Meeting programme	6
Abstracts
Jason Anderson
The Early Permian evidence for frog and salamander origins	9
Ondřej Dostál & Jakub Prokop
New fossil insects from the Lower Permian of Boskovice Basin in southern Moravia (Diaphanopteroidea: Martynoviidae)	10
Boris Ekrt
Antonín Frič (Anton Fritsch), an important czech natural scientist and his contribution to palaeontology	11
Jan Fischer & Jörg Schneider
Palaeobiogeography of Lissodus (Hybodontoida) during the Carboniferous and Permian in freshwater of Central Europe	13
Jozef Klembara & Andrej Čerňanský
New skull and dental features of Discosauriscus austriacus (Seymouriamorpha, Discosauriscidae)	14
Ivana Hradská
The best preserved specimen of Trigonotarbida from Doubrava locality (Bolsovian age), Pilsen Basin, Czech Republic	15
Milan Libertín & Jiřina Dašková
Primitive gallery forest from the Intrasudetic Basins (Duckmantian, Czech Republic)	16
Richard Lojka, Jana Drábková, Jaroslav Zajíc, J. Franců, I. Sýkorová & T. Grygar
Environmental response to climatically driven lake-level fluctuations: record from stephanian B freshwater reservoir of eastern tropical Pangea (Mšec Member, Kladno-Rakovník Basin, Central Bohemia)	18
David Marjanovič & Michel Laurin
The origin of Lissamphibia dated by three techniques suggests a Permian, monophyletic origin	19
Thomas Martens, David S. Berman, Amy C. Henrici & Stuart S. Sumida
The Bromacker quarry – the most important locality of Lower Permian terrestrial vertebrate fossils outside of North America	22
Karel Martínek
Marine vs. Freshwater environments in Permo-Carboniferous: discussion of sedimentological and geochemical data from Bohemian Massif	23
Karel Martínek & Vladimír Prouza
Krkonoše Piedmont and Boskovice basins: a record of Permo-Carboniferous climate and tectonics in Bohemian Massif	24
Petra Matysová, Václav Mencl, Jakub Sakala & Tomáš Grygar
Stratigraphical and palaeoenvironmental comparison of fossil wood record in Czech and German Permocarboniferous Basins with the help of instrumental analysis	25
Stanislav Opluštil
Sedimentary environments of the Late Palaeozoic continental basins in Central and Western Bohemia	27
Josef Pšenička
Taphonomy and characteristic of Corynepterus angustissima (Sterneberg) Nemějc from volcanic ash of the Whetstone Horizon (Bolsovian) in Central and Western Bohemia, Czech Republic	29
Štěpán Rak
The Lower Carboniferous trilobites (Tournasian-Viséan boundary) from Mokrý quarry near Brno (Czech Republic)	30
Dmitry A. Ruban
Probable causes of the End-Permian and the End-Pleistocene extinctions among continental faunas: fundamental difference or similarity?	32

Marcello Ruta
Interrelationships of major temnospondyl groups: a review and future	34
Jörg W. Schneider
Hradec Králové 1988, Schneider, J.: „Basic problems of biogeography and biostratigraphy of the Upper Carboniferous and Rotliegendes“. Twenty years after – any thing new?	35
Jörg W. Schneider, H. Saber, D. Hmich, S. Voigt & A. Hminna
Pennsylvanian and Permian faunas of Morocco – an overview on new discoveries	38
Jörg W. Schneider, Ralf Werneburg & Marco Roscher
Continental-continental and continental-marine correlations of Late Carboniferous and Permian Basins – the state of the art	39
Hans-Peter Schultze
Interpretation of marine and freshwater environments in Carboniferous – Permian deposits	40
Hans-Peter Schultze, Rodrigo Soler-Gijón, Oliver Hampe & Alan Heward
Vertebrates from the Gharif Formation, Lower Permian, of Oman	41
Rodrigo Soler-Gijón & Nieves López-Martínez
Tidal rhythmites in Upper Carboniferous deposits from Puertollano Basin (Central Spain): palaeoenvironmental implications	43
Stanislav Štamberg & Jaroslav Zajíc
Carboniferous and Permian faunas and their occurrence in the limnic basins of the Czech Republic	45
Vojtěch Turek, Radek Mikuláš, Milan Libertín & Jakub Jirásek
Trace fossils from the Upper Carboniferous fluvial sediments of the Intrasudetic Basin, Czech Republic	47
Susan Turner, Jörg Schneider & Oliver Hampe
The survivors: Devonian – Triassic xenacanthiform sharks across Gondwana	50
Ralf Werneburg, Jörg Schneider & Spencer G. Lucas
The marin-lagoonal and lacustrine fossiliferous Kinney Brick quarry from the Upper Pennsylvanian of New Mexico	51
Sally V. Young
British Carboniferous species of Acanthodes and their stratigraphic and geographic distribution	52
Jaroslav Zajíc
The main Late Carboniferous and Early Permian lake fish communities of the Czech Republic	53
Jaroslav Zajíc
The limnic origin of majority of the Permo-Carboniferous basins of the Bohemian Massif	55
Jaroslav Zajíc
Czech and Moravian Permian acanthodians	56

Excursion guide

Stanislav Štamberg, Jaroslav Zajíc, Karel Martínek, Vladimír Prouza & Zbyněk Šimůnek
Excursion guide – Permian of the Krkonoše Piedmont Basin and Boskovice Graben	58

Additions

Ed A Jarzembowski
Upper Carboniferous insects and IGCP 469	79
P. Tschernay; C. Brachmann, J. W. Schneider, H. Walter, R. Werneburg and M. Barthel
Facies, Palaeoecology and Stratigraphy of the Lake Börtewitz (North-western Saxony basin, Lower Rotliegend, Permian)	80
