Contents

Notes on Data and Transcription—9

Acknowledgements—11

Introduction—13

1 CHAPTER ONE: Introducing the three discursive practices—30
1.1 Discursive practices in the context of CA—30
1.2 The practices of Explanations, Accounts, and Formulations – conceptual origins—34
1.3 Explanations, Accounts, and Formulations as enacted in the data—39
1.4 The link between the discursive practices and decision-making – the IPO model—46
1.5 Introducing the Chamber Teams—49
1.6 Summary—52

2 CHAPTER TWO: Applying Conversation Analysis to the Language of Meetings—53
2.1 CA – a natural observational science—54
2.2 Key areas of CA focus—57
2.3 Building context from a CA perspective—59
2.4 Applied and institutional CA—62
2.5 Summary—64

3 CHAPTER THREE: Working with Business Meetings Data—66
3.1 Accessing, gathering, and transcribing linguistic data—66
3.2 The naturalness of data—70
3.3 The dynamics of meetings – finding the focus—74
3.4 Extended turns – managing the conversation—78
3.5 Summary—83

4 CHAPTER FOUR: Explanations in the Decision-making Process—84
4.1 Explanations in business meetings – factuality and relevance—85
4.2 Establishing the links between Explanations and decision-making—87
4.3 Forms of Explanations—95
4.4 Practice in action – positioning and patterning of Explanations in extended combination turns—100
4.5 Summary—113

5 CHAPTER FIVE: Accounts in the Decision-making Process—115
5.1 Accounts in business meetings – normalising discourse—116
5.2 Forms of Accounts—123
5.3 Establishing the links between Accounts and decision-making—128
5.4 Practice in action – the mechanics of accounting in extended combination turns—140
5.5 Summary—160

6 CHAPTER SIX: Formulations in the Decision-making Process—163
6.1 Formulations in business meetings – the dynamics and fluidity of formulating roles—165
6.2 Forms of Formulations—173
6.3 Self-formulating and driving towards decisions—178
6.4 Practice in action – pulling the threads together—184
6.5 Summary—192

7 CONCLUSION: Applying Linguistic Research to the Understanding of Decision-making—194

References—204

List of Figures—212

List of Data Samples—213

Index—215