

Contents

(Figures in parentheses indicate the chronological listing in the Bibliography)

Editor's Preface	page v
Acknowledgements	xvi

I. THE INVESTIGATION OF MUSICAL FOLKLORE

1. Hungarian Folk Music (65)	3
2. What is Folk Music? (70)	5
3. Why and How Do We Collect Folk Music? (97)	9
4. Folk Song Research and Nationalism (104)	25
5. Race Purity in Music (115)	29
6. Folk Song Research in Eastern Europe (118)	33

II. NATIONAL FOLK MUSIC

American-British:

7. On American and British Folk Music Material (116)	37
--	----

Arabic:

8. At the Congress for Arab Music—Cairo, 1932 (84)	38
--	----

Bulgarian:

9. The So-called Bulgarian Rhythm (107)	40
---	----

Hungarian:

10. The Melodies of the Hungarian Soldiers' Songs (27)	50
11. Hungarian Folk Music (54)	58
12. Hungarian Folk Music (83)	71
13. Hungarian Peasant Music (85)	80

Rumanian:

	page
14. The Folk Music Dialect of the Hunedoara Rumanians (22)	103
15. Rumanian Folk Music (68)	115
16. Rumanian Folk Music (86)	119

Slovak:

17. Slovak Folk Music (59)	128
18. Slovak Folk Music (68)	130
19. Slovak Peasant Music (74)	134

Turkish:

20. Folk Song Collecting in Turkey (102)	137
--	-----

Yugoslav:

21. The Parry Collection of Yugoslav Folk Music (117)	148
---	-----

III. COMPARATIVE MUSIC FOLKLORE

22. Comparative Music Folklore (18)	155
23. Music Folklore (30)	159
24. Music Folklore Research in Hungary (63)	164
25. Some Problems of Folk Music Research in East Europe (112)	173

IV. BOOK REVIEWS AND POLEMICS

26. Observations on Rumanian Folk Music (23)	195
27. Reply to Jenő Hubay (34)	201
28. He Who Knows No Arabic . . . (44)	204
29. Gipsy Music or Hungarian Music? (69)	206
30. Béla Bartók Replies to Percy Grainger (87)	224
31. Letter to the Kisfaludy Society (94)	226
32. Answer to the Petranu Attack (95)	227

V. MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS

33. The Folklore of Instruments and their Music in Eastern Europe (15, 16, 26, 68)	239
---	-----

	page
34. The Performance of Works Written for the Clavecin (17)	285
35. Hungarian Art-Instruments (59)	287
36. About the 'Piano' Problem (60)	288
37. Mechanical Music (99)	289

VI. THE RELATION BETWEEN FOLK MUSIC AND ART MUSIC

38. On Hungarian Music (12)	301
39. Hungarian Peasant Music (36)	304
40. The Influence of Folk Music on the Art Music of Today (38)	316
41. The Relation of Folk Song to the Development of the Art Music of Our Time (50)	320
42. The Folk Songs of Hungary (62)	331
43. The Influence of Peasant Music on Modern Music (71)	340
44. On the Significance of Folk Music (72)	345
45. The Relation Between Contemporary Hungarian Art Music and Folk Music (114)	348
46. Harvard Lectures (119)	354
47. Hungarian Music (124)	393

VII. THE LIFE AND MUSIC OF BÉLA BARTÓK

48. Kossuth Symphonic Poem (1)	399
49. Rhapsody for Piano and Orchestra (Op. 1) (10)	404
50. About The Wooden Prince (25)	406
51. On Duke Bluebeard's Castle (29)	407
52. Autobiography (45)	408
53. Structure of the Fourth String Quartet (66)	412
54. Analysis for the Fifth String Quartet (93)	414
55. Structure of Music for String Instruments (103)	416
56. About the Sonata for Two Pianos and Percussion (105)	417
57. Analysis of the Second Concerto for Piano and Orchestra (110)	419
58. Preface to Mikrokosmos (111)	424
59. Contemporary Music in Piano Teaching (113)	426
60. Explanation to Concerto for Orchestra (123)	431
61. Introduction to Béla Bartók Masterpieces for the Piano (125)	432
62. My Activities During the War (126)	434

CONTENTS

VIII. ON MUSIC AND MUSICIANS

	page
63. Strauss: Sinfonia domestica (Op. 53) (2)	437
64. Strauss: Elektra (9)	446
65. Preface and Notes to Bach's Well-tempered Clavier (6)	447
66. A Delius Première in Vienna (13)	449
67. Liszt's Music and Today's Public (14)	451
68. The Problem of the New Music (31)	455
69. Post-war Musical Life in Budapest to February, 1920 (32)	460
70. Musical Events in Budapest, March-May, 1920 (37)	464
71. Arnold Schoenberg's Music in Hungary (40)	467
72. Zoltán Kodály (43)	469
73. Musical Events in Budapest: October 1920 to February 1921 (47)	471
74. On Modern Music in Hungary (51)	474
75. Musical Events in Budapest, March-June, 1921 (52)	479
76. Two Unpublished Liszt Letters to Mosonyi (53)	481
77. Introduction to Masterworks of Piano Literature (55)	488
78. About István Thomán (61)	489
79. About Béla Bartók's Russian Tour (64)	492
80. Editor's Note to XVIIth and XVIIIth Century Italian Cembalo and Organ Music (67)	497
81. Draft Resolution (75)	498
82. Motion in the Committee of Intellectual Co-operation of the League of Nations (82)	499
83. Liszt Problems (96)	501
84. On Music Education for the Turkish People (101)	511
85. Béla Bartók's Opinion on the Technical, Aesthetic, and Spiritual Orientation of Contemporary Music (108)	516
86. The Influence of Debussy and Ravel in Hungary (109)	518
87. Bence Szabolcsi (121)	519
88. To Sir Henry Wood (122)	521
89. Some Linguistic Observations (127)	522

Bibliography	527
---------------------	-----

Index	557
--------------	-----