
Contents

Prologue	vi
-----------------	----

PART I

The paradoxes of human rights	I
--------------------------------------	----------

1 The end of human rights?	3
2 Identity, desire, rights	34
3 The many faces of humanitarianism	51
4 The politics of human rights	90
5 Freedom in a biopolitical setting	111

PART 2

The normative sources of the new world order	131
---	------------

6 Empire or cosmopolitanism?	133
7 Cosmopolitanism ancient, modern, postmodern	151
8 Human rights: values in a valueless world?	177
9 The brief glory and the long crisis of international law	198
10 War, violence, law	236
11 Bare, theological and cosmopolitan sovereignty	269
12 Epilogue: the cosmopolitanism to come	291

Bibliography	299
---------------------	-----

Index	313
--------------	-----