

Contents

Preface	x
Acknowledgements	xii
Chapter 1 The Nature and Process of Academic Writing	1
1.1 Why is writing so important?	2
1.2 The nature of academic writing	5
1.3 The process of writing	12
1.4 Playing to your strengths and preferences	20
1.5 In conclusion: the process of academic writing	21
Chapter 2 Understanding the Nature of an Assignment	23
2.1 The IPACE model	23
2.2 Putting IPACE into practice	33
Chapter 3 Kinds of Writing	36
3.1 Questions to ask your assessor	36
3.2 Two ends of a spectrum	37
3.3 Business-style report writing	37
3.4 Critical reflective writing	44
Chapter 4 Researching an Assignment	52
4.1 Being strategic	52
4.2 Different strategies for different assignments	53
4.3 Being selective (using RABT)	57
4.4 Becoming more discerning	63
Chapter 5 Being a Purposeful Reader and Note-taker	66
5.1 Kinds of reading	66
5.2 Beginning with the end in mind	68

5.3	Surveying (scanning and skimming)	70
5.4	Establishing a purpose	72
5.5	Deciding on a reading strategy	73
5.6	In-depth reading (using SP3R)	75
5.7	Annotating and note-taking	76

Chapter 6 Planning and Structuring your Writing 81

6.1	Beginnings, middles and ends	81
6.2	Essays	84
6.3	Practical reports	86
6.4	Presentations	90
6.5	Posters	95
6.6	Dissertations	96
6.7	Planning: from large- to small-scale	101

Chapter 7 Composing 105

7.1	Balancing the critical and the creative	106
7.2	Composing your first draft	107
7.3	Writing to a prompt	109
7.4	Freewriting	109
7.5	The 'no composing' approach	112
7.6	Managing your composing	113
7.7	Twelve ways to overcome writer's block	115

Chapter 8 Words and Images 120

8.1	The role of visual elements	120
8.2	Content and design	121
8.3	Using tables	122
8.4	Using graphs and charts	124
8.5	Other kinds of figure	130

Chapter 9 Citing, Referencing and Avoiding Plagiarism 132

9.1	Citing and referencing	132
9.2	Citing, referencing and academic integrity	135
9.3	Using citations and quotes	137
9.4	Plagiarism	145
9.5	Avoiding plagiarism	147
9.6	Remember, your writing is an argument – your argument	149

Chapter 10 Reviewing and Editing Your Work 151

10.1	Fulfilling the brief	152
10.2	Structure and argument	153
10.3	Paragraphs	154
10.4	Sentences	157
10.5	Grammar	162
10.6	Punctuation	165
10.7	Spelling	168
10.8	Presentation	169

Chapter 11 Using Technology to Help You 172

11.1	Using your word processor's functions (but critically)	173
11.2	Using bibliographic databases	176
11.3	Using reference management software	180
11.4	Creating tables and figures	180
11.5	Handling large documents	183

Chapter 12 Moving Forward 186

12.1	Cycles of learning	186
12.2	Making the most of feedback	188
12.3	Where to get help	192
12.4	Final word	192
	Glossary	194
	Answers	199
	Cited References and Further Reading	208
	Index	213