

III.B.3. Severe and Substantial Disadvantage and T.E.O. I	11
III.B.4. Does Merit-Based Admissions Hurt Merit-Blockneck?	11
3. Is Inequality Tied to a Merit-Based Admissions System?	11
III.B.5. Meritnecks and the Opportunity-Opposition	11
III.B.6. Meritnecks and the Opportunity-Opposition	11
III.B.7. Situation-Based Opportunity-Opposition: Structure as a Whole	12
CONTENTS	12
III.B.8. Meritnecks, Pluralism, and Opportunity-Opposition	12
III.B.9. Non-Equal Opportunities and Opportunity-Opposition	12
III.C. Meritnecks and Merit-Based Admissions	13
III.C.1. Equal Opportunity without a Common Scale	13
III.C.2. Thin Personalism and Equal Opportunity-Opposition	13
IV. Applications	14
Introduction	1
A. HOW WE THINK ABOUT EQUAL OPPORTUNITY	2
B. OPPORTUNITY PLURALISM	10
C. IMPLICATIONS OF THE THEORY	18
I. Equal Opportunity and Its Problems	24
I.A. CONCEPTIONS OF EQUAL OPPORTUNITY	25
I.A.1. Rawlsian Equal Opportunity and Starting-Gate Theories	29
I.A.2. Tests, Bias, and "Formal-Plus"	32
I.A.3. Luck Egalitarianism and Natural Talents	35
I.A.4. Talent, Luck, and Dworkin	38
I.B. BEYOND DISTRIBUTIVE JUSTICE: OPPORTUNITIES AND FLOURISHING	41
I.C. FOUR PROBLEMS FOR EQUAL OPPORTUNITY	48
I.C.1. The Problem of the Family	48
i. Parental Advantages	48
ii. Mitigation and Compensation	51
iii. Families and the Principle of Fair Life Chances	53
I.C.2. The Problem of Merit	56
i. An Admissions Example	57
ii. Merit for Luck Egalitarians	59
iii. Roemer's EO Proposals and the Limits of Merit	61
iv. Merit and Self	64

I.C.3. The Problem of the Starting Gate	65
i. Limits of the Ex Ante Perspective	66
ii. Compounded Advantage and the Concatenation of Opportunities	70
iii. Focus on the Youngest?	72
iv. Them That's Got Shall Get	73
I.C.4. The Problem of Individuality	74
i. Schaar's Nightmare and Nozick's Dream	74
ii. Toward a Different Kind of Equal Opportunity	79
II. Opportunities and Human Development	83
II.A. NATURAL DIFFERENCE IN POLITICAL THEORY	84
II.B. INTRINSIC DIFFERENCES, NATURE, AND NURTURE	88
II.B.1. Intrinsic Difference Claims	89
II.B.2. Models of Nature and Nurture	91
II.B.3. Not Even Separate	94
II.C. THE TROUBLE WITH "NORMAL"	100
II.C.1. There Is No "Normal"	100
II.C.2. The Flynn Effect: An Object Lesson in the Role of Environment	103
II.D. AN ITERATIVE MODEL OF HUMAN DEVELOPMENT	104
II.D.1. Developing Capacities	104
II.D.2. Interaction with Family and Society	108
II.D.3. Interaction with the World of Employment	112
II.E. THE TROUBLE WITH "EQUAL"	115
II.E.1. A Simple Equalization Problem	116
II.E.2. What if We Don't All Have the Same Goal?	119
II.E.3. The Endogeneity of Preferences and Goals	121
II.E.4. Essential Developmental Opportunities	124
III. Opportunity Pluralism	130
III.A. UNITARY AND PLURALISTIC OPPORTUNITY STRUCTURES	131
III.A.1. Individuality and Pluralism	132
III.A.2. Positional Goods and Competitive Roles	137
III.A.3. The Anti-Bottleneck Principle	144
III.A.4. Who Controls the Opportunity Structure?	151
III.B. THE DYNAMICS OF BOTTLENECKS	156
III.B.1. Types of Bottlenecks	156
III.B.2. Legitimate versus Arbitrary Bottlenecks	160

III.B.3. Severity of Bottlenecks	164
III.B.4. How Many People Are Affected by this Bottleneck?	170
III.B.5. What To Do about Bottlenecks	171
III.B.6. Bottlenecks and the Content of Jobs	174
III.B.7. Situating Bottlenecks within the Opportunity Structure as a Whole	177
III.B.8. Bottlenecks, Efficiency, and Human Capital	179
III.B.9. Potential Benefits of Bottlenecks	183
III.C. FLOURISHING, PERFECTIONISM, AND PRIORITY	186
III.C.1. Equal Opportunity without a Common Scale	188
III.C.2. Thin Perfectionism and Autonomy	193
IV. Applications	198
IV.A. CLASS AS BOTTLENECK	199
IV.A.1. Fear of Downward Mobility: A Parable about How Inequality Matters	200
IV.A.2. College as Bottleneck	205
IV.A.3. Segregation and Integration: A Story of Networks and Norms	212
IV.B. FREEDOM AND FLEXIBILITY IN THE WORLD OF WORK	220
IV.B.1. Flexibility, Job Lock, and Entrepreneurialism	220
IV.B.2. Workplace Flexibility and Gender Bottlenecks	224
IV.C. BOTTLENECKS AND ANTIDISCRIMINATION LAW	231
IV.C.1. Some Cutting-Edge Statutes and their Implications	231
IV.C.2. Whom Should Antidiscrimination Law Protect?	235
IV.C.3. An Example: Appearance Discrimination	239
IV.C.4. Bottlenecks, Groups, and Individuals	244
IV.C.5. How Should Antidiscrimination Law Protect?	246
Conclusion	254
Acknowledgments	259
Index	261