Part II. Nonliteral Collection6. Overview of Nonliteral Collection 149

Function 150
 Process 152
 Structure 157
 Summary 159
 Notes 160

7. Collection Sensors 163

Performance Categories of Electromagnetic Sensors 165
 Trade-Offs in Sensor Design and Usage 176
 Sensor Suites 178
 Signatures 180
 Summary 184
 Notes 186

8. Collection Platforms 187

Satellites 189
 Aircraft and UAVs 199

Aerostats	201
Ships and Submarines	201
Ground Sites	203
Summary	205
Notes	207

9. Optical Imaging 211

Function	212
Process	213
Structure	239
Summary	240
Notes	241

10. Radiometric and Spectral Imaging 245

Function	246
Process	248
Structure	270
Summary	270
Notes	273

11. Radar 277

Function	278
Process	280
Structure	299
Summary	299
Notes	300

12. Synthetic Aperture Radar 303

Function	303
Process	305
Structure	328
Summary	329
Notes	331

13. Passive RF 333

Function	334
Process	339
Structure	367
Summary	367
Notes	369

14. Acoustic and Seismic Sensing	373
Function	374
Process	374
Structure	391
Summary	392
Notes	393
15. Materials Intelligence	395
Function	395
Process	398
Structure	408
Summary	408
Notes	410
16. Biological, Medical, and Biometric Intelligence	413
Function	413
Process	417
Structure	426
Summary	427
Notes	428
17. Materiel Acquisition and Exploitation	431
Function	431
Process	432
Structure	444
Summary	445
Notes	446
Part III. Collection Management and Strategy
18. Managing Intelligence Collection	447
Managing the Front End	448
Managing the Back End	461
Managing across Boundaries	462
Managing Customer Expectations	468
Bringing New Collection Capabilities Online	471
Evaluating Collection	475
Conclusion	477
Summary	477
