eastern Arctic: A Reconstruction Based on Cranial Nonmetric Traits

Nancy Suzanne Ossenberg	33
--------------------------------------	----

Chapter 3: Phillip's Garden West: A Newfoundland Groswater Variant

M.A.P. Renouf	57
----------------------------	----

Chapter 4: One of These Things is Not Like the Other: Typology, Chronology, and the Concept of Middle Dorset

Daniel Odess	81
---------------------------	----

Chapter 5: Palaeo-Eskimo Continuity and Discontinuity in West Greenland

Jens Fog Jensen	93
------------------------------	----

Chapter 6: Kiinatuqarvik: A Multidisciplinary Archaeological Project on Dorset Petroglyphs and Human Occupation in the Kangirsujuaq Area

Daniel Arsenault, Louis Gagnon, Daniel Gendron, and Claude Pinard	105
--	-----

Chapter 7: Revisiting the Dorset Soapstone Quarry in Fleur de Lys, Newfoundland

John C. Erwin	121
----------------------------	-----

Chapter 8: Understanding Dorset from a Different Perspective: Worked Antler, Bone, and Ivory

Genevieve M. LeMoine	133
-----------------------------------	-----

Chapter 9: Late Dorset Longhouses: A Look Inside

Eric Damkjar	147
---------------------------	-----