

Contents

Table of Cases	xvii
Table of Legislation	xxv
List of Abbreviations	xlv

1. Keynes v. Hayek in IEL	1
A. Inequality and Modern International Law	1
B. Moving the Line from "Political" to "Legal" in the ICESCR and IEL	7
1. Explaining resistance: Technocratic iconoclasm in IEL	9
2. Explaining resistance: Contestation over the ICESCR	14
C. Theorizing Inequality in International Law through ICESCR implementation in IEL	17
1. Early postwar IEL's skepticism of ICESCR	19
2. Proposed methodology: Situating the ICESCR as public policy for IEL	20
3. Policy considerations in designing ICESCR compliance in IEL	24
D. The Travaux Préparatoires to the ICESCR: Codifying an International Legal Response to Income Inequality	31
1. Inequality as motivating intent in adopting the ICESCR	33
2. Caution over specific ICESCR provisions	35
3. UN Third Committee debates and UN General Assembly resolutions	37
E. Hayek and Libertarian Approaches to IEL	40
1. IEL teaching in the libertarian tradition	41
2. Friedrich Hayek: minimal social protection in libertarianism	43
3. Hayek and international economic authority	45
4. Hayek, libertarianism, inequality, and "social justice"	47
5. Libertarian approaches to IEL	49
F. Keynes and Interventionist Approaches to IEL	52
1. John Maynard Keynes on state intervention in the economic system	53
2. Keynes and interventionist approaches to IEL	56
3. Inequality under libertarian and interventionist approaches to IEL	58
G. The Inequality Deficit and IEL	60
2. The Role of the State under the ICESCR	68
A. A Philosophy of Social Protection in the International Legal Order	68
B. Historical Development and Evolutive Interpretation of the ICESCR	70
1. Nature and scope of ICESCR substantive obligations: determinability	71
2. Binding effect and international responsibility under the ICESCR	90
3. Enforcement architecture: national and international implementation	95

4. Prospects for extraterritorial litigation against State and non-State actors	124
5. Empirical methods and new tools for monitoring ICESCR compliance	144
C. The ICESCR as State Precommitment: Situating Dynamic Social Protection within Public Decision-making and “IEL+IHR” Discourses	151
1. The Alston–Petersmann and Petersmann–Howse debates on IEL and IHR law	152
2. A median view: planning for integrated compliance of IHR and IEL obligations in States’ economic decision-making processes and powers	158
D. Conclusion	179
3. The ICESCR in State Public Policy-making within the World Trade System	180
A. Introduction	180
B. Public Policy in the Interpretation of WTO Agreements: A Normative and Conceptual Role for the ICESCR	186
1. General exceptions under GATT Article XX and GATS Article XIV	189
2. Balance-of-payments measures under Article XII and Article XVIII:B of GATT 1994 and Article XII:1 GATS	208
3. SPS measures in Article 2.2 of the SPS Agreement	211
4. Technical regulations under Article 2.2 of the Technical Barriers to Trade (TBT) Agreement	214
5. Article 8.1 in relation to Article 7 of the TRIPS Agreement	217
6. Provisions on special and differential treatment (S&D)	219
7. Conclusion: normative and conceptual role for the ICESCR	226
C. Situating the ICESCR in State Participation in Decision-making at the WTO Political Organs	231
1. Trade Policy Review Mechanism (TPRM)	236
2. Ministerial Conference powers to calibrate WTO commitments	241
D. Conclusion	247
4. The ICESCR in State Public Policy-making in the International Financial System	252
A. Introduction	253
B. Public Policy in International Finance Agreements with the State: A Normative and Conceptual Role for the ICESCR	262
1. The State’s ICESCR obligations among the substantive clauses of international development finance agreements	268
2. Expanding the development financing due diligence process to include the borrowing State’s ICESCR obligations and status of compliance	280
C. The ICESCR in IFIs’ Debt Surveillance Activities and Governance	282
1. Structural adjustment and loan conditionality	282
2. Surveillance and austerity prescriptions in financial crises	286
3. New interpretive tests for austerity measures and ICESCR Article 4	290
D. Conclusion	305

5. The ICESCR in State Public Policy-making in the International Investment System	308
A. Introduction	308
1. Regulatory freedom in IIAs and State compliance with human rights	310
2. IIAs as precommitments to regulatory predictability	312
3. Differences between regulatory freedoms in WTO and investment law	317
B. ICESCR Applicability to Host States and Investors' Home States	320
1. IIA substantive provisions on States' regulatory freedom	323
2. IIA procedural or structural provisions on States' regulatory freedom	334
C. Contextual Use of the ICESCR in Due Diligence and Contracting	339
D. The ICESCR as an Interpretive Device for an IIA	348
1. Prospects for ICESCR as a "relevant rule of international law"	350
2. ICESCR as equitable basis for tempering the quantum of compensation	352
E. ICESCR and Foreign Investment Contract Management	366
F. Conclusion	373
Conclusion: Beyond Keynes v. Hayek—Social Protection and the Rejection of Inequality in the ICESCR as the Normative Foundation of States' Economic Decisions	380
Index	389